41 SERVICE MEN KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES, BURNS ON FLORIDA FARM

Marine Transport Carrying R.O.T.C. Midshipmen Falls Soon After Taking Off—St. Louisan One of Victims.

MILTON, Fla., July 18 (AP)—A Marine cargo plane carried 41 young naval R.O.T.C. midshipmen and crewmen to death when it crashed on a farm and burst into flames after taking off from Whiting Field here last midnight. (Milton is in northwest Florida, about 30 miles north of Pensacola.) One of those listed by the Navy as killed was George F. Schwaebe of St. Louis, a University of Missouri student.

There were 40 R.O.T.C. men and six Marine crewmen aboard the R4Q Fairchild packet plane—Marine version of the C-119 Flying Boxcar—which was regularly attached to the Second Marine Air Wing based at Cherry Point, N.C. There were five survivors.

College Students.

All the R.O.T.C. men were college students, in their sophomore and junior years and from many states.

The plane was part of a flight of five transports which had made a refueling stop at Whiting. They were ferrying 200 R.O.T.C. men from Corpus Christi, Tex., to Norfolk, Va., for another phase of their six-week summer training program.

One plane already had taken off for Norfolk after being fueled. The second had cleared the runway and was gaining altitude when it ran into some unexplained difficulty and plunged to the ground.

The two-engine plane plunged into a clump of trees a mile north of the runway, smashed three parked automobiles and plowed into a barn on the farm of Ray Allen.

Harold Stokes, city editor of the Pensacola News-Journal, said that when he arrived on the scene shortly after the crash he found scorched bodies scattered all over.

Stokes reported that an engine and parts of the fuselage were torn from the plane and scattered over a wide area.

One Survivor Dies.

Six survivors were picked up by Navy rescue teams, but one of the men died in the Whiting Field Hospital about four hours later without regaining consciousness.

The five survivors were in serious condition.

Two of them were Marine Corps members of the plane's crew, Capt. C. E. McGrath and Cpl. J. P. Tuttle.

The Navy said other planes of the type that crashed were being grounded temporarily and other type planes were taking over the airlift.

Navy teams worked throughout the night removing bodies.

Among those listed as killed was William R. Biles, N.R.O.T.C., a University of Missouri student from Springfield, Mo.

R. Adm. J. P. Whitney, chief of naval air basic training, appointed a special board to investigate the crash.

As part of their reserve work the R.O.T.C. men are required to take six weeks' summer training at naval installations in Corpus Christi and Norfolk.

Altogether. 1600 R.O.T.C. men are taking part in this summer's program, half of them at Corpus Christi and half at Norfolk.

At the end of three weeks, the 800 at Norfolk and 800 at Corpus Christi swap bases for the final three weeks. The group which had stopped at Whiting was part of the 800 being flown to Norfolk.

Telling of the crash, Alex Allen, 15 years old, said he dashed out of his farm home

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved a billion dollar cut in President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

The committee upheld a subcommittee action slicing $705,244,277 from the President's request for $5,138,922,277 in new funds and lopped $402,256,805 from previously appropriated, but unspent, funds.

The committee bill provides $4,443,678,000 in new funds, a cut of nearly 14 per cent in Eisenhower's request and 41 per cent in the $7,614,410,145 requested by former President Truman before he left office in January.

Plea by President Unheeded.

The cuts were ordered by the committee, led by Representative Taber (Rep.), New York, despite personal appeals to the committee members by President Eisenhower earlier this week.

Biggest cut in the President's request was $312,197,910 from the $2,172,197,910 asked for military aid for Europe. Truman had asked for $4,103,610,000.

Among other items in the bill for the fiscal year which began July 1, with amount approved and cut in the Eisenhower request:

Military—Near East and Africa, $290,000,000, cut of $11,082,120; Asia and Pacific, $985,000,000, cut of $74,876,014; American Republics, $15,000,000, cut of $414,010.

Defense financing — Europe $218,000,000, cut of $50,200,000; Formosa and Indochina, $84,000,000, no cut; military production in France aand United Kingdom, each $85,000,000, each cut $15,000,000; Indochina war, $400,000,000, no cut.

Technical Assistance.

The committee allowed a total of $72,000,000 for technical assistance, a reduction of $56,363,500.

Eisenhower's request of $32,500,000 for development of basic materials was sliced to $23,000,000 and his request of $100,000,000 for special, non-atomic weapons for United States allies was cut in half.

Special economic assistance to Israel, the Arab states and Iran was cut from $140,000,000 to $120,000,000.

The appropriation of new funds last year totaled $6,143,000,000.

AMERICAN BUYS REMBRANDT FOR $42,000 IN LONDON

LONDON, July 18 (AP) — George Farkas, president of Alexander's, a New York department store, paid £15,000 ($42,000) yesterday for a Rembrandt painting that once was sold as junk for $25.

The painting, a self-portrait done in 1666 by the Dutch master when he was old and broke, vanished until 1930 when the Marchese di Cassano, an Italian nobleman looking for pictures to cover the hall walls of his London home, bought it in a back street shop for £5 (about $25 at the time).

A Glasgow manufacturer bought it for £20,000 ($56,000) and earlier this year Mrs. D. G. Mitchell of Indianapolis presented it to the British Fairbridge Society which helps children of needy families. The society put the picture up for auction, but withdrew it when bids stopped at £8925 ($24,990).

Then Farkas stepped in with his private bid.

NEBRASKA RANCH FAMILIES BUILD $44,000 PHONE LINE

LAKESIDE, Nebr., July 18 (AP)—Think your phone bill is high? Consider the case of 51 Nebraska sand hills ranch families whose phones cost them $900 apiece just for installation.

Living in an isolated area of northwetsern Nebraska cattle country and without phones, they chipped in $44,000 for materials, then built a 139-mile telephone line themselves.

The families are getting together tonight to celebrate completion of the line.

EMBEZZLER OF CITY FUNDS ARRESTED WITH $43,705

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has arrested the missing city cashier of Bozeman, Mont., who, agents said, admitted embezzling $73,220.

When Donald Lee Henry was picked up yesterday he had $43,705 cash and a wardrobe of 149 sportshirts and 61 pairs of slacks. Agents said Henry took $5000 from the city till two years ago, and recently tapped the city for $14,000 for a trip to the Las Vegas, Nev., gambling tables in a futile effort to win back the original $5000.

The FBI said Henry returned to Bozeman a week ago, took $54,220 from the city and headed for the west coast.

He was booked on a federal charge of transporting stolen money across state lines.

MOSLEY INVITED TO MAKE PUBLIC HIS TAX RETURNS

Proposal by County Young Democrats Would Include All Since Election in 1944.

Sheriff Arthur C. Mosley, who is under investigation as a result of charges of lax law enforcement in St. Louis county, was invited today to make public his federal income tax returns filed since he was first elected sheriff in 1944.

The "invitation" was extended by the executive committee of the Young Democratic Clubs of St. Louis county, which currently is working on plans to seek Mosley's recall as a result of his solicitation and acceptance of a $500 reward in a hijacking case. Mosley is a Republican.

A resolution, the text of which was sent in a telegram to the sheriff, pointed out that accusations have been made as a result of Mosley's acceptance of "rewards and contributions for performance of the duties of sheriff."

"Now, therefore, is is invited to reveal copies of his federal income tax returns for all years since his ascension to office for public scrutiny," the resolution said. The Young Democrats agreed to pay costs of publishing 10 copies or photostats.

Follows Presidential Pattern.

H. Jackson Daniel, president of the clubs, acknowledged that the idea for requesting publication of the returns came from similar actions of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, defeated presidential condidate, in last fall's national election.

"If Mosley has nothing to hide he shouldn't hesitate to follow our suggestion," Daniel declared. "I think the people who voted him into office are entitled to the facts."

Meanwhile, investigators representing four state agencies—the Attorney General, Highway Patrol, Department of Revenue and Liquor Control Office—continued checking reports of law violations in the county.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, who ordered the inquiries, was in St. Louis today to attend the funeral of State Senator Anthony M. Webbe. The Governor, who conferred yesterday with Attorney General John M. Dalton at Jefferson City, said he had nothing to say about progress of the investigations at this time, but

Underwater Crew Blasts Tree Partly Blocking Meramec River

A large tree which had partly blocked the channel of the Meramec river at Valley Park for several years was taken out last night through the co-operative efforts of an underwater demolition crew and the owners of two filling stations.

A total of 36 sticks of dynamite were placed under water by Raymond Hendrix of Manchester and his brother, Ray, 3432 Park avenue. The two worked without special diving equipment — surface diving and staying under water up to 45 seconds at a time.

"It turned out to be a lot bigger job than we thought it would be," Raymond Hendrix, a member of a Navy harbor clearance crew in World War II, told the Post-Dispatch. "The tree must have been nearly 4 feet big at the base and part of the roots and trunk were way down in the gravel bed. It's about as tough a job as I've ever worked on."

Dennis Connor, a Missouri State Conservation Commission agent, estimated the water-logged tree's weight as 30 tons. The commission's permission for removal was needed because of the possibility that a large number of fish might be killed by the dynamiting. After the tree was loosened, tow trucks owned by Briggs Service Station, Gravois and Sappington roads, and Brownie Service Station, on Highway 66 near Valley Park, worked for several hours to move it to the edge of the water.

Raymond Hendrix said the clearance project started after his brother nearly hit the stump in tricky currents when descending the river by boat a few days ago. Subsequently, he said, they were informed at least two people have drowned near the obstruction.

ONE TRUCK GROUP SETTLES, OTHER DRIVERS REJECT MAYOR'S DEMAND

Strike Against Home Builders Association Ends — Ready-Mix Drivers Refuse Arbitration.

(Text of Mayor Tucker's Statement on Page 7A.)

The strike of AFL Teamsters against the Home Builders Association ended today, but the stubborn dispute between the union and 35 building material firms continued despite efforts by Mayor Raymond R. Tucker to end the paralyzing walkout.

A demand by the Mayor that the Teamsters submit the issues in the dispute with the construction material firms to arbitration was rejected by members of Teamsters Local 682 last night on grounds the plan lacked the "proper safeguards."

'Safeguards' Issue.

The question of "safeguards" involves a union demand that a certified public accountant be made available to the arbitrators to examine the books of the strikebound firms. As a result of the union's rejection of the Mayor's plan, a $75,000,000 building program remains tied up, with 27,000 AFL building workmen idle.

Union members employed by the Home Builders, an association of residential contractors, received an increase of 15 cents an hour immediately and 5 cents additional in the second year of a two-year contract. The new rate for men reporting for work Monday will be $1.80 an hour for drivers of pickup trucks and $2 an hour for men manning larger vehicles.

Also disposed of in the agreement with the Home Builders was the troublesome question of compensation for union members owning and operating their own trucks. Under the contract, owners and operators of pickup trucks will receive $2.25 an hour for use of their equipment, and operators of larger equipment will be paid $2.40 an hour. This is in addition to regular union wages and benefits.

Arbitration of grievances arising during the term of the agreement is also provided for. The "hot cargo" clause, included in original union demands, was not included in the agreement.

Previously the union made separate agreements with three other employers' groups—The Associated General Contractors, stone quarries and lumber yards. The agreements contained improvements in wages and working conditions.

Accepted by Employers.

Mayor Tucker's arbitration proposal, made yesterday when his efforts to end the strike through City Hall negotiations collapsed, included a requirement that both sides supply "whatever facts are required to reach a decision." The Mayor's proposal was accepted in its entirety by the material dealers, through their attorney, Michael J. Aubuchon.

Aubuchon, who previously had stated he saw no reason for anyone to examine the employers' books, agreed today that such examination could not be denied the arbitrators.

"We place no limitations on arbitration," the attorney said. "However, there would appear to be no point in examining the books, as the employers have not pleaded inability to meet the union demands. What we have said is the demands are unrealistic, too high."

Harold J. Gibbons, trustee of the Teamsters Joint Council, insisted that "with people talking like that . . . that our demands are exorbitant . . . we will have to see the books."

Gibbons, who was placed at the head of the Joint Council in the recent "streamlining" of teamsters' organizations here by the international union, said the union wanted a definite commitment that employers' books would be available to an accountant. This is necessary, Gibbons contends, for the union to obtain the data necessary to substantiate its case.

"If we get a definite assurance that the books will be available, then we will go ahead and arbitrate," Gibbons declared.

Gibbons explained that under the union proposal a series of questions relating to the financial position of the companies would be submitted to the arbitrators. These questions then would be turned over to the accountant, who would seek the answer from the books and report to the arbitration panel.

Asked if it was proposed that union officers themselves would go into company finances, Gibbons replied, "No."

"Arbitration carries with it a responsibility on both parties to make available all facts necessary to arrive at a just and equitable decisions by the arbitrators," Gibbons observed. "To arbitrate without all the facts is to engage in a pointless and unfair procedure."

In accepting arbitration, the associated material dealers told the Mayor: "We understand your plan as an entire plan, to be accepted or rejected in its entirety. If the union accepts the plan, will you please notify us promptly so that necessary steps may be taken prior to Monday morning to prepare the

REDS POUR ACROSS KUMSONG RIVER UNDER POUNDING; U.N. SEEKS PEACE, MUST BE READY FOR WAR---DULLES

SECRETARY SAYS 'WE ARE NOT SUPPLIANTS' IN TRUCE TALKS

Assurances of Rhee Enable U.N. to Sign in Good Faith, He Asserts in Report With Robertson.

By WALLACE R. DEUEL
Diplomatic Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 18—The United Nations seek an "honorable peace" in Korea, "but if the Communists want war, we must be ready for that, too," Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said last night.

"We are not suppliants" in the Korean truce negotiations, he declared.

Dulles spoke, with Walter S. Robertson, assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern affairs, in a joint radio and television report on Robertson's recent negotiations with South Korean President Syngman Rhee in Seoul and on the Big Three foreign ministers' conference which ended here Tuesday night.

Dulles devoted the first part of the report to an account of the foreign ministers' meeting. He then questioned Robertson about his mission to Seoul, somewhat in the manner that President Eisenhower questioned Cabinet members in a recent White House broadcast and telecast.

Purpose of Mission.

The purpose of Robertson's mission was to win over Rhee to support of a Korean truce. The assistant secretary succeeded in doing this, he and Dulles reported last night.

Dulles ridiculed what he called Communist "pretenses" that "there cannot be an armistice because the United Nations Command does not guarantee the future conduct of the Republic of Korea."

"That is absurd," Dulles said. "The proposed armistice does not guarantee the future conduct of any government.

"I wish that someone would guarantee the future good conduct of the Communist regime in China.

"But President Rhee has given explicit assurances that he will not obstruct the implementation of the proposed armistice."

Rhee's assurances make it possible for the U.N. Command to sign a truce in good faith, Robertson asserted.

Agreement on Political Talks.

Robertson and Rhee also worked out an agreement designed to protect South Korean and U.N. interests during the political conference which is due to take place after an armistice is signed, Robertson further reported.

Rhee "was afraid that the political conference might be carried on indefinitely as a device to perpetuate uncertainty and as a cover behind which his country might be infiltrated and his people subjected to hostile propaganda," Robertson said.

"We agreed that if it should turn out that way—if it were obvious that the Communists were not negotiating in good faith—we would try to end the conference as a sham and a hostile trick."

Rhee has been quoted as saying that Robertson promised the United States would give the Communists 90 days from the opening of the political conference to prove their good faith. However, neither Dulles nor Robertson mentioned any specific deadline last night.

Other Points in Report.

Dulles made these further points in his part of last night's report:

1. American contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization do not constitute a

Exhausted and dirty, South Korean soldiers sprawl on truck loaded with gear as they prepare to take up new positions following clash with Chinese Communists. Mauled and thrown back by the Reds early this week, the South Koreans today were continuing the grim fight to regain ground lost on the east-central front.

120 MIGS DOWNED IN LAST 71 DAYS, 23 SABRES LOST

SEOUL, July 18 (AP)—The Air Force said today United States Sabre jets have shot down 120 Communist MIG jets in the last 71 days without one Sabre being lost in aerial combat.

The last Sabre was shot down on May 7, the Air Force said. However, 13 were downed by anti-aircraft fire when on bombing missions and 10 were lost to other causes.

The weekly Air Force summary showed that 15 MIGs were shot down during the last week and seven more were damaged.

Six Fifth Air Force planes were lost—none of them Sabres. Red ground fire shot down two F-84 Thunderjets and one Marine F-9F Panther jet. One Thunderjet, one twin engine B-26 and one propeller-driven Corsair were lost to "other causes," probably engine failure.

Destruction of 15 MIGs during the week boosted the total kills for the Korean war to 784.

Only 56 Sabres have been lost in combat, the Air Force said, giving the Sabres a 15-to-1 ratio over the MIGs.

JUDGE IN SICKBED WEEPS AT MERCY KILLING SENTENCE

DETROIT, July 18 (AP)—A judge, holding court from his sickbed, wept yesterday in sentencing a man to prison for the mercy killing of his wife.

William R. Jones, 62 years old, electrocuted his invalid wife, Barbara, also 62, in the bathtub at their home last Dec. 12. He tied an exposed lamp cord around her wrist, then turned on the electric curent.

Mrs. Jones had been incurably ill from diabetes. Both her legs had been amputated. She long had suffered agonizing pain, trial court testimony showed.

A jury convicted Jones of second-degree murder.

Circuit Judge Clyde I. Webster, holding court in the bedroom at his home, where he has been confined with a bone ailment, sentenced Jones to a year and a day to five years in prison. Jones already has spent eight months in jail.

Judge Webster prepared an appeal to the State Parole Board for leniency.

"This is a tough spot for a judge," he said. "What can he do about it? I can't hold you had a right to kill your wife. All I can do is show you every consideration."

WHOLESALE PRICES UP 0.5 PCT., DUE TO RISE IN CATTLE

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Wholesale prices as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics rose ½ of 1 per cent—the largest advance so far this year—during the week ended July 14.

The bureau's index advanced to 110.4 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

The increase reflects sharp price advances for most livestock, meats and fish. The meats index rose 6.8 per cent due to higher prices for most grades of beef and pork loins. Hog prices reached the highest point since September 1948.

TAFT TO RESUME SENATE MAJORITY DUTIES IN JANUARY

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft expects to resume his duties as majority leader at next January's meeting of Congress.

The daily bulletin from New York Hospital, where the Ohio Republican is under treatment for a hip ailment, contained the announcement today.

"Senator Taft's condition is good," the bulletin said. "Usual progress is being made and stitches will be removed sometime next week. Senator Taft fully expects to resume public duty in Washington when Congress convenes in January."

The hospital report yesterday disclosed that Taft did not intend to resume activities in the present Congressional session, expected to wind up next month.

REDS GRANTED A NEW 24-HOUR DELAY IN TALKS

Possible Showdown Session at Panmunjom Is Put Off Until Midnight Tonight.

MUNSAN, July 18 (AP)—A possible showdown meeting of United Nations and Communist truce negotiators was postponed for 24 hours today at the request of the Reds.

The recess put off until 2 p.m. tomorrow (midnight tonight St. Louis time) an expected Red reply to reported Allied demands that the Communists sign an armistice now or face the prospect of a breakdown in the negotiations.

The second consecutive 24-hour recess requested by the Reds was arranged during a one-minute meeting of liaison officers at Panmunjom.

North Korean Col. Ju Yon said the delay was needed for "administrative reasons" and the U.N. quickly agreed, an official spokesman said.

The extra day gives the Red high command more time to arrive at what may be a momentous decision vitally affecting the chances for a quick end to more than three years of fighting.

In San Francisco, South Korea's Ambassador to Washington said Friday that if the Communists have not agreed to unify Korea six months after a truce is signed, the ROKs will attack.

Dr. You Chan Yang added at a news conference that "we hope the United Nations will give us air and sea support."

"If you feel you can't fight Communism any more," he said, "then don't stop us from fighting—and give us the help we need."

The Reds are reported to have balked at signing unless the U.N. Command rounds up prisoners released by South Korea and guarantees that South Korea will honor a truce.

Only a few hours before asking for the second recess, the Communist Peiping radio declared that "the Americans are responsible for holding up the talks."

EISENHOWERS AT CAMP DAVID

THURMONT, Md., July 18 (UP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower are spending a quiet weekend at Camp David, the President's Catoctin mountain retreat.

They arrived yesterday afternoon and did not plan to have any visitors before returning to Washington late tomorrow. None of Eisenhower's staff accompanied him.

Ill-Advised Serenade.

LINCOLN, Nebr., July 18 (UP)—Student Duane Daniels was fined $25 yesterday on a charge of serenading two young women passengers with a guitar while he was driving. He drove the car into a ditch.

Turned Hose on Noisy Neighbors, Man Admits; Both Sides Penalized

SALISBURY, Md., July 18 (AP)—Cecil Dykes testified in people's court here that he turned his garden hose on his neighbors and their guests "to cool them off" during a midnight feud.

The fuss began, said Dykes, when Alex Travers raced his automobile motor and played the radio full blast, and Mrs. Travers began to "howl like a dog." He said Mrs. Travers then shouted derisive remarks to his own guests, and that's when he got out the garden hose.

Acting Judge Harry E. Hudson found both couples guilty of disorderly conduct and continued the charges after imposing $3 court costs.

ALLIED PLANES AND BIG GUNS BATTER THEM IN DAYLIGHT ACTION

'Don't Know How One Can Be Alive,' U.S. Adviser Says — Foe Bolstering Troops Who Smashed Bulge.

SEOUL, July 18 (AP)—Thousands of Chinese infantrymen supported by tanks and field guns swarmed southward across the Kumsong river in daylight today as the Communists reinforced troops which smashed through the Kumsong bulge earlier in the week.

Red infantry streaming across the river, fording or on low bridges, was attacked by Allied planes and heavy artillery.

"If one Chinese out there is left," one American adviser with the South Korean forces said, "I don't know how he can be alive." But air spotters said the Chinese still poured across the Kumsong.

There was no indication whether the big Red buildup signaled new attacks or was a frantic effort to hold newly-won positions against three Republic of Korea divisions moving cautiously northward.

Heavy fighting broke out east of the Kumsong bulge as the Communists slammed about 4000 men against South Korean and American positions on the eastern front.

2500-Man Strike.

One North Korean regiment—about 2500 men—struck three hill positions northeast of the Punchbowl, about 15 miles east of the bulge, in a co-ordinated assault backed by 30,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire, the Eighth Army said.

In a fierce three-hour fight, the ROKs drove back the assault force and killed or wounded an estimated 900 Reds, the Army said.

Infantrymen of the United States Forty-Fifth Division smashed back two 700-man Red attacks near Christmas Hill.

Sabre jets escorting fighter-bombers on sweeps over North Korea shot down two MIGs, the Fifth Air Force said.

As fighting continued on the ground and in the air, Communist truce negotiators at Panmunjom asked for, and received, another 24-hour delay of what has been forecast as a showdown armistice session. They will meet with United Nations delegates at 2 p.m. Sunday (midnight tonight St. Louis time).

An American adviser said the South Korean advance into territory lost to the Red drive made "excellent progress" despite stiffening Communist resistance.

The ROKs were reported to have moved 2½ miles northward against spotty resistance on the east flank of the push, where almost no progress previously had been made.

Many Prisoners Taken.

South Korean division officers reported an unusually large number of prisoners were taken during the day in the advance, and observers noted that in the last two years of stalemated war few Reds were captured and any increase would be noteworthy.

The easing of tight military censorship showed that:

Generally the South Koreans have regained the line they were supposed to have withdrawn to earlier in the week before the mighty 80,000-man Red assault that straightened out the Kumsong bulge.

The ROKs, in the face of little or no resistance, have moved back to about the Kumsong.

The ROKs were supposed to have pulled back last Monday to a line running east-west along the Kumsong river just before it flows into the Pukhan.

But in the confusion of massive Communist onslaught, the South Koreans fell back about 10 miles in spots—five more miles than ordered. This is the ground regained in the northward push.

The ROK advance was reported meeting increasingly heavy artillery fire as it moved within range of Communist big guns.

Waves of Allied planes strafed and dive-bombed Red troops crossing the Kumsong. Heavy trucks rumbled through the shallow water, apparently oblivious to Allied planes overhead.

The Fifth Air Force said its fighter-bombers dropped more than 500 tons of high explosives in 375 close support missions, most of them over the Kumsong front.

Spotters saw many tanks in the open along the Kumsong, but there were few indications the Reds had more than a token force—if that—below the river.

SENATE GROUP BACKS 5-BILLION REDUCTION IN AIR FORCE FUND

Fight Over Cut Heads for Floor — Ferguson Asserts Bill Gives President What He Says He Needs.

By HOMER BIGART

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 18—The congressional fight over reduction of Air Force funds was headed for the Senate floor today. The Senate Appropriations Committee approved a $34,511,284,500 defense appropriations bill yesterday, upholding the Eisenhower Administration's cut of more than five billion dollars in new funds for the Air Force, but restoring nearly $200,000,000 of an additional $240,000,000 cut made by the House.

The committee also put back $96,000,000 of nearly $400,000,000 that the House cut from Navy funds and $31,000,000 of $689,000,000 the House cut from Army funds.

As a result the Senate bill is $1,260,261,000 less than the President proposed, but $77,126,500 more than the bill approved by the House.

Ferguson's Comment.

Senator Homer Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee that drafted the bill, said it "gave the President all he says he needs for the coming year," and that the Pentagon would be able to live with it.

"They'll get more combat planes this year than proposed in the Truman budget," he maintained.

(The Associated Press said a Senate floor battle was promised by Democrats, but unless they convert a considerable group of Republican Senators not on the Appropriations committee, they appeared to be facing certain defeat.)

The committee beat down two attempts by Democratic members to vote the Air Force more money than President Eisenhower requested.

By a vote of 17 to 9 it defeated an attempt by Senator Burnet R. Maybank of South Carolina, to add $400,000,000 to Air Force funds to buy 200 additional B-47 medium jet bombers. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson had said the bombers were unnecessary.

Voting 16 to 9, the committee killed an amendment by Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, which would have added a total of $49,120,000 to Air Force funds for major supplies, maintenance and personnel.

Party Line Division.

The committee was reported to have split along party lines except that three Democrats voted with Republicans to defeat the amendments.

The three were reported to be Senators Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, A Willis Robertson of Virginia, and Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana. Byrd is one of three Armed Services Committee members who sit with the committee and vote when it is considering defense funds.

As approved, the bill carried $13,013,156,000 for the Army, $9,480,500,000 for the Navy and $12,247,662,500 for the Air Force.

The committee ordered one big economy of its own, halving a $500,000,000 item proposed by Eisenhower to stockpile machine tools for mobilization emergencies.

It provided one small increase, $17,500, to funds for the National Security Training Commission for the financing of a personnel survey.

The committee knocked out a House-approved rider which sought to limit pilots of all services, assigned to desk or other non-flying duties, to 48 hours of "proficiency flying" each year.

It voted also to continue flying pay without proficiency flying for all officers who had qualified for 20 years as pilots or who are assigned as attaches in Iron Curtain countries where flying would not be permitted.

Other Actions.

In other actions the committee:

1. Approved an amendment which would require the services to put up American money for any foreign credits due the United States which they want to spend abroad.

2. Approved a provision forbidding the use of any funds to finance service commissary stores in the United States where items normally sold there can be procured within a "reasonable" distance at a "reasonable" price.

3. Modified a House provision that would have required officers and civilians to pay $2.25 a day for meals when they ate at Army, Air Force, Navy or other service messes. Instead, the committee allowed exceptions for officers and civilians who must eat meals in combat areas, on ships, or in hospitals. They then would pay either $1.60 or $1.15 a day.

4. Eliminated a House-approved section that would have denied overseas pay or special allowances to citizens of Alaska, Hawaii or other territories when stationed there.

Summary of Funds.

As sent to the Senate the bill provides funds for the Air Force nearly five billion dollars below the Truman budget and nearly 10 billion less than Congress voted last year.

Funds approved for the Navy were more than two billion below the Truman budget and more than three billion below last year.

The Army funds were about $900,000,000 above the Truman budget and $150,000,000 above last year, but included for the first time money to meet going expenses of the war in Korea.

In testimony made public by the committee, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, new Air Force chief of staff, restated his conviction that the Air Force cuts would delay the ultimate realization of the 143-wing Air Force which the Air Force generals regard as essential to national security.

But he said he "willingly" accepted the Administration's 120-wing "interim" program, pending results of a study of the entire defense program by the new joint chiefs of staff.

In other testimony, Navy experts said they expected the new atomic submarine to cruise twice as fast under water as World War II types and 50 per cent faster than the latest attack models.

It was estimated that the new submarine would cost about $40,000,000, with a "nuclear reactor" (its power plant) costing the Atomic Energy Commission and additional $15,000,000.

Parisian Brunette Is Winner Of the Miss Universe Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 18 (AP)—The new Miss Universe is from France, 18-year-old Christiane Martel. She defeated contestants from virtually every part of the globe to win the silver and gold crown last night.

Miss Martel, a brunette, who aspires to a screen career and has had bit parts in three French films, edged out blonde Miss United States, Myrna Hansen of Chicago, and Japan's Kinuko Ito. They finished second and third, just ahead of Mexico's Ana Lepe Jimenez and Australia's Maxine Morgan.

The Paris girl is the second 18-year-old to win the Miss Universe crown. The first winner, in last year's inaugural contest, was Armi Kuusela of Finland.

At her coronation ball tonight, Miss Universe will receive a six-month contract with Universal-International studio, a British sports car, an expensive wrist watch and other jewelry.

NEW ITALIAN CABINET TO PROPOSE TAX RISE

Budget Cuts Also to Be Urged Under De Gasperi's 'Austerity' Program.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

ROME, July 18—Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi's new cabinet met for the first time yesterday and approved what was described as an "austerity" program for Italy.

They recommended higher taxes and budget cuts, particularly on military items where this can be done without impairing Italy's participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Government's projects will be presented in detail to Parliament Tuesday, and debate on them, which will lead to a vote of confidence later this month, will begin Wednesday.

De Gasperi's decision to seek higher taxes will not be popular, but it is regarded as long overdue, particularly in the personal and corporate income fields.

An effort will be made to tighten up on tax evasions, which is one reason why Italy cannot balance its budget and pay more of its own way.

In Italy, it is not uncommon for business firms to keep two sets of books. One set, for the tax collector, shows losses or minimum profits. The other shows the firm's actual condition.

Landlords ask their tenants to sign two different leases. One, for a low or unfurnished rental, is registered with the authorities. The other, for the furniture or for "improvements," and usually for a much higher sum, is not registered and no tax is paid on it.

As part of the government's projected financial reforms, any unexpended surpluses in the government departmental budgets will be devoted to reduction of the over-all deficit.

According to estimates, at least 100,000,000,000 lira ($160,000,000) will be available. After the deficit is reduced, any amount left over will be devoted to increasing public housing.

The new Cabinet also approved the nomination of 30 new under secretaries in various government ministries. The new undersecretary in the Foreign Ministry will be Lodovico Benvenuti who helped to found the Assembly of Europe at Strasbourg and who has been prominent in drafting the projected agreement for a European political community.

Belgium Delays EDC Debate.

BRUSSELS, July 18 (AP) — The House of Representatives ignored government recommendations yesterday and voted to take its summer recess before debating and voting on the European Defense Community treaty.

SHRINERS AND KIN SPEND $17,500,000 IN NEW YORK CITY

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 18—The Shriners wound up their six-day convention yesterday and it was with some regret that New Yorkers bade them farewell.

Not only did the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine entertain the city with two parades and assorted displays of good-natured devilment, but its representatives and friends also spent an estimated $17,500,000 while here.

Royal W. Ryan, executive vice-president of the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau, said the convention was "one of the largest fraternal gatherings in the city's history by all odds." Attendance of Shriners and members of their families exceeded 100,000.

At its final session the Imperial Council of the Shrine chose Atlantic City as the site for the convention next year. The meeting will begin on June 25.

The newly-advanced officers of the Imperial Council Divan were installed. The new imperial potentate is Remmie L. Arnold, pen manufacturer of Petersburg, Va. He succeeds Harvey A. Beffa of St. Louis.

FIRST U. S. SHIP SAILS WITH FOOD FOR RED GERMANY

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—The American Inventor, first American food relief ship for eastern Germany, sailed yesterday with 1609 tons of flour, dried milk and lard.

The United States Lines freighter is due in Hamburg in nine days.

Other vessels will follow with more of the same items and additional foodstuffs in the Government's $15,000,000 program to combat hunger in the Red zone.

The supplies were purchased by the Mutual Security Agency from commercial firms throughout the country.

The food is in consumer-sized containers, such as are found in American groceries. There is nothing on the containers to identify them as being part of a relief food shipment, steamship officials said.

NEW LAW LETS AEC WRITE 25-YEAR POWER CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday signed a bill giving the Atomic Energy Commission authority to negotiate 25-year contracts, with cancellation clauses, for electric power at three atomic plants. The bill also raises to $240,000,000 the limit the AEC can pay to cancel the contracts.

Involved are the Oak Ridge (Tenn.), Paducah (Ky.), and Portsmouth (O.) atomic facilities.

The AEC obtains power from the Tennesseee Valley Authority, the Ohio Valley Electric Corp., and Electric Energy, Inc.

Officials said the former limit of $57,000,000 for cancellation payments was insufficient for the long-term contracts needed to provide power for these plants.

WILDCAT CLAWS BOY IN HOME

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 18 (AP) — A wildcat slipped into the suburban home of Jack Batchelor and clawed his 8-year-old son, Jackie, yesterday. The cat fled when other members of the family entered the house.

"There is no doubt that it was a wildcat," wildlife officer A. R. Mange said after examining its tracks. He guessed that the animal was seeking a pet guinea pig of the Batchelor children. Jackie was given anti-rabies and anti-tetanus injections and treated for the wounds, which were not deep.

IMMIGRANT BILL IS APPROVED BY SENATE GROUP

Measure Believed to Have Rocky Road to Travel Despite Vote in Showdown Session.

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Storm clouds still swirled today around immigration legislation urged by President Eisenhower despite a long-delayed victory in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

After a three-hour night session called to force a showdown, the committee voted, 6 to 4, to approve a bill that would permit 220,000 European refugees to enter the United States in the next three years.

Five absentee committee members were given until tonight to vote, but they were not expected to change the outcome. Opponents were given until midnight Thursday to file a minority report.

Administration Request.

The bill falls short of Eisenhower's original request that 240,000 special-quota immigrants, including persons who have escaped or been expelled from behind the Iron Curtain, be admitted to this country in the next two years.

Even so, opponents planned to carry their fight to the Senate floor. One of them, Senator McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, said he did not think the bill would be passed before adjournment, now set for Aug. 1.

Senator Watkins (Rep.), Utah, handling the bill for the Administration, conceded it still has a rocky road to travel. He declined to predict the outcome.

Eisenhower submitted his request for the emergency immigration bill to Congress April 22, saying this country should do its share to help in resettling European refugees and in easing the pressures of over-population.

Judiciary Committee Bill.

The measure approved by the judiciary committee would admit slightly more than 73,000 special-quota immigrants in each of the next three years.

Chairman Langer (Rep.), North Dakota, declined to disclose how individual committee members voted in approving the bill.

Of the 220,000 total, 4000 visas would be set aside for orphans, 5000 would be allotted to aliens, temporarily in this country, who could qualify for permanent residence.

The remaining 211,000 would be divided among escapees and expellees from behind the Iron Curtain and what Watkins described as refugees of Italian, Dutch and Greek origin.

Eliminated by the full committee was a provision previously approved by a subcommittee to admit 1000 refugees from Red China.

A House Judiciary subcommittee has approved a bill to admit 247,000 extra-quota immigrants, including Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese.

SPINSTER SAVED LIVE AMMUNITION IN SAFE DEPOSIT

BOSTON, July 18 (AP) — A miniature ammunition depot was found yesterday in a safe deposit vault at the State Street Trust Co.

Bank officers, instructed to open the vault of a spinster who died recently, found two cases of live ammunition of World War I origin. The cases contained rifle cartridges, grenades, heavy weapon primers, parachute flares, gas masks and barbed wire.

Sentimental souvenirs, they were, saved by Miss Sarah Battelle since she was a Y.M.C.A. worker in World War I. The explosives were turned over to police.

NEW BRITISH-LIBYAN PACT REPORTED; TERMS LISTED

LONDON, July 18 (AP)—Britain and Libya have agreed provisionally on a new treaty exchanging British money and materials for Libyan land and air bases, an official source reported today. The alliance also commits the two countries to aid each other in the event of attack.

Britain was reported to have agreed to give Libya an annual subsidy of about $4,000,000. British officers also will help to organize, train and equip a Libyan army while other forms of economic and technical aid will be made available to the newly formed state, the informant said.

In return Libya has given Britain the right to maintain troops in the country and at least one big air base at El Adem, near the port of Tobruk.

BONES FOUND IN QUEBEC, BELIEVED THOSE OF HUNTER

GASPE, Que., July 18 (AP)—Provincial police said today bones believed to be those of one of three Pennsylvania hunters who disappeared in the Gaspe peninsula wilderness have been found. First reports brought out by bush searchers earlier indicated the remains of all three had been found.

The police returning from the rugged, mountainous bush said the few scattered bones found were believed to be those of Eugene H. Lindsey, 45 years old. About $700 carried by Lindsay was reported missing.

A police spokesman said there was no clue to the whereabouts of Lindsey's son, Richard, 17, and Fred Claar, 20. All are from Hollidayburg, Pa. The three left Gaspe on a bear hunting trip June 12.

PARATROOPERS RETURNING FROM VIETMINH RAID

French Say Attack on Red Supply Base Was Triumph — Resistance Listed as Light.

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina, July 18 (AP)—The French high command announced today the 5000 French Union parachute raiders who yesterday wrecked the key Vietminh supply center of Lang Son have withdrawn and joined with other airborne units.

The paratroopers cleared out of the town near the Communist China frontier without encountering enemy resistance, the announcement said. It did not disclose the point of link-up with protective forces, which were dropped in the area to screen the raiders from possible attack by the Communist-led Vietminh.

Lang Son, 10 miles from the Chinese border, was a main relay point on the Vietminh supply from China. The town was believed to be the enemy's biggest supply base.

Difficult Withdrawal.

The withdrawal route to French-held territory 30 miles to the South is difficult as it is dominated by high ground and forested areas which could hide ambushing forces. However, the French said a large force had been sent to cover the paratroopers' withdrawal.

The paratroopers dropped on Lang Son from United States-supplied transports in a bold daylight raid. They wiped out resistance by a remnant garrison force of the Vietminh, smashed enemy installations and destroyed great stores of war material.

The French did not disclose the points at which additional paratroopers were dropped to protect the units clearing out of Lang Son. It appeared clear, however, the supporting troops had swept along a 60-mile stretch of Vietminh territory, destroying enemy arms and ammunition depots and wiping out scattered resistance.

Raid Called Triumph.

The French army command at Saigon heralded the Lang Son raid as a triumph. Casualties were not announced, but Vietminh resistance was described as light and sporadic. The wounded on the French side were flown out by helicopter.

By the United Press.

A senior French staff officer said the paratroopers were returning with "samples" of ammunition and weapons confiscated in the raid.

"This will prove beyond shade of doubt that the Vietminh armies are being fed by foreign powers," he said.

A command spokesman said only one French paratrooper was killed in the raid.

KANSAS CITY PRIEST FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN WOOD

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 18 (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest was found shot yesterday, apparently the victim of a target shooter.

The body of the Rev. Robert A. Hodges, 36 years old, chaplain at St. Joseph's Hospital, was found on a bank of the Little Blue river east of here. He had been shot in the right eye.

Sheriff's officers and Missouri state highway patrolmen said they found no weapon in the vicinity, but about 100 yards away on a bridge found 10 empty .22 calibre rifle cartridges.

Lloyd R. Hilburn, a sheriff's officer, said the circumstances seemed to indicate that some person or persons had been target shooting from the bridge, perhaps in the direction of the priest. The area is heavily wooded and covered with underbrush.

STREETCAR FARE INCREASE CAUSES RIOTS IN CALCUTTA

CALCUTTA, India, July 18 (UP)—Demonstrators protesting an increase in streetcar fares attacked police patrols and car barns with bombs, acid bulbs and brickbats tolay. The rioters assumed virtual control of parts of south Calcutta after barricading the streets.

Police fired several rounds to disperse the mobs. The trouble started when police cordoned off parks, broke up protest meetings and fired tear gas at opponents of the fare increase.

The West Bengal Conference received a suggestion last night that the fare increase issue be referred to the Chief Justice of the Calcutta high court for arbitration.

$10,000 DONATED BY RUSSIA TO JAPANESE RED CROSS

TOKYO, July 18 (AP) — The chief of the unrecognized Soviet mission here called on the Japan Red Cross today and donated 3,600,000 yen ($10,000) to the relief fund for flood-ravaged Kyushu island.

The Soviet Union is technically still at war with Japan.

The Soviet action is regarded as one of several recent friendly Russian moves to Japan—possibly as an overture to an offer of a peace treaty.

Russian Police Official Dies.

MOSCOW, July 18 (AP)—The newspaper Eastern Pravda today reported the death of Col. R. A. Saitbayev, 53 years old, an official in the Interior Ministry of the Soviet Republic of Uzbek. He had served as an official in Russia's security police since 1919, was a member of the revision commission of the central committee of the Uzbek Communist party and deputy in the Tashkent City Soviet.

Reds Abandon Soft Approach In East Germany, Troops Dig In

Communists Shift to Terror Tactics Against Threat of New Revolts by 'Fascist Underground.'

BERLIN, July 18 (AP)—East Berlin was an armed camp of Soviet tanks and troops today as the Russians and their German puppets shelved their soft approach and went over to a terror offensive against the threat of new East German revolts.

Less than a week after martial law was lifted, the elements of two armored divisions clanked back into East Berlin yesterday. They were dug in today, apparently for a long stay.

Communist propagandists who had been promising reform and clemency suddenly changed their tune. They issued warnings that the "Fascist underground" which they blamed for the June 17 workers revolt, is still active. They called for "increased watchfulness" which in Communist jargon means a witch hunt for scapegoats.

Causes of Reds' Alarm.

Two developments caused the Communist alarm:

1. Scattered strikes and slowdowns throughout the Soviet zone.

(United Press said four large plants were reported paralyzed by strikes yesterday, while many others were said to be partly closed.)

2. Resentment among East Germans against their Communist masters who turned down an American offer of $15,000,000 worth of food relief.

Official western sources confirmed that more than 200 tanks and about 14,000 Russian soldiers have occupied East Berlin, ready to pounce upon the first stirring of rebellion.

Unlike the troops who moved in July 17 to put down the workers revolt, these new invaders came equipped to stay. They set up camp in the half-rural outlying boroughs of the Soviet sector, laid telephone and electric lines. Some officers even brought their own desks.

Experts in such matters said the entire Soviet Seventh Armored Division and a regimental combat team from another division were installed in East Berlin. At the height of the June rioting, there were elements of three divisions there. The last of those divisions pulled out last Sunday.

A frenzied Communist food drive testified that hunger was the main urge toward rebellion. Communist newspapers carried stories of "huge" food shipments from Russia and its satellites. Fresh supplies, taken from just as hungry East German provinces, were rushed into East Berlin.

For the first time, Deputy Prime Minister Walter Ulbright used the term "fascist underground" to describe Communist opposition. Previously Red leaders blamed Western agents for the June uprising.

Ulbricht, in his first public appearance since the Moscow purge of Lavrenty P. Beria, denounced East German workers for demanding the release of political and economic prisoners in the Soviet zone.

'We Will Never Forget.'

He said, "We will never forget" that the June 17 East German revolt "began with attacks on prisons where SS men, war criminals and enemy agents were serving sentences."

The Soviet Zone Supreme Court last night rejected an appeal by Communist Kurt Unbehauen from a life sentence imposed in connection with the June 17 uprising.

Unbehauen was convicted of joining striking workers at the Zeiss optical plant in Jena and of beating up non-striking Red officials.

Josef Hegen was appointed to the new East German post of State Secretary of Inner Affairs, the Anti-Communist League of Free Jurists reported today. The league compared Hegen with "Red Hilde" Benjamin, the new Justice Minister, as a ruthless party line follower and commented:

"The appointment of two such radical Communists, coupled with other recent developments, proves that the so-called 'new course' (of conciliation) has been abandoned."

Hegen, born in Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland, distinguished himself in lesser posts, the Free Jurists League said, for "unusual ruthlessness and fidelity to the (Communist) party."

According to the league, Hegen once said "I hate only one people in the world—and that is the German people."

Rumor of Next Victim.

A persistent rumor spread through East Berlin that East German Interior Minister Willi Stoph will be the next victim of the party purge which started Wednesday with the arrest of Justice Minister Max Fechner.

Stoph was administrative head of the rearmament program and the buildup of the 125,000-man people's army. The army failed miserably in the June 17 riots.

The Anti-Communist League of Free Jurists said Fechner, arrested by German police as an "enemy of the republic," has been turned over to Soviet authorities.

200 JAPANESE DEAD IN SECOND FLOOD IN THREE WEEKS

TOKYO, July 18 (AP) — At least 200 persons are dead and more than 1000 missing in Japan's second flood in three weeks, the newspaper Asahi reported today.

Heavy rains yesterday in southern Kyushu island and central Japan sent water raging into rivers, breaking dikes and washing out whole towns and villages, Asahi said.

Most of the deaths were on the east coast of central Honshu—Japan's main island — about 200 miles southwest of Tokyo.

The rains struck suddenly, causing hundreds of landslides within hours, Asahi said.

United States Air Force bombers and helicopters dropped liferafts to stranded flood victims. The Japanese coast guard rushed patrol boats.

Northern Kyushu, hit by the worst flood in Japan's modern history three weeks ago, apparently was missed by the new downpour.

3 ROMANIAN 'TERRORISTS' EXECUTED, 4 IMPRISONED

VIENNA, July 18 (AP—Three persons in Romania have been executed and four given prison sentences on charges of "terrorist activity," the Bucharest radio announced today.

The radio reported the group planted a time bomb in a state-owned store last December and 12 employes were injured in the explosion.

All pleaded guilty. The trial opened July 15, the radio said. The executions were carried out immediately.

MISS PEGGY CRIPPS MARRIES AFRICA GOLD COAST STUDENT

LONDON, July 18 (UP)—Miss Peggy Cripps, 32-year-old daughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, was married at St. John's Wood Church today to Joseph Appiah, Negro law student from the Gold Coast in Africa.

Appiah, who is also 32, is the official representative in Britain of the Gold Coast Prime Minister. He and Miss Cripps met here at a meeting of the West African Students Union of which he was president.

PLANES BAR FLOWERS AFTER TWO FIRES IN SHIPMENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18 (AP)—Five major airlines operating out of San Francisco have clamped an embargo on all air shipments of flowers originating on the West Coast after discovery of two mysterious fires in flower shipments. Both fires were in boxes from the same grower.

The same day, an airlines agent in Tucson, Ariz., discovered a box that had been burned on one side, apparently while in flight.

Airline officials have submitted samples of the shipments to chemists on the theory that spray chemicals or cooling agents might be responsible for the fires.

BOHLEN COMPLETES REPORT

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Charles E. Bohlen, Ambassador to Moscow, has completed his consultation with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the Beria purge and will be back at his post in about 10 days.

The State Department announced Bohlen plans to leave New York Monday for Europe. He will see his family, vacationing in Switzerland, for a few days before going to Moscow.

Signs Disaster Aid Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed a bill yesterday permitting the federal government to give or lend surplus equipment and supplies to the states to aid in disaster relief. The measure was designed primarily to provide federal help in restoration of public facilities in tornado disaster areas in Massachusetts, Texas, Louisiana, Ohio, Minnesota and Michigan.

6 MEN CONVICTED OF AGA KHAN GEM ROBBERY IN 1949

They Get Prison Terms of 4 to 10 Years — 3 Acquitted and 3 Tried in Absentia.

AIX EN PROVENCE, France, July 18 (AP)—Six of 12 men on trial for engineering the $850,000 jewel robbery of the Aga Khan and his wife four years ago were found guilty today. They were sentenced to prison terms ranging from four to 10 years.

Three other defendants, among them a wartime hero who claims to be Winston Churchill's godson, were acquitted by a seven-man French jury. No decision was announced immediately on the fate of three tried in absentia.

Much of the loot grabbed from the Aga Khan's party in the 1949 daring daylight holdup on the French Riviera has been recovered.

The acquitted war hero, George Lindsay Watson, denied at the trial that he was finger man in the robbery.

Police Scandal.

A long-smouldering police scandal exploded while the trial was in progress. The scandal stemmed from the fact that France's national prefect of police at the time of the robbery had been associated in the French underground during the war with one of the accused. The police prefect, Pierre Bertaux, was suspended early in the case.

Acquitted in addition to Watson were:

Charles Vincileoni, Marseille restaurant owner accused of receiving the stolen jewels.

Henri Waffelman, who admitted cutting up the famous $170,000 twenty-five-carat La Marquise diamond which was in the loot. Waffelman co-operated with police.

Sentences of Six.

Sentences handed out to the six others were:

Francois Sanna, a Corsican, 10 years at hard labor, and Jacques Benedetti, eight years at hard labor. These two were accused of having actually seized the jewels from the Aga Khan and his Begum Aug. 4, 1949.

Barthelemy Ruberti, six years. He was accused of riding a bicycle in front of the Aga Khan's car, forcing it to slow down to a near stop as it reached the holdup place.

Jules Battistelli, five years. Police charged that the cut-down version of the La Marquise diamond was found in his possession.

Hilarion Fromanger, four years. He was accused of helping cut the diamond down to disguise it.

Leon Jollivet, five years. He owned the villa where the gang took the jewels and buried them. Later most of the jewels were mysteriously tossed in a brown paper package into the courtyard of the ninth police brigade at Marseille.

The three tried in absentia were Roger Senanedj, reported killed by his associates; Paulo Leca, described as ringleader of the gang and a member of the French wartime undergound; and Paul Mandolino, who jumped bail.

ALL-G.O.P. HUNT BY M'CARTHY FOR REDS MAY PROVE CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Three Democrats Expected to Write Senator Today, Refusing to Rejoin His Subcommittee.

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—A Republican decision to let Senator McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, hunt for Communists without Democratic help threatens to make his committee a major issue in next year's congressional campaign.

Three rebelling Democrats are expected today to send individual letters to McCarthy, saying they will not return to membership on the investigating subcommittee he heads.

From all indications, no other Senate Democrats will accept appointment to the places vacated by Senators McClellan of Arkansas, Symington of Missouri and Henry Jackson of Washington. They walked out in protest when the committee's G.O.P. majority voted McCarthy the sole right to hire and fire staff personenl.

Senator Dirksen (Rep.), Illinois, a member, said if the Democrats want to take that attitude, the committee will go about its business without benefit of minority members.

Will Go On, Dirksen Says.

"I think the committee can function in an orderly and legal way and its investigations will go on just the same," Dirksen said.

As time goes on, he said, the Democrats may face a developing belief on the part of the public that they walked out because they really were not interested in digging Communists out of government.

McClellan, who already has drafted a politely curt letter to McCarthy rejecting the Wisconsin Senator's proposal that he resume committee membership, said he does not think for a minute the country will believe any such thing.

"I'll let the record of my activities refute any such ridiculous accusations, so far as I am concerned," McClellan said. "I don't think there is any Senator not willing to investigate Communists under the established congressional procedures and within the committee's jurisdiction."

McClelland and Senator Mundt (Rep.), South Dakota, who has supported McCarthy in the current controversy, will be up for re-election next year and thus directly affected by the political reaction. Mundt and Senator Potter (Rep.), Michigan, are the other committeemen.

Democratic View.

Many Democrats believe an investigation conducted only by Republicans would be tabbed as partisan at the start and its results viewed with suspicion.

In addition, some Democrats feel the fire went out of the Communist issue with the change in administrations. They apparently were relieved not to be party just now to inquiries into the operations of the Eisenhower Administration.

Dirksen said the committee will continue its work throughout the summer and fall months. Under its rules, it can operate with one member as a quorum, so McCarthy is empowered to sit alone at hearings if other members are busy.

McCarthy's friends say they doubt absence of Democrats will slow down his activities. Nor do they expect him to pay much attention to an element within his own party which has been critical of his activities.

FINED $175 ON TWO CHARGES, ONE IS DRUNKEN DRIVING

Albert Manuel of Valley Park was fined $150 in police court yesterday on a charge of driving when intoxicated, and $25 on a charge of disturbing the peace. He had pleaded not guilty, and notified Police Judge Robert G. Dowd that he would appeal the cases to the Court of Criminal Correction.

Manuel was arrested at 5 a.m. yesterday after his automobile failed to stop at a toll station on MacArthur bridge. He stopped when a policeman whistled, but the policeman said Manuel then began cursing. Manuel told Judge Dowd he had been drinking but was not drunk.

Balloons for Wheel Day Parade

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

SCREENS TO AVERT ESCAPES ORDERED IN COURT BUILDING

Installation of iron screens above stairways at the Municipal Courts Building, to safeguard against prisoner escapes, was ordered yesterday by Circuit Judge James F. Nangle after a conference with Sheriff Martin L. Tozer.

Two prisoners awaiting trial on first-degree robbery charges escaped from a deputy sheriff last Monday by vaulting one of the five-foot steel gates at a stairway in the building. The men were being taken to city jail from a courtroom.

The screens will eliminate the free space above the gates, Tozer pointed out. They will be installed above gates at the east and west sides of the building on the ground, first and third floors, he said. Similar precautions already have been taken on the second floor.

At the same time, Judge Nangle ordered locks and keys on elevators in the building changed. Tozer said too many persons have obtained keys for the locks, and unauthorized use of elevators is viewed as increasing the possibility of escapes by prisoners.

3 TEEN-AGERS HELD IN FATAL BEATING OF FATHER OF ONE

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., July 18 (UP)—Three teenagers, including the victim's son, faced criminal charges here today in the killing of Victor Samaan, beach apartment house owner.

Samaan was discovered unconscious in his apartment bedroom yesterday. He died at a hospital last night from severe blows inflicted with a wedge-shaped stick of wood weighing three or four pounds.

Police said he was beaten by Samaan's 14-year-old son, George Samaan, Ralph Robert Frank Jr., 16, and John Cameron Weir, 14.

They said that Frank, who admitted striking Samaan "four or five times" when the man was asleep, had been charged with first degree murder. Young Samaan and Weir were charged with being accessories to the killing.

Young Samaan was quoted as saying he and the other two youths planned about a week ago to kill the father because of a beating he had given his son. Young Samaan had run away from home.

CHIEF ROSENBERG COUNSEL CRITICIZED BY BAR HEAD

BIRMINGHAM, July 18 (AP)—The president of the American Bar Association has criticized the chief counsel for the executed atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

Robert G. Storey, Dallas, Tex., said last night Emanuel Bloch, chief defense attorney for the Rosenbergs, had no right "to villify honorable public officials because he failed in his clients' cause."

Bloch said in a funeral oration June 21 that "President Eisenhower, Attorney General Brownell and director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation J. Edgar Hoover were murderers" in the execution of the Rosenbergs.

Storey, dean of the Southern Methodist University law school and a practicing attorney, called the remarks "unethical and unprofessional." He commented on the Rosenberg case in an address before a banquet session of the Alabama Bar Association.

BEEF PRICE RISE PROMPTS CAMPAIGN DELAY REQUEST

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Sharp advances in beef prices in recent days led the Government to ask yesterday that the retail food trade delay a beef promotion campaign set to start Aug. 1.

The campaign was developed at the emergency drouth relief conference June 26 of representatives of the livestock, meat processing and retail food industries with Agriculture Department officials.

At that time, cattle prices were declining, largely as a result of heavy sales from the southwestern drouth area where feed supplies were short.

The beef promotion idea was conceived as one means of helping revive cattle prices.

R. J. Reynolds Heiress Dies.

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Mrs. Charles Babcock, daughter of the late tobacco financier R. J. Reynolds and one of three main heirs to his fortune, died here yesterday in Roosevelt Hospital. She was 44 years old.

189 Forms for Filing Complaints On Rents Requested in Two Days

Number of Applicants Expected to Taper Off After Initial Surge, Committee Chairman Says.

A total of 189 requests for forms on which complaints of excessive rent increases are to be reported have been received in the first two days the St. Louis Fair Rent Committee has been in operation, H. Grant Barngrove, chairman, said today.

About two-thirds of the requests were received yesterday, the second day of operation, Barngrove said. Complaints will not be acted upon unless they are filed on the forms provided by the committee.

"We anticipate a tapering off of requests for the forms next week," Barngrove said. "We may be wrong in this, of course, but we think there should be a sharp drop after the initial surge of complaints.

"There hasn't been enough time for any of the forms we have mailed out to be returned. The full 189 may come back, or only a small proportion of them. Until that happens we won't really know how big a job we have ahead of us, or for that matter how big the problem is."

The committee is certain to get a large number of requests early next week. Both Edward M. Tod, CIO representative on the committee, and William A. Webb, AFL representative, have promised to forward lists of names and addresses of people from whom they have received complaints.

Webb has a total of 150 letters in which rent increases average about 82 per cent. Tod has received 25 letters from city residents and an equal number from the county, with the average increase 60 per cent.

"Although I have received only 25 letters from residents of the city, they cover a lot more housing units than that," Tod said. "In one case, for example, a tenant wrote me that large increases are scheduled for all the 24 units in his apartment building.

"One thing is particularly important in this program. We want to urge especially that the tenants co-operate fully with the committee. It's a purely voluntary matter, and if we have the co-operation of the tenants we may be able to persuade some landlords to reduce excessive rent increases."

The committee offices are at 717½ Chestnut street. Tenants who have been notified that they will receive what seem to be excessive rent increases when controls end July 31 may write to the office requesting the approved forms, or telephone for them. The number is CHestnut 6681. The office is closed on Saturdays and Sundays.

MOSLEY INVITED TO MAKE PUBLIC HIS TAX RETURNS

might make some comment next week.

Dalton reported the investigation was "moving along all right" and was centered on Mosley. He said the Department of Revenue, Liquor Control and Highway Patrol agents were all co-operating with his office and were developing proper evidence in support of some of the complaints received.

In the forefront of the inquiry was the shooting last June 26 of Mosley's chief deputy sheriff, William W. Smith, by Deputy Nicholas Burke during a barbecue party for members of the Sheriff's office at El Avion night club. Division of the reward in the hijacking case was reported as one source of dispute leading to the affray.

Efforts were made at Lambert-St. Louis Field yesterday to end a taxicab "war," which has been cited as an example of unchecked lawlessness in the county. Owners of three cab companies involved met with county and airport officials to work out an orderly plan for operating outside the airport's administration building.

Agreement to Hire Starter.

The companies—Air-Way, Air Terminal and Air Flite—agreed to employ a starter who will call cabs in turn for customers. In recent months hoodlum drivers have intimidated others and fought over luggage of air travelers. Numerous reports of excessive fares being charged also have been received.

Frank C. Roe, director of public works for the county, announced after the meeting that the cab owners had agreed to commence compliance with a new county taxicab ordinance which will go in effect July 28. They said they would install meters and paint fare schedules on the cab doors.

Licenses costing $20 a cab and $1 a driver will be issued July 23 after the County Council has determined the number of taxicabs to be permitted in unincorporated county areas. Driver applicants are now being screened by the sheriff's office.

DULLES SAYS DEPOSED BERIA IS 'LANGUISHING IF NOT DEAD'

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles suggested last night the possibility that Russia's deposed Deputy Premier Lavrenty P. Beria may be dead.

He inserted into a sentence on Beria in his prepared radio and television speech, the words "languishing if not dead" so that he said:

"The No. 2 man of the triumvirate which was supposedly to govern Russia, who was head of the secret police is today languishing if not dead, the victim of his own system of terror."

The other two men in the triumvirate are Premier Malenkov and Foreign Minister Molotov.

25 YOUTHS SEIZED IN LIQUOR RAID AT RESTAURANT

The police liquor squad raided the Black Forest Restaurant and Garden, 6432 Gravois avenue, at 11 o'clock last night and arrested the owner, two waitresses and 25 young persons—16 boys and nine girls.

The owner, George Dasho, who lives at 14 Berrywood drive, Glendale, and the waitresses, Mrs. Marie Berra, 7000 block of Radom avenue, and Mrs. Anna Pelch, 5000 block Neosho avenue, were booked on suspicion of selling liquor to minors.

The youthful customers also were booked by the police, on suspicion of consuming intoxicating liquor. All were released on bond, and the cases were set for trial Aug. 11.

U.S. COURT REVERSES ORDER ON TRANSAMERICA STOCK

PHILADELPHIA, July 18 (UP)—A Federal Reserve Board order which would have forced Transamerica Corp. to sell all the stock it owns in 47 banks has been set aside by the Third United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

"Since the board failed to find the facts as to lessening competition and tendency to monopoly in the areas of effective competition actually involved, its order is unsupported by the necessary findings and cannot stand," the court said in its decision handed down yesterday.

The Federal Reserve board of governors had charged that Transamercia with violations of section 7 of the Clayton Act by lessening competition, restraining commerce or tending to create a monopoly.

TWO TAVERNS ARE HELD UP

Three men with handkerchiefs over their faces held up a tavern at 5867 Manchester avenue last night and took $200 from two employes, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fitzwater, 6125 Roberts avenue. The holdup men fled in an automobile, going north on nearby Sulphur avenue.

In another tavern holdup, at 1900 Mallinckrodt street, two men sat down for a beer and then took $50 and a bottle of whisky from Clifford Batzel, the proprietor.

Really Follows the Rules.

ALAMEDA, Calif., July 18 (UP)—A 23-year-old housewife called firemen when her home caught fire while she was feeding her two small children. When firemen arrived they found she was still feeding her youngsters. Regularity is the key factor in the proper raising of a family, she said.

BUSINESS FIRMS OBJECT TO NEW TRAFFIC ROUTES

Want Hearing on Leaving Hodiamont Streetcar Line on Washington Avenue.

A protest against the proposed re-routing of mass transportation vehicles through the downtown area was presented yesterday by the Downtown Improvement Association to Mayor Raymond R. Tucker.

The association, which represents business firms and real estate owners along Washington avenue, object that the re-routing proposed is not in accordance with the original master traffic control plan and urged that the revision of routes be held up until a public hearing can be held.

Effective July 27.

The revised routes are scheduled to become effective on Monday, July 27, when Olive, Locust and Pine streets will be converted to one-way streets.

Olive will be one-way eastbound from Twelfth boulevard; Pine will be one-way westbound from the riverfront to Grand boulevard and Locust will be on-way westbound from the riverfront to Theresa avenue. One-way street signs are being installed by the Traffic Division. At present these are without arrows designating the direction of traffic. The directional arrows will be installed immediately before the effective date of the change.

James E. Crowe, former city counselor, now attorney for the improvement association, said the group objects to leaving the Hodiamont streetcar line on Washington, an action which required changing the proposed routes of the Lindell busses.

Original Plan.

The original traffic control plan provided for eastbound Hodiamont operations on Olive from Twelfth and westbound on Pine to Thirteenth street. This would have permitted operation of Lindell busses on Washington. They now use Locust. The new re-routing provides for eastbound operation of these busses on Olive and westbound on Locust.

Traffic Commissioner Charles G. Gonter has contended that all streetcar and bus operations should be separated. He has urged that the Hodiamont streetcars be taken off Washington and only busses use the street. He suggested that the Hodiamont line follow Franklin avenue into the downtown area. Proposed bus operations on Olive will bring mixed mass transportation facilities. At present only streetcars use Olive.

KENTUCKY OFFERS ARKANSAS AID IN TIDELANDS OIL SUIT

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 18 (UP)—The Commonwealth of Kentucky offered yesterday to join with Arkansas in a legal battle against the new law which gives title to offshore oil lands to the coastal states.

Kentucky's attorney genenal, J. D. Buckman Jr., said in a letter to Attorney General T. J. Gentry of Arkansas that, "Kentucky is willing to intervene or assist in the test suit which the state of Arkansas filed a few days ago."

He made an indirect attack on Kentucky's Democratic United States Senator, Earle C. Clements, when he said that, "I can only hope that in the future members of Congress will not be misled by the present administration into any further surrender of our common heritage. Fortunately, only a small minority of this state's Congressional delegation was so misled."

Clements, though a Democrat, voted in favor of the administration-backed oil lands bill.

GIRL, 8, SERIOUSLY BURNED, WAS PLAYING WITH MATCHES

An 8-year-old girl, Linda Sue Yarbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yarbrough, 1626A South Eighteenth street, was seriously burned while apparently playing with matches at her home early today, police reported.

Linda Sue came running in from a side porch, her clothing afire, while her parents were still in bed, the father said. He and a friend, Elmer Bell, 1026 Hickory street, put out the flames and the girl was taken to City Hospital with second and third-degree burns of the entire body.

On the side porch police found several burnt matches and a match book. Bell was treated for burns of the hands.

TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT CHARGED BY AUTO AGENCY

Suit charging trademark infringement against the Missouri Hudson Corp., automobile agency at 6133 Delmar boulevard, was filed in circuit court yesterday by the Nash Missouri Corp., 2323 South Kingshighway boulevard.

The Nash agency, asking $25,000 in punitive damages, alleged that the Hudson firm has been attempting to induce the public to believe that the two businesses are connected by the use of a similar trademark and similar advertising.

The suit asked that the Hudson agency be enjoined from such advertising and make an accounting of all damages suffered by the Nash company.

New York's Hottest July 17.

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Thousands headed for the beaches and any kind of cool spot they could find yesterday as a broiling sun sent the mercury soaring to 95.8—the highest mark ever recorded on July 17. The previous record was 95 in 1905.

RIVERFRONT BILL NOW FAVORED BY BUDGET BUREAU

Agency Reverses Position on Authorization —Funds Not Sought at This Time.

By SAM J. SHELTON JR.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 18—The Bureau of Budget has reversed its position and now favors authorization legislation for the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial on the St. Louis riverfront, Representative Thomas B. Curtis (Rep.), Webster Groves, said he was informed today by Rowland R. Hughes, assistant director of the Bureau of Budget.

Curtis said Hughes told him the bureau will recommend approval of the project on the basis that "no funds will be requested until the budget is balanced."

The bureau previously had recommended that authorization legislation "be deferred until the general budgetary situation is such that this development would be warranted."

Both Curtis and Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (Dem.), Missouri, had informed Hughes proponents of the Riverfront Memorial did not seek appropriations at this time, but only passage of legislation that would, in effect, indicate the intention of the Federal Government to carry out the project.

MEMBERS ASSAIL COMMITTEE HEAD HOFFMAN IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP)—Representative Clare E. Hoffman (Rep.), Michigan, took a verbal spanking yesterday from members of his House Government Operations Committee.

Representative Clarence J. Brown (Rep., Ohio, told the House that the 77-year-old Michigan Republican is "old and testy." Representative George H. Bender (Rep.), Ohio, said Hoffman is "not well' and that he made allowances for a "lot of mularkey" from Hoffman.

Other committee members also complained about Hoffman's conduct as chairman. The group voted unanimously Wednesday to strip Hoffman of authority to launch investigations of his own.

Democratic Whip John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, another committee member, said the move was "regrettable," but "we were compelled to take some action." He said Hoffman continually called hearings without consulting committee members.

Hoffman assailed the rebellion on the floor yesterday, accusing his subcommittee chairmen of making a "drive for power." He was not present to hear the members' replies.

TWO KANSAS CITY UNIONS, BUILDERS REACH TERMS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 18 (AP)—Agreements were reached between two unions in the heavy construction field and the Heavy Contractors Association last night. Both sides said a pattern had been set for an early end to the 10-week construction tie-up here.

Members of the building trades unions—under the agreements reached last night—will receive a pay boost of 10 cents an hour, effective immediately. On April 1, 1954, they will get an additional boost of 5 cents an hour. Their hourly wages now range from $1.88 to $2.26.

Members of the Heavy Construction Laborers Union will receive a cent-an-hour pay increase immediately and a 5-cent increase next April 1. In addition, an employe welfare fund plan, set up in October, will be discontinued, and workers will receive 7½ cents an hour in take-home pay which the employer formerly paid into the fund.

The 30-month agreements include clauses providing that jurisdictional disputes are to be decided by an AFL national joint board.

THREE MORE FLYING CROSS CLUSTERS AWARDED JABARA

SEOUL, July 18 (UP)—Maj. James Jabara, history's first jet ace, received three more oak leaf clusters to his Distinguished Flying Cross today before leaving Korea for Tokyo.

Jabara's fourth, fifth and sixth clusters were presented by Lt. Gen. Samuel Anderson, Fifth Air Force commander, for achievement on his second tour of duty in Korea.

The Wichita (Kan.) flyer recently became the world's second ranking ace by downing his fifteenth MIG. He will return to the United States for reassignment to a post in New York.

WATERSPOUT TURNS INTO TORNADO AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, July 18 (AP)—A tornado which whipped into the outskirts of New Orleans yesterday apparently started as a water spout.

Weather Forecaster Carl Prochnow said the water spout seemed to generate into a tornado, which destroyed a Catholic Church and a small house, damaged other houses and injured one person.

Two water spouts were reported on Lake Pontchatrain just before the tornado struck.

when he saw "a ball of flame about 150 yards long.

"Then the barn caught on fire and a boy came walking up to me, his clothes were burning all over and he asked me to pull off his shoes and clothes," he said.

"A neighbor and I put a blanket over the boy and carried him to the side of the house. I got some lard and rubbed it all over him. Then another man came up, with his clothes afire."

Nearby woods were set ablaze by the plane, but the flames were extinguished by Navy personnel and civilian volunteers.

George F. Schwaebe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Schwaebe of 718 North Florissant road. He would have been a junior at the University of Missouri this fall. He was 20 years old, and this was his second summer in the N.R.O.T.C.

8 KILLED IN B-50 MID-AIR COLLISION

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz., July 18 (AP)—Eight Air Force airmen were killed when two B-50 bombers collided at 27,000 feet near here yesterday.

One of the planes, which was on an instrument training flight and flying blind, returned to Davis-Monthan Air Force Base near Tucson.

The other plunged into the Arizona desert after four crew members parachuted out and escaped without serious injury. A fifth man attempted to parachute but was killed, "probably hit by the plane after jumping," an Air Force spokesman said.

Davis-Monthan was the home station of both bombers. The wreckage, which burned, was scattered over a 200-yard area.

The eight dead were:

Capt. Erwin Greenberg, 31, bombardier, Los Angeles.

Airman 1-C James J. Burnfin, 20, radio operator, Corbin, Ky.

Staff Sgt. Roy E. West, 28, central fire controller, Norfolk, Va.

Airman 1-C Joe Cisneros, 20, gunner, Corpus Christi, Tex.

Airman 1-C John Gulick, 23, gunner, Utica, N.Y.

Airman 1-C Donald E. Jones, 21, gunner, Henniker, N.H.

Airman 2-C George L. McLenner, 24, gunner, Tuscola, Ill.

SENATE OK'S NEW PENSION PLAN FOR CONGRESS STAFF

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP)—The Senate approved a new pension plan for congressional employes yesterday after rejecting a proposal to increase the premiums on their own retirement benefits.

The bill, which was sent to the House, would give the 4300 employes in the legislative branch the same pension plan as Senators and House members.

This plan provides a 2½ per cent annuity computed on the highest average annual salary received in any five years of service, and a 6 per cent annual premium based on current salary.

The Civil Service Commission pension plan for employes of the executive branch, which has been open to congressional employes, also calls for a 6 per cent premium, but its annuities are computed on 1½ per cent of the highest salary received in any year.

Russian Killed in Vienna.

VIENNA, July 18 (UP)—A Russian soldier was shot and killed and an Austrian seriously wounded today during a drinking party in the British sector of Vienna, Austrian police reported.

JAMBOREE SCOUTS HEAR PRESIDENT

They Listen to Tape-Recorded Message, View Historical Pageant.

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

JAMBOREE CITY, Calif., July 18 (AP)—Boy Scouts on this southern California ranch were a little sleepy this morning—the second day of their national jamboree — after an outdoor show last night that kept them up late to hear a recorded message from President Eisenhower and see a historical pageant.

From the hills and canyons of this 3000-acre ranch the Scouts and leaders, massed in marching groups of thousands, strode into an outdoor arena last night to hear the President's words and see the colorful pageant.

The President's tape-recorded message, played over the loudspeaker system, was simple and brief. He told how he learned "the meaning of brotherhood and the spirit of united helpfulness" when he attended the 1950 jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. Eisenhower, who is honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, was kept from attending this jamboree by the press of business, but he told the Scouts he would like to be with them.

He mentioned the fact that representative Scouts from 16 foreign countries are attending this jamboree and added:

"Each of you will make new friends, acquire new skills, appreciate new values.

"And, in all likelihood, you will gain a new sense of the vastness and complexities of this nation and of the world. But I am confident that, in meeting and talking with your fellow Scouts, you will gain a renewed awareness of the need for co-operating—working together—in our country and in the world.

"Bonds of common purpose and common ideals can unite people, even when they come from the most distant and diverse places. This is an important lesson, and even if you learn no other, you will leave Irvine ranch with a new wisdom."

For visitors the scene of the Scouts and their leaders, about 45,000 marching from their far-flung campsites down the roads to the huge arena, was almost as impressive as the show itself. Scout officials said visitors who thronged into the arena brought the total attendance to approximately 70,000.

EVATT URGES U.N. CHARTER CHANGE TO RESTRICT VETO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18 (AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, a former United Nations General Assembly president, urges changes in the U.N. Charter to restrict use of the veto at the Security Council.

Evatt, leader of the Australian labor party, told a luncheon meeting here yesterday that the veto should be permitted only on questions involving the use of force, and not to bar entry of new U.N. members.

BOYS GRAB WOMAN'S PURSE

Jane Webster, a nurse, of 4606 Delmar boulevard, reported to police last night that two boys, about 10 or 12 years old, snatched her purse containing $98 as she was walking near her home. The boys were Negroes.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Praise for 'Rip Van Winkle'

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Some of my colleagues and myself would like to add our small voices to the storm of indignation engendered by Myles Standish's review of the premier of "Rip Van Winkle," by Edwin McArthur and Morton Da Costa.

To our minds the music is of better quality than the average run of light opera, and Mr. Standish's statement that the music lacked lilt and punch is belied by the "Stolen Moments Ballet," "The Bitter and the Sweet," a lovely madrigal in the English style, and in the song "Remember," to select just three numbers from the show.

The tone of the review sounds as if Mr. Standish had a personal grudge. Our feeling of criticism is that it is of much more value if it is constructive and not destructive.

Isn't it a remarkable fact that in the 35 years' existence of the Muny Opera, there have been very few works by local composers and authors even submitted to the directors for possible performance?

A review such as the one under discussion certainly will not encourage budding authors and composers to make an attempt, when a production such as "Rip Van Winkle" is torn to pieces by the whim of one man who for some unknown reason wills it thus.

Of course, it is only the opinion of one man, but printed as an official review in a paper of the prestige and influence of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch it can do incalculable harm.

A Cut That Hurt

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Evidently Gov. Donnelly hasn't visited the State Hospital in Fulton and seen the sad state in which it exists. This is due almost entirely to lack of funds. When the Governor cuts the mental hospital fund he is hurting a lot of people who need help and need it badly.

A Purpose Destroyed?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your smear against patriotic Americans by use of the term "book burning" is disgraceful.

Our State Department libraries abroad are intended to present and promote the American viewpoint, which can be done only by persons believing in our form of government. Certainly we have a patriotic duty to insist that this purpose be maintained.

When books containing such passages as "The one hopeful light on the horizon is the exciting and encouraging conditions in Soviet Russia," as does one by Paul Robeson's wife, the purpose of the libraries is destroyed.

We need more courageous Americans like Senator McCarthy.

Unbearable Gouging

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In heaven's name, cannot something be done to curb the rent hogs? Our so-called representatives ignored our pleas. The gouging is unbearable to those of us in the lower brackets.

Reds Would Turn Green

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I wonder if your letter writers recognize the implications of their position on censorship in the interests of their moral well-being.

Mr. Eufinger likens his spiritual adviser to his medical adviser. If he must rely on authority to tell him "what is harmful to read, see and hear," he must also rely on that authority to tell him what to think—unless, of course he reads, sees and hears without thinking.

"For every right there is a corresponding duty," writes Mr. McKenzie. If freedom is a right to which we are entitled, its correlative duty is the responsibility of every individual to decide for himself what shall be its moral exercise.

Freedom is a two-edged sword, and quick to rust; more freedom has been lost in this country through disuse than through subversion.

If Messrs. Eufinger and McKenzie wish to be free not to read, see and hear that which they deem unworthy of their attention, they must extend to those who differ with them the right to do so if they choose. To hold otherwise is to make a mockery of the word "freedom" in a manner to turn every Red green with envy.

Cloud in a Crystal Ball

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Does Dudley T. Dougherty of Beeville, Tex., possess a crystal ball, or is he merely making a nasty implication when he is so glib about the future policy of the Nehru government of India with regard to a Korean truce and prisoner custody?

Just what are his motives in stating that the prisoners would be turned over to China for execution? Is it possible that Mr. Dougherty wishes to imply that people with dark skins are incapable of fair play and honorable conduct?

To question the good intentions of the one nation in Asia big enough to be a balance to the power of Red China is a serious thing indeed. It may well be the fate of the free world will hinge on that balance.

If India really embraced the Reds tomorrow, could Mr. Dougherty see the outcome in his crystal ball?

Arbitration the Way Out

Mayor Tucker has demanded arbitration of the crippling building truckers' strike.

The teamsters' union and the materials companies can answer that in two ways. They can settle their disagreement between themselves or they can arbitrate.

So far they have used 58 long days to come to no agreement whatsoever. They are not even close to agreement. The Mayor's own conciliation effort has collapsed. Much of the building industry remains idle along with 27,000 workmen. This could drag on to wreck the whole building season in the St. Louis area.

Since the employers and employes cannot agree, arbitration is the only fair way out of the mess. Mayor Tucker is absolutely right in demanding it.

The Mayor speaks for the public interest. He has shown great patience and a highly responsible attitude throughout the whole dispute. He has exhausted every effort to settle this strike by other means. But he has now concluded that "there is no real meeting of minds here. There is not and there has not been serious negotiation in the give-and-take atmosphere that you must have to settle such a dispute."

Now the time has come to end 58 days of paralysis in the construction industry which is spreading heavy economic losses throughout the whole community. In the Mayor's words:

> Both sides have a responsibility not alone to the men they represent but to the community where they live. I have told them it is about time they recognize this larger responsibility. It is about time they accept the fact that they have no moral right to continue a strike that costs not them but their neighbors millions of dollars. Any man in any society has a duty not alone to himself but to the society in which he lives.

The materials dealers have accepted the Mayor's arbitration plan with no strings attached. The teamsters' union has unfortunately and very unwisely rejected it. We believe the union should immediately reconsider.

Tht reason given by the union for rejecting the Mayor's plan seems to us a quibble. The union says arbitration will not be fair unless a certified public accountant is available to the arbitrators for the purpose of examining the books of the companies.

Yet the Mayor's plan clearly and unequivocally states that the arbitrators shall have "full power to determine the facts required to reach a decision," and to this the companies have agreed. That ought to be enough assurance that, as the union asks, the arbitrators will have access to all facts necessary for a sound decision.

In view of the Mayor's long and persistent efforts to settle the dispute by mediation and negotiation, he can hardly be accused now of precipitate action. But when two groups hopelessly disagree, the reasonable solution is to turn the dispute over to an impartial third party.

And there is nothing reasonable about a 58-day deadlock.

2-to-1 vs. 1-to-7

The party division in the House on the Rooney amendment to restore some of the cuts in the State Department information program shows who supports President Eisenhower in this field and who does not. The Administration submitted an "austerity budget" for the Voice of America and related activities overseas. This was chopped down a third in the House. On the motion to put back some of the heavy cuts, the House lined up as follows:

| | FOR THE RESTORATION | AGAINST THE RESTORATION |
|---|---|---|
| Republicans | 24 | 177 |
| Democrats | 129 | 67 |

This plea of the President went down in defeat because the 2-to-1 support the White House received from the Democrats was more than overcome by the 7-to-1 opposition rolled up by the Republicans.

Does intelligence of this sort, we wonder, ever get into the news digests that are prepared, Army fashion, for Dwight D. Eisenhower? Or does he still think that one party is all good and the other wholly bad?

Curtailed but Still Alive

It was almost mathematically certain that the Senate-House conferees would whittle the public housing program for the current year below the 35,000 units which the Administration requested.

The Senate had voted for 35,000; the House, for none. In this situation, the likeliest result was a program of 17,500, precisely splitting the difference between the two branches. The conferees finally agreed on 20,000. The 2500 homes above the arithmetical mean may be regarded as a bonus, which all of the cities struggling to clean up their slums and provide decent low-rent housing are now privileged to fight over.

For another year the public housing program has been kept alive, but just barely. The 20,000 units, when spread around among the cities with slum clearance programs, are only a trifling token of what is really needed. They represent no more than 15 per cent of the number of low-rent homes which Congress authorized to be built each year when it passed the Housing Act of 1949.

Yet it is better to have the program continue on a reduced basis than not at all. The time will come, and may not be far distant, when public housing will be urgently in demand to provide employment if for no other reasons. Next year's inevitable attempt to kill off the program should be resisted as this year's was.

The Law, Too, Has Teeth

A Connecticut man who resented being arrested on motor vehicle charges took the unusual recourse of biting the policeman. Therefore he has been placed in a Danbury jail on charges of reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, resisting arrest, breach of the peace, and driving without a license. To that old axiom that if a man bites a dog it's news, a corollary may now be added. If a man bites a policeman it's bad news—for the man.

A Gain for Food Inspection

Whether Welfare Secretary Hobby put it over or not is a question, but the House has passed the bill to restore the right of factory inspection to the Food and Drug Administration. That is good news, and consumers will hope that the Senate follows suit before this session ends.

Mrs. Hobby came out strong for factory inspection when she appeared on television with President Eisenhower. Now her department is being pressed to restore another food protection program and it will be interesting to see what, if anything, happens. This is the inspection of wheat for rodent and insect infestation, which was suspended in April.

The Food and Drug Administration started a drive to clean up grain and flour contamination several years ago. First, bakers and millers were persuaded to crack down on infestation in their plants. But when it became necessary to reach back to the sources of supply, and when wheat began to be seized for contamination, the program ran into strong opposition from the grain belt.

The Millers' National Federation is urging resumption of the cleanup drive, and deserves commendation for that effort. Secretary Hobby promises that a committee will be formed to investigate. Rats and weevils in wheat are no more conducive to the public health than arsenic on apples, and Secretary Hobby might quite justifiably renew the war on them.

Slowing the School Spigot

Gov. Donnelly was wise to veto the bonus appropriation of $9,250,000 granted to the public schools by the Legislature in addition to the regular one third of the state's general revenue, estimated for the biennium as $82,380,000.

He evoked a loud outcry from the school lobby, perhaps the most quietly influential in Jefferson City. And the lobby may have an effective argument in the 1932 constitutional provision which holds that "the Governor shall not reduce any appropriation for free public schools." On this point, Gov. Donnelly contends that an outright veto of the bonus item does not constitute a reduction. Lawyers can go around on that for quite a while.

To us, the reason for upholding the veto is not so much a legal issue, nor is it a matter of budget-balancing as it is for the Governor. Actually, Missourians have long been spending a smaller share of their per capita income on public schools than the average of all states. They have also been spending less per pupil, ranking thirty-seventh among the states. This is a rank which surely should be raised.

The objection to the windfall appropriation is not its amount, but rather the way this money—and for that matter, the regular allocation—would be distributed. State school money is passed out on a political basis rather than in a way to produce the most and the best schooling for our young people.

So long as every school distirct, no matter how inefficient, is sure of state funds, there will not be as much consolidation of school districts and improvement of school facilities as there should be. The system also allows local communities, if they are so minded, to raise less than they should for their schools and to lean too heavily on Jefferson City.

This is an old story in Missouri. It was thoroughly exposed in the December, 1952, report of the Missouri Citizens Commission for the Study of Education, a non-political group which also made detailed recommendations for improving the financing of Missouri schools and for raising their standards. The Legislature, however, spurned these recommendations. Instead, the State Senate created the Hawkins committee, a purely political body, to go over the ground covered by the Citizens Commission. One looks to its findings with foreboding.

Perhaps the only way Missouri school finances can be rationalized—and the schools brought up to the standards of those of comparable states—is to cut down the flow from the Jefferson City spigot. A blank appropriation of one third of the state's revenues, supplemented in recent years by bonus appropriations, is not the way to get the most for every school dollar. Thus while Gov. Donnelly vetoed the $9,250,000 grant in his effort to balance the state budget, the action may nevertheless help to bring Missourians to a more effective way of supporting their schools.

Mountains, Values and Art

In the last few days we have overheard some rather snide remarks about the conquest of Everest. They came from the 100 per cent pragmatists around town, the characters who claim that nothing has any real value unless you can eat it, drink it, or sell it.

Maybe the Everest climb was worth while even by their standards, considering the thousands and thousands of words which have been sold to the newspapers and magazines, not to mention the books which undoubtedly will come along in due course—first at $3.50, then at 35 cents. But we do not want to argue this point. The glorious achievement already has paid off, and in a big way.

It has given the "deserted island" cartoonists a brand new idea. No longer must they pose their ragged man and woman under a palm tree and improvised flag of distress in the midst of an empty, empty sea—or, sometimes, with a steamer on the horizon.

These protagonists can now be stranded on an icy mountain ledge. The always sharp New Yorker, not given to overlooking good bets, already has the characters, the incredulous blonde and the male with that look in his eye, on the new location. The line is, "My goodness, Mr. Foster, what happened to all the others?" And as any island-cartoon fancier knows, this is only the beginning.

We have only one suggestion regarding these settings: Let's have the icy ledges during the summer and the tropic isles in overcoat weather.

Slight Case of Overlooking

The bones are rolling, the roulette wheels whirling and the blackjack games going in a big way across the Mississippi. The scarlet Hyde Park and 200 clubs are closed as tight as they were after Adlai E. Stevenson's famous swoop-down raid three years ago, but Club Prevue, near the Fairmount Park racetrack, is a plush successor in Madison county.

This new emporium of chance, formerly the Mounds Club, likes ties and coats on its gentlemen players. And if it has a choice it takes its ladies well-dressed and sparkling with jewelry. They show off to good advantage in a room cloaked with dark green drapes.

The entrepreneurs? Reports are that Frank (Buster) Wortman, who heads a branch of the Chicago crime syndicate, is a big backer. Others are said to be Tom Berry of Belleville and John P. Connor and Gregory (Red) Moore, who used to be at Hyde Park. The word has even gone around that a Madison county political leader is in on it.

Since Madison and St. Clair county officials seem to have missed noting this revival of commercialized gambling in their territories, we suggest that they now have a look at it. The responsible officials are:

MADISON COUNTY
Sheriff—James T. Callahan.
State's Attorney—Fred P. Schuman.
ST. CLAIR COUNTY
Sheriff—Edgar C. Lehman.
State's Attorney—Richard T. Carter.

If these local officials do not act promptly to enforce the law, it will be up to Gov. Stratton to use the State Highway Police. Some unlucky numbers are coming up and not just for the customers who stand three deep in their eagerness to do something that can't be done.

It Might Rub Off

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Beggar named Lazarus showed wealth would not buy Heaven, and script written by an Apostle Paul (identified with underground movements) called for brotherhood of men; others of this group opposed civil authority; so who will investigate?

From the Garden City (Kan.) Daily Telegram

One congressional investigation still in the cards I hope gets the full-scale treatment, complete with television.

That is in the nation's churches, and among our clergymen.

If McCarthy, Velde, et al, do the job right, they can't miss turning up the most explosive keg of un-American activity they have yet found, or even suspected.

I didn't say communistic activity, or even subversive. I said un-American. They won't find many Communists, simply because Communists have a religion of their own, with a hammer and sickle rather than a cross or star.

But just the other day I heard a fellow in church talking about a rich man and a beggar named Lazarus, and he would have us believe that the beggar came out better than the rich man! His argument, which was a flagrant, unpatriotic defiance of Horatio Alger and Hollywood, was that wealth is no guarantee of reaching heaven.

Now here's a quote straight from the script of some of these churches, written by an Apostle Paul, who has been identified with various underground movements: "God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth." UNESCO never did a better job of slapping Uncle Sam in the face.

At some of these places, you can hear whole groups of people who call themselves Christians recite: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt"—a blow at capitalism and the New York exchange; or "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity" — some more talk like Acheson used to spout in the sell-out.

Why, you can find things everywhere here that make a true, 200-per-cent American sick at heart—stuff like "love your enemies" (one bishop with a deceptive name like Sheean has actually been praying for those Russians!) "a house divided against a house falleth" (a slap at our political system); "there is joy in the presence of the angels over one sinner that repenteth" (an obvious effort to disparage majority rule.)

They ridicule constituted authority, as witness their criticisms of a military governor named Pilate; their Leader doesn't hesitate to talk to and receive sinners and unreliable people generally; they seem to be against what they call money-changers and arms makers and sometimes even lawyers; they would undermine American commerce by considering the lilies of the field.

As I said, a good bit of their stuff goes against the ideals that most Americans cherish, and they don't worship our real heroes, like J. P. Morgan and Marilyn Monroe.

So no one should question that the churches should be investigated, and soon. They don't seem to be in danger of taking over the country and running it according to their lights at the moment, but you never can tell.

And you never can tell, either, that some of this Christianity might even rub off on our Congressmen.

Sounds in the Night

From The Pleasant Hill Times

The sounds floating on the still air of a warm summer night in Pleasant Hill are not what they once were.

The insect chorus that sings to a wakeful man who has gone out of the house in search of a stray breeze at say, 3 a.m., is unchanged over the years. But if there were some local Rip Van Winkle to be awakened from long slumber, he would find all the rest unfamiliar.

Gone, of course, all the sounds of steam that once gave principal punctuation to a night like this. No chuffing or puffing from switching operations, no mournful whoo-whooo drifting across the countryside from a train whistling a crossing, no swinging lilt from a locomotive bell, not even the clank of grates being dumped by a hostler at the cinder pit or the long-drawn-out wheeze of a boiler giving the last of its pressure before going cold.

Instead, the railroad sounds are no better than those of an electric interurban, if as good. Four bleats of a raucous air horn for a backing train; the muffled rumble and rattle of a switching diesel, broken by the ding-ding-ding of its streetcar-like gong.

Our own Rip would be perplexed by other noises out of the night, too. A plane droning overhead, perhaps, and the whine of tires or screech of brakes from the highway. The steady mechanical rhythm of the municipal electric plant. A car radio passing on samples from some sleepy disc-jockey.

Rip, puzzling these sounds, would listen in vain for the rumble of a farm wagon or the clop-clop and rattle of horse and buggy, and ponder his place in time. Thoroughly confusing then would be the hoofbeats of 20 or so horses—but, if heard, this rare phenomenon could not mean Quantrill riding again. Only the saddle club on night maneuvers.

A Slight Difference on TVA

From The Louisville Courier-Journal

In our letters column, Thurman Sensing again takes up the cudgels against his old foe, the Tennessee Valley Authority. For Mr. Sensing, this is more than a labor of love. As executive vice president of the Southern States Industrial Council, he has long been a spokesman for reaction in general and private power interests in particular.

But we do wish that Mr. Sensing and his fellow-opponents of TVA would agree on the nature of their opposition. During House hearings on TVA's fiscal budget, Representatives Cotton, Phillips and Thomas flayed TVA for luring away from the North industries seeking its cheap power. But Mr. Sensing says that industry won't touch TVA territory with a 10-foot pole.

The rest of the nation, charged members of the House committee, has subsidized the Tennessee Valley's unprecedented prosperity by supporting TVA appropriations. Mr. Sensing, on the other hand, says that prosperity doesn't exist in the Tennessee valley.

The only remedy for this desperate situation, Mr. Sensing warns, is to return TVA to private enterprise. We could point out that private enterprise didn't own it in the first place, just as we might ask why, if TVA is such a hopeless mess, private enterprise would want it. But we are not sure where to begin in a defense of TVA. For it appears that TVA is damned if it does and damned if it doesn't. If it prospers, Congress threatens to cut its funds. If it doesn't, Mr. Sensing threatens to sell it.

Between Book Ends

The Constitution Revitalized

POLITICS AND THE CONSTITUTION IN THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES, by William Winslow Crosskey. (University of Chicago Press, 1410 pgs., 2 vols., $20.)

Judge Charles E. Clark in The Nation

Prof. Crosskey's new book on the Constitution is an exciting work. It is exciting for a reason as unique as it is admirable with respect to this type of book—namely, the intellectual punch it delivers. We are accustomed to stately works ringing the now accepted changes of reverence to the Constitution in its modern guise as fashioning a union of diverse, almost warring states.

Occasionally we do find specific criticism of the creaking governmental structure which results and some despairing hope for change in the direction of modern efficiency. But this opus is something quite different and beyond our experience. For it is a new history, the fruit of nearly two decades of patient research, which presents the direct challenge that the original plan and intent of the Constitution was the creation of a simply conceived national government.

William W. Crosskey

The feat of scholarship is perhaps the more remarkable when we come to see that the author's main thesis rests on an utterly simple approach: interpreting the letter of the great document primarily in accordance with eighteenth-century views of language, form and substance. Emerging fully as clear cut are his correlative and supporting theses. Of these, the two he singles out for the greatest stress are The National Power over Commerce and The National Judicial Powers.

We have a catalogue of all manner of usage in pre-convention days of the term "commerce," showing, indeed, its broad inclusiveness. The same process is employed as to the other terms of the constitutional grant over commerce, and the pre-constitution usage is supported by the contemporary discussions centering around the making of the Constitution and the notable debate which preceded its adoption in the states. This leads directly to the constitutional interpretation, in terms generally of strong governmental powers, which prevailed originally and which suffered a gradual decline to the weaker governmental entity we now know.

A similar demonstration leads to the conclusion that the original constitutional intent was to create a single national judicial system, with the Supreme Court at the apex of all courts, state and federal.

It is easy to see how revolutionary is Crosskey's thesis to an age accustomed to see the states successfully fighting the national government on all stages. For the ordinary reader and patriotic citizen, anxious for his government to exercise effective leadership in the global role now thrust upon it, Crosskey surely proves enough to require a fresh approach.

Were the making of the government to be done over, I can hardly believe that it would not be along lines Crosskey advocates as still the true ones.

World's Poorhouse Revisited

WORLD WITHOUT END, THE MIDDLE EAST, by Emil Lengyel. (John Day, 374 pgs., $4.50.)

Emil Lengyel, Hungarian-born writer and professor of education at New York University, has been a student of the Middle East all his life, and has visited this area, "the poorhouse of the world," a number of times.

He outlines the cultural, historical and geographical background influencing current upheavals in this strategic, oil-rich territory, which covers parts of three continents and is not only Arabic, but also Turkish, Iranian and Jewish.

MAKES DEBUT HERE AT LITTLE SYMPHONY

Guest Conductor Richard Bales Discerning as Director, Programmer.

By CHARLES MENEES

Richard Bales, musical director of the National Gallery of Arts, Washington, D.C., made his St. Louis debut last night, conducting the Little Symphony in its fifth and next-to-last concert of the season. Third of the summer's podium guests, Bales proved himself a discerning programmer as well as director. Actually, he was completely at home before an orchestra of this size, for he is conductor of the National Gallery Orchestra, whose dimensions match those of the Little Symphony.

The guest conductor, with podium mannerisms that were meaningful and without gymnastics, extracted a consistent orchestral balance and applied the proper urgency to all music played, with the possible exception of two movements of Beethoven's First Symphony.

The program, entirely interesting despite its conservatism, opened with Purcell's Trumpet Tune and Air, set in a bright tempo that fortunately retained an air of circumstance rather than pomp. The trumpet and oboe solos were well played. Mozart's Serenata Notturna for solo strings and timpani was also cleanly articulated.

Novelty of the evening was Bales's transcriptions of "Battle of Trenton," originally a piano sonata written by British-born James Hewitt in 1797 and dedicated to George Washington on his retirement from public life. The work, two allegro movements embracing an andante, describes, among other things, soldiers in movement, the Crossing of the Delaware, Hessians surrendering (a woodwind trio passage) and victory celebration, the latter preceded by a smattering of "Yankee Doodle." The audience of more than 1200 persons in Washington University Quadrangle captured the martial spirit of the music and applauded vigorously.

The crowd also evidenced more than ordinary delight for Benjamin Britten's "Soirees Musicales," whose gay tunes were borrowed from Rossini. Britten wrote the five movements originally for the Ballet Theater and Bales saw to it that the music's rhythmic pulse never faltered. This and the "Battle of Trenton" gave William Ehrlich probably the most strenuous workout ever to happen to a Little Symphony percussionist.

Some of the strength and bite in the Beethoven symphony were lost by rather loose tempi in the opening adagio and the finale. In the latter, following the slow opening bars, Bales took liberties with the allegro tempo rather than build tautness by means of a perpetual motion, unrelenting pace.

CITY'S REVENUES IN PAST QUARTER RISE $1,833,000

Municipal revenue receipts during the first quarter of the current fiscal year increased by $1,833,000 over receipts during the same period of the previous year, it was reported yesterday by Comptroller Milton Carpenter.

The city collected $5,172,000 during the first three months of the fiscal year compared with $3,339,000 in the like period in 1952. This year's receipts included $2,000,000 in earnings tax collections, however. Last year, there were no earnings tax receipts prior to September.

Ordinarily, heavy tax collections do not come in until late in the calendar year and the city operates on a deficit until those collections are made. Expenditures so far this year totaled $10,411,000 as compared with $9,953,000 during the first quarter last year.

The expenditures represent slightly more than 23 per cent of the $47,525,000 appropriated for the entire fiscal year.

22,273 INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT IN FACTORIES HERE

In the last year there has been a net increase of 22,273 in the number of people working in manufacturing plants in St. Louis and St. Louis county—an increase of more than 10 per cent—the State Division of Employment Security reported yesterday.

The rising trend has leveled off in recent weeks, however, due partly to seasonal factors such as the closing of some plants for vacations.

Substantial increases in employment occurred in the ordnance, aircraft and automobile industries. Paul P. Connole, St. Louis manager of the state agency, said other major durable goods industries showed a tendency toward stabilization or slight decline.

NATIONAL AUCTIONEERS HEAD

Walter Holford, Edwardsville, Ill., was elected president of the National Auctioneers Association yesterday at the group's annual convention at Columbus, O. H. W. Sigrist, Fort Wayne, Ind., and C. B. Drake, Decatur, Ill., were named vice presidents. B. G. Coats, Long Branch, N.J., became secretary and editor of the association's national publication.

Retired Doctor Dies at 101.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 18 (AP)—Dr. Levi E. Miley, retired Chicago physician who celebrated his 101st birthday last Feb. 25, died last night at a hospital here. A practicing physician 51 years until his retirement 11 years ago, Dr. Miley said recently that his recipe for a long life was this: "Just keep on breathing."

Actress Dead

MAUDE ADAMS

FAMOUS STAGE STAR MAUDE ADAMS DIES

Actress, 80, Remembered for Her Triumph in 'Peter Pan.'

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

TANNERSVILLE, N.Y., July 18—Maude Adams, one of America's great actresses and the creator of the on-stage "Peter Pan," died at her home on a farm near Tannersville yesterday at the age of 80. She had suffered from bronchitis and pleurisy earlier this year and had been in delicate health since.

Miss Adams was a contemporary of Ellen Terry, Mrs. Fiske, Ethel Barrymore, Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Julia Marlowe, but she surpassed them all with the extent of her following and the almost hysterical acclaim that she was somehow able to inspire.

She was a star at 24 and at 34 the richest and most admired actress in America.

Elfin Personality.

She was no beauty in the conventional sense, and critics contended that there was not a role she attempted that many other actresses of the period could not have done as well or better, but in her greatest triumphs—in the plays of Sir James M. Barrie, such as "Peter Pan," and as Lady Babbie in "The Little Minister"—she displayed a curiously elfin, elusive and virginal personality that endowed her performances with an auro of tremulous sweetness impossible to resist.

From 1892, when she flashed to fame as John Drew's leading lady in "The Masked Ball" until, in 1918, she fell ill at the close of "A Kiss for Cinderella," her fame was unmatched.

In retirement she worked for some years with the electrical wizard, Charles E. Steinmetz, at his Schenectady (N.Y.) laboratories and is credited with developing several stage lighting effects.

During the early '30s she appeared in some Shakespeare revivals. She played Portia at 59.

She again came out of retirement in 1937 to head the dramatics department at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., and she remained on the staff on a part-time basis until she reached the retirement age of 70 years.

She was born Nov. 11, 1872, in Salt Lake City and christened Maude Adams Kiskadden. Her father, James Kiskadden, was a banker who died when his daughter was 7. Her mother, Annie Adams Kiskadden, was leading lady of the resident stock company founded by Brigham Young.

Debut at 9 Months.

Maude made her theatrical debut at 9 months in a performance of "The Lost Child," and had her first speaking role four years later.

After many juvenile roles, she made her first New York appearance at 16 in "The Paymaster." She finally joined E. H. Sothern's company in 1889.

The turning point in her career came in 1890 when she received an offer from Charles Frohman and began an association that ended tragically in 1915 with his death on the Lusitania.

She made her debut under Frohman management in "Men and Women." and later became a leading woman in John Drew's company.

And so, after her first appearance with Drew in "The Masked Ball," Maude Adams awoke to find herself famous. A series of successes followed, among them "The Bauble Shop," "Christopher Jr.," "Rosemary," "Quality Street" and "What Every Woman Knows."

Miss Adams never was married.

FCC DROPS COMPLEX TV STATION PRIORITIES SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission is dropping its complex priority system for handling television applications in favor of a simpler one.

Instead of the six old classifications for competing applications, there will be two of equal standing. Eliminated are the separate categories for handling applications on VHF and UHF channels.

The new system is expected to become effective in about 40 days

For competing applications, on which hearings must be held, there are two categories:

A. Those in cities which have no TV station in actual operation.

B. Those in cities which have one or more operating stations (subdivided into groups based on the number of operating stations.) Thus, a large city with only one station would have priority over a city with two or more stations.

ST. LOUIS CHURCHMAN SERVES U.N. RELIEF

Reginald Helfferich Asks for Aid for Flood Victims in Japan.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

"The water's down—the needs are up."

This was the report from the Japan flood area by the Rev. Dr. Reginald H. Helfferich of St. Louis. He is in Japan on the second stop of a round-the-world trip to study and direct relief needs and operations. He is a member of a United Nations relief team.

The Rev. Dr. Helfferich is executive secretary of the Commission on World Service of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, with offices at 1724 Chouteau avenue. His commission last week cabled $1500 for emergency relief in the Kyushu flood.

In a cable from Tokyo to Church World Service, New York, he said, "Send immediately 200 bales bedding, 500 bales clothing, 1,000,000 vitamins, 30,000 pounds whole milk, 100,000 pounds skim milk."

C. W. S. reported that it was negotiating with the United States Commodity Credit Corporation for the release of 100,000 pounds skim milk from government surplus stocks for immediate shipment to Japan.

CROP has accepted the task of raising whole milk to meet the emergency in Japan.

In a report to his office in St. Louis, the Rev. Dr. Helfferich said: "Report from flood field, dead 640, injured 1600, missing 441. Homes completely destroyed 5000; partly 37,000. Homes flooded 346,000. People in dire need now 597,000. CARE contributes $10,000 worth of food and supplies."

The Rev. Dr. Helfferich, who left St. Louis at the end of June, visited Korea first. There he served with Sir Arthur Rucker, director general of United Nations Korean Reconstruction Agency.

In Korea he met Evangelical and Reformed chaplains and inspected the goat and chicken projects supported by his commission.

On his world tour he will visit Okinawa, Hong Kong, India, Pakistan, Palestine, Egypt, Greece, Yugoslavia, West Africa, and Germany. He expects to return home next Nov. 1.

In October the Rev. Helfferich will attend a conference in Geneva, Switzerland, of the World Council of Churches. This meeting will take up problems of relief in many parts of the world.

OLD LIEDERKRANZ HALL TO BE RAZED FOR HOUSING SITE

The old Liederkranz Hall, which brings back nostalgic memories of singing, music and beer-drinking in the traditional German gasthaus manner, soon will be razed to become the site of the new Joseph M. Darst housing project.

The St. Louis Housing Authority purchased the hall, located at the southeast corner of Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, last May for the project. It was built in 1880 by the Liederkranz (Song Circle) Society, which was organized in 1870. Most of the Liederkranz members then were from the Arion des Westens, another German singing society.

Dr. William G. Swekosky, a dentist who has a hobby of studying the history of old buildings, said the hall was "the gathering place for cultured Germans who liked singing and music and drank plenty of beer in the refreshment room." The singing society had 600 members by the time their own building was erected, he said.

Shortly after the turn of the century, the Liederkranz Society moved to another hall and now is at 2163 South Grand boulevard. The hall was sold in 1905 to the Brewery Workers Association of America. It was transferred to Beer Drivers and Stablemen Local 43 and was put into industrial use in 1920.

STRATTON SETS RECORD IN ILLINOIS FOR VETOING BILLS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 18 (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton has set a new record in Illinois for vetoing bills.

Stratton approved 798 bills sent him by the 1953 Legislature. He vetoed 136 in full and nullified seven in part.

Former Gov. Adlai Stevenson vetoed 134 bills in 1951. Stevenson also scratched out parts of seven bills.

MRS. EMMA BERBERICH DIES, FUNERAL SERVICES MONDAY

Mrs. Emma Berberich, wife of the late Matt Berberich, a south St. Louis tavern proprietor for many years, died today of infirmities at her home, 3938 Winnebago street. She was 80 years old.

Mrs. Berberich, the former Miss Emma Zeppenfeldt, was the aunt of William Berberich, whose delivery company distributes the Post-Dispatch. Her husband died in 1925.

Surviving is a brother, Victor Zeppenfeldt. Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Monday at Wacker-Helderle undertaking establishment, 3634 Gravois avenue. Burial will be in New St. Marcus Cemetery.

LUTHERAN YOUTHS MEET IN CHICAGO FOR CONVENTION

About 60 St. Louis Lutherans left for Chicago today to attend the 60th convention of the International Walther League which will open tomorrow. The league is the young people's organization of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The convention will open with a reunion of league alumni on the grounds of Concordia Teachers' College, River Forest, Ill. A pageant will be presented, and the United States Fifth Army band will play.

St. Louisans who will take part in the convention include the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnken, president of the Missouri Synod; the Rev. Dr. Lewis W. Spitz of Concordia Seminary, and the Rev. Dr. Clarence Peters, pastor of St. Luke Lutheran Church and chairman of the synodical board for young people's work.

Gerhard Schroth, former conductor of the St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra, will direct a choral concert at 8 p.m. Monday.

3 YOUNG COLLEGE STUDENTS TO TALK ABOUT VOCATIONS

Three young college men who expect to enter the Episcopal Church ministry will give their reasons at the 10 o'clock service tomorrow at St. Mark Episcopal Church, Clifton and Murdoch avenues.

They are Robert Morisseau, a student at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo., and a member of Christ Church Cathedral, St. Louis; Lee Schlothauer, University of Missouri, Columbia, member of St. John's Church, St. Louis, and James Riley, Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, Christ Church of St. Joseph, Mo.

The three students are members of a college group that is meeting for study every Sunday night this summer at the church. Half of the group are college students from St. Mark's parish and the rest are Episcopal Church students who are working this summer at Grace Hill House.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESS GROUPS WILL MEET

St. Louis Delegates Leave by Special Train for Yankee Stadium.

A special train of nine cars left Union Station yesterday afternoon carrying Jehovah's Witnesses to their international convention in New York. The meeting will be held in Yankee Stadium, tomorrow through the following Sunday.

The presiding minister of the group in St. Louis, Harold M. Pulver of 2640 Allen avenue, left on Thursday for New York. He will head the St. Louis delegation at the convention.

Pulver told the Post-Dispatch that more than 1000 Witnesses will attend the convention from the St. Louis area. There are nine groups in St. Louis and more than 1000 workers or missioners, he said.

About 125,000 Witnesses will attend the convention, Pulver estimated.

Jehovah's Witnesses, organized in this country in 1878, are well known for their street sales of the group's publication The Watchtower. Published in Brooklyn, N.Y., more than 2,000,000 copies are sold every year, according to Pulver.

The international body takes no official stand on pacifism, but most male Witnesses refuse to do combat service in war, Pulver explained.

"Jehovah's Witnesses report an increase every year of about 20 per cent in the number of persons preaching our faith," he said. "We expect to baptize several thousand persons at this convention.

"Jehovah's Witnesses are coming to Yankee Stadium from every state in the union and nearly 100 foreign countries. Chartered planes will carry delegates from Africa, Europe and Latin America. There will be large delegations from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Asia. Some 18,000 delegates are expected from Canada."

PASTOR SPEAKS IN CANADA

The Rev. Holland B. London, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, 3965 St. Louis avenue, has been speaking this week at a district camp meeting at Calgary, Alberta, Canada. His speaking engagements there were from Monday through tomorrow.

The Rev. Mr. London's pulpit here will be filled tomorrow by his father, the Rev. Dr. A. S. London, of Oklahoma City, Okla., a national Sunday school evangelist of the Church of the Nazarene.

Americans Think More About The Here Than the Hereafter

Most Adults Believe They 'Should Be More Serious' About Life After Death, Survey Shows.

Most Americans think they should be more serious about preparing for the next life than about living comfortably now. But only a few of them are really doing it.

This is the conclusion of George Peabody Jr. of the Catholic Digest, New York. His report on "What Americans think of life: Here and Hereafter" was carried in a recent number of Digest.

Adults in all three major religious groups, Catholic, Protestant, Jew, were asked: "What do you think you should be more serious about: trying to live comfortably, or preparing for a life after death?"

A total of 51 per cent said they thought the hereafter should be their greatest concern; 23 per cent thought both were equally important, and 22 per cent felt the immediate problem of living comfortably most important. Only 4 per cent could not decide.

Among Protestants, Baptists showed the highest percentage (68) of concern with the next life, and Episcopalians the least (25 per cent).

When asked how their practice measured up to their belief, "Americans revealed a considerable discrepancy," Peabody reports. Taking the answers of all religious groups, 46 per cent admit that most of their energies are devoted to living well in this life. Only 21 per cent thought they were chiefly concerned with preparing for the next life. Some 30 per cent said they "gave equal emphasis to both."

Broken down by religion, 39 per cent of Catholics, 45 per cent of Protestants, and 84 per cent of Jews felt they actually are more serious about the here than the hereafter.

The nation-wide survey was made by an independent opinion research firm, sponsored by the Catholic Digest.

RUTH GAUVAIN RESIGNS KINGDOM HOUSE ADULT POST

Miss Ruth I. Gauvain has resigned as director of adult work at Kingdom House, 1102 Morrison avenue, where she has served for seven years. The settlement house, founded in 1902, is sponsored by the Methodist Church.

Miss Gauvain was honored by the directors and patrons of Kingdom House at a luncheon Thursday at the Saum Hotel. She was given a purse and other gifts. Mrs. Walter J. Lee, a member of the board of directors, presided. Tributes to Miss Gauvain's services were paid by the Rev. Dr. Herman H. Luetzow, superintendent of the St. Louis district of the Methodist Church, Edward H. Hudson, executive director of Kingdom House, and women volunteer workers.

Miss Gauvain lives at 1938A Dodier street.

CARMELITE NOVENA WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

Bishop Helmsing to Give Papal Blessing at Final Outdoor Devotions.

The Most Rev. Charles H. Helmsing, auxiliary bishop of St. Louis, will give the papal blessing at the closing service tomorrow night of the Carmelite novena. The service at the Monastery, 9150 Clayton road, will begin at 8 p.m.

The choir of the Santa Cruz Council, Knights of Columbus, will sing under the direction of J. R. Signorelli.

The Rev. Patrick J. Holloran, S.J., former president of St. Louis University, will give his final sermon on the Beatitudes; he has been the preacher for the novena series.

At the novena service tonight, Benediction will be celebrated by the Rev. Joseph Pelley, M. S. F., chaplain of the Carmelite Monastery. The Brothers of Mary choir of Chaminade College will be directed by the Rev. Lawrence Jordan, S. M.

Each night during the novena (nine days of prayer), when the service is over and the lights in the monastery garden are out, hundreds of votive lights flicker in the darkness after everyone has left. Each year, hundreds of these votive lights burn for eight days after the closing of the devotions. They are left by the worshippers who have attended the novena.

The nine-day votive lights are placed both on the monastery grounds and within the cloister.

Non-Catholics, as well as Catholics from many parishes, are attending the annual outdoor novena in honor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel.

BROOKLYN, July 18—Capt. Enos Slaughter, smashing a double in the first inning and single in the third, reached the 2000 hit total in a colorful major league career as the Cardinals tried to salvage the final game of their series with the league-leading Dodgers here this afternoon.

Slaughter's 1999th safety helped the Redbirds take a 2-0 first-inning lead that lasted only until the Dodgers came to bat and scored two for themselves. But the Redbirds routed Russ Meyer in a rousing third inning and moved ahead again.

Joe Presko pitched for the Cardinals. Dick Sisler was at first base as Manager Eddie Stanky again rested slump-shackled Steve Bilko.

Paid attendance in steaming weather was estimated at only 6500.

Barlick, Gore, Jackowski and Ballantange were the umpires.

FIRST INNING — CARDINALS—Hemus flied to Robinson. Schoendienst singled to center. Musial singled to right, Schoendienst stopping at second. Slaughter doubled to right-center, scoring Schoendienst, Musial stopping at third. Jablonski flied deep to Snider, Musial scoring and Slaughter taking third. Sisler went out, Hodges to Meyer, who covered first. TWO RUNS.

DODGERS — Gilliam fouled to Musial. Reese singled to center. Snider singled to right. Reese stopping at second. Robinson flied to Repulski. Hodges singled to center, scoring Reese, Snider stopping at second., Campanella singled to left, scoring Snider with the tying run and sending Hodges to third. Furillo struck out. TWO RUNS.

SECOND—CARDINALS—Repulski fouled to Robinson. Rice singled to left. Presko hit into a double play, Meyer to Reese to Hodges.

DODGERS—Cox beat out a hit to deep short. Meyer bunted foul on the third strike and Presko was credited with a strikeout. Gilliam grounded to Sisler, who stepped on first and then threw to second, where Hemus dropped the ball for an error as Cox slid in. Reese walked. Snider beat out a hit to Schoendienst behind second, filling the bases. Robinson flied to Musial.

THIRD — CARDINALS — Hemus tapped to Meyer. Schoendienst walked. Musial singled, Schoendienst stopping at second. Slaughter's single to right was the 2000th hit of his major league career, scoring Schoendienst and sending Musial to third. Hughes replaced Meyer on the mound for the Dodgers. Jablonski singled to left, scoring Musial and when Robinson missed the ball for an error, Slaughter also scored and Jablonski reached third. Sisler singled to center, scoring Jablonski. Repulski singled to left, Sisler stopping at second. Rice singled off Hughes's bare hand, filling the bases. Presko grounded to Cox, whose throw to Campanella forced Sisler at the plate. Hemus flied deep to Furillo. FOUR RUNS.

President's Brother Too Busy to Defend Golf Tourney Title

TACOMA, Wash., July 18 (AP)—Ed Eisenhower, a member of one of the country's better known golfing families, saw his links title pass to other hands yesterday because he was too busy to defend it.

Roger Peck of Tacoma succeeded his fellow townsman as Washington State Seniors' Golf Association champion by beating William Barclay, also of Tacoma, 3 and 2.

Eisenhower, an attorney and brother of the President, won the title in four of five previous tourneys. He was unable to compete this year because he had to appear in court on an important case.

Muha Quits Job as U.S.C. Assistant Coach

LOS ANGELES, July 18 (AP)—Joe Muha, assistant backfield coach at the University of Southern California, said he had resigned and plans to go into private business in Southern California.

Muha was a former fullback star for the Philadelphia Eagles in the National Football League, after schooling at Virginia Military Institute. He said his resignation was accepted "with regret" by Head Coach Jess Hill.

Muha, who spent two years at U.S.C., plans to continue residence in Southern California.

Player's Leg Broken Third Time in 3 Years

SCRANTON, Pa., July 18 (AP)—Scranton of the Class A eastern baseball league has lost Third Baseman Leroy Dietzel for the season. His leg was broken in a collision Thursday with Billy Herrell in a game against Reading.

It was the third time in as many seasons that the 27-year-old infielder's leg has been broken. He departed for his home in Baltimore after the leg was set in a cast.

End of a Triple Play

DON LENHARDT, Brownie outfielder, was the last out of a triple play turned by the Yankees. CLINT COURTNEY (11) lined to Irv Noren in center field. He threw to Phil Rizzuto, shortstop, who tagged Vic Wertz between second and third and then threw to DON BOLLWEG, Yankee first baseman, who touched the bag to get Lenhardt.

BIRDS PLASTERED BY 14-0 AND 7-4 IN NIGHT TWIN BILL

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BROOKLYN, July 18—The Cardinal losing streak reached five straight setbacks when the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers swept both ends of last night's doubleheader here, 14-0 and 7-4.

The National League champions scored the season's largest shutout victory behind the seven-hit pitching of Johnny Podres. And they turned to dazzling defense as well as the long ball in the second contest as Jackie Robinson smashed two home runs and Junior Gilliam one.

The first game was over before a 29,793 crowd could settle down for a hot and lengthy evening's entertainment. Brooklyn scored seven runs in the first inning without benefit of a homer against either Vinegar Bend Mizell or Hal White and then depended on circuit smashes to pad the lead thereafter. Billy Cox hammered a grand-slam off Eddie Erautt, who also served Gil Hodges his twentieth drive.

The boxscore of the second game shows that the Dodgers committed three errors, two by Carl Erskine, who still managed to score his eighth victory even though he gave up nine hits, including three singles to Rip Repulski and a triple and homer to Hemus. If the official scorer was harsh on Brooklyn defensively, it was only because he has come to expect so much of the fielding fools from Flatbush.

Del Rice returned to duty only eight days after suffering a chipped right thumb and nearly wound up in a fight with Robinson in the fourth inning of the second game. . . . As they jawed at the plate over Robinson's claim that a drive by Snider had gone into the stands instead of hitting the wall, Stanky finally tore out of the dugout, separated the angry athletes and then blasted Ballanfant for not having interceded earlier. . . . Podres's complete game was his first in eight major league starts while Mizell was kayoed in the first inning for the first time in his two-season career in the big time.

Packer Signs.

GREEN BAY, Wisc., July 18 (AP) — John Martinkovic, the Green Bay Packers' defensive scoring ace who made two touchdowns last season by recovering blocked punts, has signed for the 1953 National football season. The 235-pound end from Hamilton, O., was the fifty-fifth player signed by the Packers for the coming campaign.

Scotland Yard Hunting Gang In Race Bet Swindle Attempt

BATH, England, July 18 (UP)—Scotland Yard moved in today on the hunt for a racetrack gang which tried to swindle bookies of at least $280,000 by burning telephone wires here just before a swift French horse romped home an easy winner Thursday.

Police laboratory tests confirmed that the race course wires were sabotaged with a blowtorch. Witnesses were found who said they saw two men, posing as repairmen, do the job in broad daylight atop a 20-foot ladder 30 minutes before the race.

The winning horse was Francasal, a mysterious French entry which easily outdistanced a field of 17 to win at odds of 10 to 1—and later disappeared. A truck arrived after the race and picked up the horse. Neither Francasal nor the owner could be found today.

Artifical 10-1 Odds.

Officials did not dispute the victory. The British Jockey Club said it was a legitimate victory by a superior horse. But bookmakers, swamped with last-minute bets on the winners, faced staggering losses because the sabotaged wires made it impossible to relay the bets to the course.

At the artificial 10 to 1 odds, the total payoff was estimated at between 100,000 and 250,000 pounds ($280,000 to $700,000). Normal telephone communication with the track would have cut the odds to 3 to 1 or less, the bookies said.

The National Sporting League, key bookmakers organization, told its members to suspend payment on the winner until the cause of the line failure was established. Many bookies faced bankruptcy if forced to pay.

Scotland Yard Enters Case.

Scotland Yard detectives arrived here last night to collect evidence. Witnesses reported seeing two men dressed as post office engineers working on the telephone wires Thursday in full view of hundreds of race-goers streaming toward the course. Their work finished, the "repair men" calmly loaded their ladder into a truck and drove off, it was said.

Off-track bookies were flooded for the next 30 minutes with wagers on Francasal. Frantic, they tried vainly to telephone colleagues at the track to share the bets and reduce the odds.

Trainers who handled Francasal said they had never met its owner, identified as "Maurice Williams."

Trainer Percy Bailey said the owner telephoned him Sunday and said "he had a horse coming over from France for the race at Bath and he would like me to look after it. I had never heard of Mr. Williams before. But there is nothing unusual about that, because we just take the horses—and the owners—as they come."

Mele on Hit Streak.

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP) — Outfielder Sam Mele of the Chicago White Sox isn't batting quite .300 but he has the best consecutive hit-streak among the surging Pale Hose. Mele, currently batting .293, got one hit in last night's Sox-Washington game to run his streak to 20 straight games, one of the league's best this season.

Trucks Wins Sixth Straight Victory Since Going From Browns to the White Sox

NEW YORK, July 18 (UP)—Virgil (Fire) Trucks is clanging along as if he is heading for a five-alarm blaze and the old White Sox righthander may wind up winning more games than at any time in his major league career.

Trucks, whose White Sox teammates are just as hot as he, pitched them to their seventh straight victory, 4-1, over Washingon last night with a three-hitter. It was his eleventh victory of the year and his sixth straight since he went to Chicago on June 13 from the Browns. He has lost only four.

The Birmingham (Ala.) blazeball hurler, isn't as fast as in his heyday with Detroit but he still could top his best winning year in the majors when he chalked up 19 victories with the 1949 Tigers. After that he hurt his arm and only last year began to regain his effectiveness. Now, with enough rest, he is terrific.

League's Strikeout Leader.

Last night as Minnie Minoso set him up with enough help to win with a two-run fourth inning homer, Trucks struck out six, walked none, and missed a shutout only on Ed Yost's seventh homer. The strikeouts brought his total to 90, highest in the American League.

The White Sox, who have won 28 of their last 34 games, stayed four games behind the Yankees who made a triple play and four double plays in a 6-4 victory over the Browns.

In the National League, the Dodgers stretched their lead to three games by defeating the Cardinals 14-0 and 7-4 while Milwaukee topped Pittsburgh, 8-2. Cincinnati snapped Philadelphia's seven-game winning streak, 3-2. The Giants and Cubs had an open date. In other American League games Cleveland topped Philadelphia, 5-0, and Boston edged Detroit, 3-2.

Simmons Loses in Duel.

Harry Perkowski, with relief help from Clyde King, edged Curt Simmons in a duel at Philadelphia. Perkowski also doubled and scored the winning run on a single by Bob Adams for his seventh triumph.

Warren Spahn evened the score for losing on two hits the last time he faced Pittsburgh, winning his twelfth of the year and his fourth in a row with an easy four-hitter in which he struck out nine. Johnny Logan hit a Milwaukee homer and Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews each drove in two runs.

Luke Easter and Larry Doby hit homers and Bob Lemon pitched five-hit ball for his twelfth victory at Cleveland. Easter's homer came with two on and sacked Bobby Shantz with his fifth straight defeat.

The Red Sox cashed in on Detroit errors which produced two unearned runs in a triumph for Hector Brown, his ninth of the year.

Canada Needs One Victory in Davis Cup Play

MONTREAL, July 18 (UP)—Canada was expected to defeat Mexico in the doubles play today and clinch the victory in the first round of the North American Zone Davis Cup eliminations.

The Canadians took a commanding 2-0 lead yesterday when Henry Rochon of Montreal beat Mario Llamas, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, and Lorne Main downed Pancho Contreras, 9-11, 8-6, 6-3, 8-6.

The matches were played under a blazing sun that sent the mercury up to the 90-mark and made Main sick from fatigue during the 10-minute intermission following the third set. Although visibly weakened, Main managed to clinch the match with an 8-6 victory in the fourth set, thus earning a tremendous ovation from the crowd.

Mangrum Has 142 in French Play--6 Off Pace

VERSAILLES, France, July 18 (UP)—Australia's H. O. (Ossie) Pickworth had a two-stroke lead over the field at the end of the second round of the French International Open golf championship.

Of a starting field of 48 players, 31 qualified with 36-hole scores of 156 or better for the final two rounds.

Pickworth carded 69 and 67 for a total of 136.

Two strokes behind him came British Professional Max Faulkner with two rounds of 69 for an aggregate of 138. Italy's A. Angelini and Frenchman Jean Baptiste Ado each carded 72 and 69 for totals of 141.

At 142 were Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., with 72 and 70; Bobby Locke, South Africa, with 69 and 73, and Henri De Lamaze with a pair of 71 scores. De Lamaze is the leading amateur in the tourney.

Yankees Beat Browns, But Need Triple Play And 4 Double Plays

By Dent McSkimming

Maybe all the Yankees need is to be challenged.

Jealous of their position as the American League's leading producer of double plays, the Yanks probably were shocked when the lowly Browns tied them in that specialty Thursday when each team reached the 103 mark.

So, last night at Busch Stadium Casey Stengel's lads turned four double plays and topped off the evening's spectacular fielding with a triple play.

Rather, the triple play came first—in the second inning, to set the pattern for the evening.

These multiple killings explain in great measure why rookie Lefthander Art Schallock was not more seriously hurt by Brownie bats in his four and one-third innings' work. With help from Allie Reynolds who himself was routed in the ninth, the Yanks stood off the St. Louis thrusts for a 6 to 4 victory.

This afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, the same teams conclude their series. Trying to get an even break in the four-game set, Manager Marty Marion has named strong-armed Don Larsen as his pitcher. New York is expected to use Jim McDonald, former Brownie.

Yogie Drives in Four Runs.

Yogie Berra, who revels in showing the home town folk what a star he is, batted in four of the Yankees runs as they hung an eighth defeat on Dick Littlefield. Even without the famous Mickey Mantle and his leftfield partner, Gene Woodling, the Yanks came up with power when it was needed. With Gil McDougald getting on base four times with a triple, a double, a single and a walk, all Berra had to do was drive him home.

Mantle was resting his injured left leg and his understudy, Irv Noren had a great night.

In addition to his two hits and two runs, it was Noren who started the triple play that saved young Schallock in the second inning.

Vic Wertz was on second and Don Lenhardt on first by reason of walks with none out. Clint Courtney's drive to center field was low and hard. It looked so much like a base hit that Wertz was well past third base when Noren, coming in fast, made a diving catch. His throw to Phil Rizzuto had Wertz doubled easily, but Rizzuto had to hurry his throw to Don Bollweg to beat Lenhardt's retreat to first.

It was the second triple play of the current season. Noren figured in the other one, too. He hit a line drive at pitcher Bob Porterfield to start one on May 26.

Sain Stops Browns in Ninth.

Schallock broke a tantalizing curve over the plate and allowed only one hit in four innings, a scratch single by Johnny Groth. He was leading 5 to 0 when, in the fifth, Lenhardt opened with a double and Courtney singled him to third. Jim Dyck fanned but when Schallock gave Bobby Young a walk, filling the bases, Manager Stengel changed pitchers. He selected Reynolds as his stopper, but The Chief disappointed. He walked Pinch-batter Hank Edwards, forcing Lenhardt in with the Browns' first run. But the double play boys pulled him out, too, to end the inning.

Before it was over, Reynolds had almost dissipated that five-run lead and Stengel had to call in Johnny Sain to get the Browns out in the ninth.

Mike Blyzka handled his relief assignment very well, allowing only two hits and one run in four innings, but Littlefield had already given up the big five runs. Dick yielded four doubles, a triple and four singles in five innings.

Hank Bauer, also playing before home folks, was an object lesson in how right field should be covered. . . . His speed and eagerness enabled him to hold Lenhardt's drive to center field wall to a double in the fifth.

Bobo Holloman got into the box score as a pitcher although he didn't face a batter officially. . . . He relieved Littlefield in the fifth with two out and Berra on first. When Yogi died stealing, the inning ended and before the next one started, Holloman had been replaced by a pinch batter. . . . Reynolds has worked in relief 16 times and the Yanks have been winners in 15 of those games.

For the second game in succession, the Browns failed to get a home run but Pinch-hitter Dick Kokos came mighty close with his ninth-inning double. In that round Dyck singled, Young walked, Kokos doubled and Sievers singled for a three-run harvest that knocked Reynolds out.

Gardenville in Legion Play-Offs

Mo. Pac. Nine To Be Met On Tuesday

Gardenville-Affton had to do it the hard way but the team finally made the city play-offs in American Legion junior baseball.

A three-run rally in the seventh inning last night at Cherokee Park enabled Gardenville to break a 3-3 tie and gain a 6-3 victory over Anheuser-Busch post. Gardenville Pitcher Jim Paxton allowed eight hits.

By winning the championship in the Walter Menzie League, Gardenville qualified to meet Missouri Pacific Tuesday at 5:45 p.m. at Cherokee Park in the next round of competition that will lead to the national finals at Miami, Fla. in September.

Gardenville finished in a three-way tie with 138th Infantry and Anheuser-Busch in the league race. Gardenville eliminated 138th Tuesday, then played an 8-8 tie with the Anheusers Thursday.

Ronnie Paul's double, his first of three hits, drove in two of Gardenville's three runs in the first inning. Sonny Seiber singled home two of the three tallies in the seventh.

Shortstop Tom Julius and Left Fielder Bob Balzer both made outstanding catches to protect the victory for Paxton.

Jackson Has Good Chance To Play in Cup Matches

By Robert Morrison

Jimmy Jackson's chances of getting into action in the Walker Cup matches are good, the U.S.G.A.'s Joe Dey indicated at a testimonial dinner for Jackson last night at Hotel Chase.

Jackson is one of 10 men on the American team that will oppose the British in four foursome matches and eight singles matches at Marion, Mass., Sept. 4-5 It is possible to play with only eight men on a side.

But Dey, explaining the Walker Cup setup to a crowd of about 170 of the district's golfers, said that team captains always try to use all the men on their team.

"The captain (Charley Yates for the United States) picks the players the day before the foursomes and the singles, and if all the men are playing reasonably well, they are likely to be used," said Dey.

Jackson, along with the rest of the Walker Cuppers, will report on the scene of the Cup matches about a week ahead of time. The other members of the American team are Harvie Ward, Charley Coe, Don Cherry, Gene Littler, Ken Venturi, Bill Campbell, Dick Chapman, Sam Urzetta and Jack Westland.

Reasons for Selections.

Dey, who is executive director of the U.S.G.A., remarked that he had been asked recently why certain players had been left off the team. It was obviously a reference to the still unexplained by-passing of Frank Stranahan.

He didn't answer that question, but he listed the three points on which selection is made—merit as a player over a considerable period, sportsmanship and general ability to represent the country in an international relationship, and unquestioned status as an amateur.

"On the basis of these, I give you Jimmy Jackson," said Dey.

Originally, he explained, 47 players were considered for the Walker Cup team. The U.S.G.A. executive committee ballots to determine the makeup of the team.

"Some were not picked," said Dey, "because — like Adlai Stevenson—they just didn't get enough votes."

First St. Louisan.

Jackson is St. Louis's first Walker Cup player since the series was inaugurated, unofficially, in 1921. The Walker Cup — actually its name is the U.S.G.A. International Challenge Trophy—was established by a one-time St. Louisan, the late George Herbert Walker, who originally planned an international challenge series after the pattern of the Davis Cup.

"It didn't work out that way because there weren't enough good golfers from countries other than Britain," Dey said.

Formally played 13 times, the matches have been won by the United States 12 times.

Haas Shoots 64, Leads by Two At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18 (UP)—Sixty low-score golfers took out after Freddie Haas today in an effort to catch the long, lean man from New Orleans whose 36-hole score of 132 led the pack at the halfway point in the St. Paul Open golf tournament.

Hass, using a red-headed putter to sink seven birdies and one eagle in yesterday's eight-under par 64, was two strokes better than his closest competitor, Ted Rhodes of Chicago. Rhodes had a share of the first day's lead, but came in with a second-round 68 for a 36-hole aggregate of 134.

Haas switched to the red-colored putter a few weeks ago and he credited it with his sensational round.

The field was cut to the low 60 golfers for today's 18-hole round. Another 18 holes tomorrow will wind up the tournament.

Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City shot the second best round yesterday with a 65, good enough to land him third place at the halfway turn with 135. Pre-tournament favorite Sam Snead had a 66 after his disappointing even-par 72 Thursday. That left him bunched at 138 with five other pros.

Wally Ulrich of Austin, Minn., and Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., who shared the first-round lead with Rhodes, each turned in to the final 36 with 137 totals. Ulrich shot a 69 Friday, while Clark faded to a 71.

Mal Whitfield Betters World Record for 880

TURKU, Finland, July 18 (UP)—Mal Whitfield bettered the world record for the 880-yard yesterday when he ran the distance in 1:48.6 in the final meet of the United States track and field tour.

Second was Wes Santee of Kansas in 1:48.9, also better than the old world record.

Whitfield's mark was six-tenths of a second faster than the old mark of 1:49.2, which he shared with Sidney Wooderson of England. Wooderson had set the old record at London in 1938 and Whitfield tied it at Berea, O., in 1950.

Calumet Entry Choice in Rich Race on Coast

INGLEWOOD, Calif., July 18 (AP)—The Hollywood Turf Club hung up its third and last $100,000 prize of the 1953 season today, and Calumet farm was the betting choice to win it.

Calumet entered a triple threat in the treasure hunt, the Sunset Handicap at a mile and five-eighths, shooting with Fleet Bird, A Gleam and Dixie Lad.

Named against the Calumets were a couple of threats, some old reliables and a few which a week ago ran in a supporting attraction to the main event, the $100,000 Gold Cup Handicap.

Generally conceded to be the next best bet to the Calumet entry were C. H. Jones and sons 6-year-old Lights Up and the King Ranch's 3-year-old, Rejected.

Rounding out the field were Stormy Cloud, Goose Khal, Endorser, Endowment, Nearque II and Hull Down.

Tucker Text: Building Strike Is Public Calamity

Text of Mayor Raymond R. Tucker's statement yesterday on the truck strike:

I AM making this statement for one reason—the matter it deals with is a public matter.

The construction industry in the St. Louis area is an essential prop under the prosperity and economic well-being of our community. Most of this industry has been shut down since May 19, a total of 58 days.

The strike that caused this shutdown is no longer the exclusive concern of either the men who are striking or the men they are striking against.

So costly has their strike become to our community that it is, clearly, not a private affair. It is a public affair. It is a situation that I, as the mayor of St. Louis, cannot ignore.

The welfare of thousands of St. Louisans is involved. Every additional day that this strike drags on brings more inconvenience and hardship to more people.

So this is a public statement to the public. I am making it because public opinion seems to be the last hope. It is the only tool left with which, perhaps, we can shape a fair and reasonable formula for settlement.

Some Facts on Strike.

First, let me briefly review some facts about this strike, and its effects on our community:

The number of men and companies involved is not large. Management in this case consists of the owners of companies that sell sand, gravel and ready-mixed concrete. There are 35 such companies in the Ready Mix Material Dealers Association, the management group.

Labor, the striking union, is Local 682 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America. This local represents the men who drive trucks for the companies that make up the Material Dealers Association. About 550 such drivers are on strike.

When this strike began May 19, the Teamsters Union also struck against four other employer groups in the construction field. The union has since settled its dispute with three of them—the lumber dealers, the Associated General Contractors and the Greater St. Louis Quarrymen's Association. The union is still on strike against the Home Builders Association.

However, no visible efforts are being made at present to settle the Home Builders dispute. The key to the entire situation apparently is the disagreement between the Ready Mix Material Dealers and the Teamsters Union. Obviously, there can be little building without a supply of concrete. Until the concrete strike is settled, the construction industry in St. Louis will not function.

Effects of Strike.

But the number of men who are directly involved in this strike furnishes no measure of its cost.

Both sides admit this in written statements of their positions submitted to me yesterday. The Teamsters Union refers to the "great economic loss being suffered by the community" and to the "hardships being imposed on thousands of other workmen." The Ready Mix Dealers remark that our community "will be years in writing off the loss sustained through the current strike."

But the attitude of both sides during two weeks of negotiation meetings in my office makes me wonder if they really realize what their strike is doing to St. Louis, and to the people of St. Louis.

Let me tell you what it has done to our construction workmen and our construction companies.

There are about 27,000 construction workmen—bricklayers, carpenters, cement finishers, hoisting engineers and so on—in this area. Thousands of them are out of work. This is their busiest, most profitable season of the year. But the jobs they would normally be working on are closed. No concrete.

Temporary Jobs or Relief.

Some have found temporary jobs to tide them over. Many have not. They are living today on unemployment compensation. This is starvation fare compared to the wages they could and should be earning except for a management-labor dispute that is not of their making. The striking drivers are receiving $10 a week more in strike benefits paid by their union than the jobless construction workers, who are not involved in the dispute, are receiving in unemployment compensation.

There are varying estimates of how much these men have lost in wages in the last 58 days of forced unemployment. The total loss of the construction workmen group has been placed at anywhere from $13,000,000 to $23,000,000. Translate that statistic into everyday living for the man next door. It means bills piling up, savings exhausted. It means a sudden, painful drop in the personal standard of living of thousands of St. Louis families.

Then, consider the effect of this strike on the hundreds of contractors and subcontractors in this area. The best estimate is that this strike stopped work on $75,000,000 worth of new building.

Just as the construction workmen are suffering, so are the contractors. Their expensive machines are idle while their overhead expenses go on.

For most of them, too, this is a dispute not of their making. They are unfortunate bystanders. It has been estimated that the contractors and subcontractors who are shut down by this strike have lost a total amount of somewhere between $40,000,000 and $45,000,000. This strike has pushed some to the edge of bankruptcy. If it goes on any longer, it will push them over.

Finally, consider the effect of this strike on the rest of the people in our community—on all of us. Take the sharp drop in the construction worker payroll. Those workers spend their money here. That money usually changes hands five times before it is absorbed by taxes. Most of it changes hands in our area. Leading economists have told me that our community—our retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers and so on—has lost perhaps $100,000,000 or more worth of business.

Homes, Schools, Hospitals.

And what about the people who have ordered houses that are not being built because of this strike? What about the people who cannot get essential repairs and rehabilitation work done on their homes because of this strike? What about new hospitals and new schools we need so desperately that are not being built because of this strike? What about vital public projects like low-income housing and the Third Street Highway south of Poplar street that are being held up because of this strike? What about the many commercial and industrial buildings that are not being built because of this strike?

These things cost all of us, and they cost us dearly. We will feel the painful after-effects of this unhappy situation for years to come. It has, without question, slowed down the future progress of our city.

Now, what are the issues? Where do the two sides disagree?

When this strike began, the Ready Mix Dealers offered their drivers a wage increase of 7½ cents an hour. The Teamsters Union asked for 25 cents an hour plus various "fringe concessions." These fringes included longer vacations, etc.

Differences Narrowed.

The negotiations in my office did not end the strike, but they narrowed the differences between the two sides.

The Ready Mix Dealers have made a "final" offer to raise truck driver wages 10 cents an hour for the first year of their new contract, and another 10 cents for the second year. The Teamsters Union leaders now are willing to recommend to their members that they accept 12½ cents an hour for the first year, plus 7½ cents on top of that for the second year.

In other words, both sides have agreed that the wage increase for the drivers during the second year of their new contract will be 20 cents an hour. But the union wants 2½ cents an hour more than the employers are willing to pay during the first year. (Before this strike, the drivers earned from $1.70 to $2.12 an hour.)

The wage issue that keeps the two sides from ending this strike is one that involves only 2½ cents per driver per hour for the first year only, or $1 a week per driver.

But there is more than wages to this.

The Teamsters Union has made a number of fringe demands. The union is asking for six paid holidays a year, for a second week of paid vacation after a driver has worked three years for one employer, for a guarantee of four hours work for employes called to work after lunch, for protective clothing and heated locker rooms for the drivers, and for $1 a week per driver for hospitalization and insurance.

Fringe Demands Rejected.

The Ready Mix Dealers refuse to grant any of these fringe demands. They estimate that the Teamsters Union requests for holiday pay, vacation pay and a hospitalization - insurance fund would cost them an additional 11½ cents an hour per driver.

Or, they say, the wage and the three major fringe increases asked by the union total 24 cents an hour for the first year of the contract, with 7½ cents added to that for the second year. The total wage and fringe increase for the second year over present rates would be 31½ cents an hour. The teamsters did not estimate the extra cost of their fringe demands in their final statement.

The total wage-fringe increase asked by the teamsters compares with the Ready Mix Dealers "final" offer of 10 cents over present driver rates for the first year of their contract, and 20 cents over present rates for the second year of their contract.

No one has been able to exactly estimate the additional cost of the four-hour guarantee in the afternoon. But management claims this would be the most costly of the fringe increases.

Owner-Operator Issue.

There is one other dividing factor: the status of the so-called "owner-operators." These are Teamsters Union members, each of whom owns one sand and gravel truck which he drives for the Ready Mix Dealers for a fee. In the past, these men have been treated as if they were in busines for themselves. The Teamsters Union wants to have them paid the contract wage scale for their labor, plus a separate rental fee for the use of their trucks.

At first, the Ready Mix Dealers refused to consider this. Near the end of the negotiations in my office, however, they offered to accept an owner-operator clause in the new contract—with two provisions. The clause was not to become effective until May 1, 1954. And it was not to become effective unless the Attorneys General both of the United States and of the State of Missouri approved its legality. The Teamsters Union does not accept these provisions.

This disagreement concerns only the one-truck owner-operators. It does not involve fleet owners.

At the last minute, another proposal was discussed by the two sides. Nothing came of this one either. It provided for a three-year instead of a two-year contract between the Ready Mix Dealers and their truck drivers.

On wages, this proposal set up the following schedule: 12½ cents an hour more during the first year of the three-year contract, 10 cents an hour on top of that during the second year; 10 cents on top of that during the third year. The total raise for the drivers during the third year over present rates would have been 32½ cents an hour.

Fringe Proposals.

Among the proposed fringes in this proposal was a paid holiday system, as follows: None during the first year of the contract, three during the second year, six during the third year. There was also a hospitalization-insurance fund system, as follows: The companies were to pay $1 a week per driver during the first two years of the contract, and $2 a week per driver during the third year. This proposal also called for an owner-operator clause to prevail during the last two of the three years.

For vacations, this last-minute proposal called for the following: No change from present, one-week paid vacation system during first year of contract; two weeks paid vacation after five years of service during second year of contract; two weeks after four years of service during third year of contract.

What progress there has been toward a settlement of this strike has been made in the two weeks of negotiations in my office at City Hall. But those negotiations have obviously reached a point where they are of no further value. Each side has stated to me that it has gone as far as it intends to go for the time being.

As your mayor, I asked the Teamsters Union and the Ready Mix Dealers Association to bring their negotiations to City Hall. I asked them after one side said it no longer wanted to deal with a federal conciliator, and the other refused arbitration. I asked them because, as I have already said, this is not a private quarrel but a public calamity.

One Strong Impression.

As your Mayor, I have listened to the arguments of both sides. It is not my function here to pass judgment on the merits of the two cases—although I can tell you there are places where I agree with one side, and places where I agree with the other.

But, as I see it, it is the function of your Mayor to give you his conclusions about the general attitudes of the two sides. And all of this would be useless rhetoric if I did not also present a formula by which we can end this futile, costly strike.

As I listened to the leaders of the two sides talking every day in my office, I gained one strong impression. There is no real meeting of minds here. There is not and there has not been serious negotiation in the give-and-take atmosphere that you must have to settle such a dispute. It almost seems as if neither side really wants to end this strike, as if both have private motives for continuing this sorry business.

Here is one small example of what I mean when I say that there has been no serious negotiation:

The Ready Mix companies are part of the construction industry. Other construction workmen, the building trades, have comparatively high wage scales. In part, this is based on recognition of the fact that their employment is seasonal. Contrariwise, because of the nature of their work, they have less of the fringe benefits—holidays with pay, vacations with pay, etc.—than workmen in, for example, manufacturing plants enjoy.

See-Saw Bargaining.

Are the Ready Mix truck drivers to be compared with construction workmen or with other truck drivers? Each side compares the truck drivers' job or wage standards with those that generally prevail in the construction industry when such a comparison is to the advantage of the side doing the comparing. Each side fluently switches and compares the drivers' job standards to those of drivers outside the construction industry when this is to the advantage of the side doing the comparing. Neither sees any contradiction in this type of see-saw bargaining.

Then, there have been numerous times when one side or the other would make what looked like a real concession. But there would usually be something extra attached, some new demand or condition, that would make the concession unacceptable to the other side.

Both the Ready Mix Dealers' Association and the Teamsters Union have maintained a persistent hardness of mind. Both have acted as if they live in a vacuum, as if the society and the community around them has no part in or interest in their struggle. Yet, two men cannot get in a fight on a crowded bus without hurting some of the other passengers. And two groups as important as these cannot get in a fight in a crowded community without hurting their neighbors.

I have told both sides that they have a responsibility not alone to the men they represent but to the community where they live. I have told them it is about time they recognize this larger responsibility. It is about time they accept the fact that they have no moral right to continue a strike that costs not them but their neighbors millions of dollars. Any man in any society has a duty not alone to himself but to the society in which he lives.

It is time for both sides to recognize that the rights of any individual or small group do not supersede the rights of the community at large. The time has come when we should stop talking about rights and start talking about duties. With every right there is a corresponding duty to respect the rights of others.

I do not care how insoluble the points of difference may seem to the Ready Mix Dealers and the Teamsters Union. There is a quick, sane way out. Both sides mention it in their final statements to me.

The union has said it will submit the "economic issues involved"—although not "the basic issues" — to arbitration. The union has said that the arbitrator should appoint a certified public accountant to examine the companies' books to see if they can afford the wage and fringe increases the union asks.

The employers have also offered to submit the dispute to arbitration. They put no limitation on what issues the arbitrator can decide. However, they say there is no reason for anyone to examine their books. They do not claim that they cannot afford to pay what the union is asking. They say, rather, that they would not be exercising good business judgment if they did.

So here is my proposal. I make it after giving this matter my sober consideration and best judgment. I am confident that the people of St. Louis will agree that it offers both sides a way out of their intolerable deadlock—and a way out with honor.

When a deadlock like this one is reached, there are several things that can happen. The two sides can continue their bitter economic struggle—the attempt to subdue each other by force alone. This is the selfish course, for while they fight their community suffers. Or they can submit to mediation—an attempt by an outsider to bring them voluntarily together. They have tried that, however, and gotten nowhere.

Reason Instead of Anger.

Or they can let some fair-minded, qualified outsider study the arguments of both sides, and render a decision that both agree in advance to accept. They can, in other words, substitute reason for blind anger.

First, I call on both the Teamsters Union and the Ready Mix Material Dealers Association to agree to arbitrate their entire dispute, all the issues that separate them.

Second, I call on both groups to agree that the decision that results from arbitration will be binding, and to agree that the terms of their new contract will be retroactive to the expiration date of their old contract, April 30, 1953.

Third, I call on both groups to agree to end their strike in time for the men to be at work next Monday morning, July 20. And I also call on them to agree that the men will continue to work throughout the period of arbitration.

Fourth, I call on each group to appoint one arbitrator to represent its interests, and to make that appointment by next Monday. This will provide two members of a three-member arbitration panel.

Fifth, I call on both groups to agree on the name of a third, neutral arbitrator by next Thursday, July 23. If they cannot find a mutually-acceptable man by next Thursday, I call on them to let the three judges of the eastern district of the United States Court select the third, neutral arbitrator for them.

Sixth, I call on both groups to agree that arbitration will begin as soon as possible after the third, neutral arbitrator is selected.

Seventh, and finally I call on both groups to agree that the arbitrators are to have full power to determine the facts required to reach a decision. I call on both sides to pledge full co-operation to the arbitrators, and to promise to supply whatever facts they require.

I cannot see how either side can quarrel with this formula for settlement. Arbitration is a recognized, often-used method of resolving labor-management disagreements.

They have their own chance to pick the third arbitrator. If they fail to agree, each side is amply protected by the fact that the choice will be made by the three esteemed federal judges of this district, fair-minded men by profession as well as temperament.

Arbitration is obviously the only way to break this deadlock. There is no alternative except more weeks of a destructive, needless strike. Negotiation and mediation have failed. And the deadlock has become intolerable. It is hurting too many people in our community.

I call upon both sides to give my proposal prompt consideration. I await their answers. And, while the leaders of each group are discussing this, I hope they remember one thing:

The people of St. Louis are looking over their shoulders.

Divorces Actor Bela Lugosi.

LOS ANGELES, July 18 (AP)—Actor Bela Lugosi, portrayer of horror roles in the movies, was pictured as jealous by his third wife when she obtained a divorce yesterday. "He kept me under his thumb 24 hours a day," testified Lillian Arch Lugosi, former actress. They were married 20 years ago.

U.S. DEBT NEARS LEGAL CEILING OF 275 BILLION

Administration Studies Move to Increase Limit but Acts Very Cautiously.

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower, carrying the biggest national debt in peacetime, may ask Congress next week to increase the 275-billion-dollar debt limit.

A six-billion-dollar boost in the debt, resulting from the largest new borrowing since World War II, lifted the debt yesterday to $272,361,259,801.91.

This is just seven billions below the wartime peak of February 1946 and within three billions of the legal ceiling imposed by Congress.

Officials have predicted the Government will have to borrow at least three billions more before Congress, driving for adjournment by Aug. 1, meets again next January. Legislation to lift the debt ceiling would have to be introduced in the next few days in order for Congress to act before adjournment.

Senator Knowland of California, acting Republican leader, said he had received no request for action in this session to increase the debt limit and doubted that any would come.

Chairman Millikin (Rep.), Colo., of the Senate Finance Committee said in a separate interview that an increase in the limit had been discussed at White House conferences. He said no policy decisions had been made on what to do about it.

Senator George (Dem.), Georgia, a Finance Committee member, said that, if the Treasury can get past Jan. 1 without lifting the debt limit, it might be able to go for some time under the 275-billion ceiling.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey issued a statement last night asserting the debt "points up the situation which the spending programs of the past few years have produced." These programs, he said, caused the fiscal deficit of $9,389,000,000 which he announced on July 1.

Cause of the sharp debt increases was an issue of more than $5,900,000,000 in tax anticipation certificates sold by the Treasury this month to provide funds to meet current bills.

Dulles Asserts U.N. Seeks Honorable Peace in Korea

"give-away program," but a means of getting "the most protection at the least cost" against the Soviet-Communist danger.

2. The integration of Europe is a good thing in itself, because it will help prevent wars, and would be essential even if there were no East-West tensions. Ratification of the European Defense Community agreement for a six-nation army is a "necessary step" toward European unity. Failure to ratify EDC "would make the bankruptcy of statesmanship."

3. Peoples under Communist rule must be liberated if peace is to be preserved. "Sooner or later," repression becomes "unbearable," Dulles declared, "and human emotions explode with violence."

4. "The free world is getting stronger, while strain and stress rocks the Soviet and satellite world," the Secretary asserted.

Attempt to Heal Breach.

Dulles and Robertson made what was clearly a determined and carefully thought-out attempt to heal the breach between Rhee and the U. N. which developed when the South Korean President released 27,000 prisoners of war and threatened to defy the truce terms which the U. N. had worked out with the Communists.

The Secretary and his aid sought to accomplish this by explaining Rhee's and the South Korean people's point of view about the truce, by paying tribute to their courage and sacrifices and by insisting that Rhee has now promised not to obstruct a Korean truce.

By dwelling upon these points, Dulles and Robertson presumably hoped to win friends for Rhee in the free world, to convince Rhee that the U.N. understands and respects him and his position and will support him—and to make it more difficult for Rhee to sabotage the armistice by making it seem clear that he is committed not to do so.

Tributes to South Koreans.

The two men's remarks were thickly studded with tributes to Rhee and the South Korean army and people, and with appeals for an understanding of their point of view.

Robertson took with him, when he went to Seoul, messages from President Eisenhower and Dulles to Rhee "assuring him of America's good will and friendship for the people of Korea, of America's admiration for the magnificent and enduring fortitude shown by the South Korean people in defense of their liberties," and of Dulles's "personal sympathetic understanding of Prseident Rhee's concern for the future of his country," Robertson said.

Rhee and the South Korean people feared that the truce was a Communist trick "to win by negotiation what they have failed to achieve on the battlefield," Robertson asserted. They also feared that the U.N. "were weary of the struggle and might sacrifice Korea as Koreans feel they have been sacrificed in the past to great power interests," Robertson added.

"The bitterness here and among some of our U.N. Allies caused by President Rhee's unilateral action in releasing some 27,000 anti-Communist prisoners is duplicated in Korea by a bitterness distilled of their fears," he said. "Whatever the cause of the bitterness on both sides, it needed to be removed."

Robertson succeeded in convincing Rhee that his fears were groundless and that the American and U.N. objective in Korea is the same as that of the Koreans themselves, "namely, a free, independent and united Korea," the assistant secretary asserted.

Differ Over Methods.

The only difference with Rhee is one regarding the methods to be employed, Robertson declared.

Neither Dulles nor Robertson explained last night what this difference is. However, it is known that Rhee has insisted Korea can be unified only by military force, and that the U.N. must go on fighting until this has been accomplished.

The United States and U.N. are convinced, on the other hand, that further attempts to unify Korea by force are almost certainly bound to fail, as previous attempts have failed, and that they also would involve grave risks of leading to a new world war. Efforts to unify the country must be limited to means short of war, and there is a chance that such methods will succeed, in the American and U.N. view.

Robertson spoke with deep feeling of the danger that the U.N. might be drawn into hostilities with Republic of Korea forces, a possibility that arose when it appeared that the U.N. Command might sign a truce with the Communists which Rhee would refuse to observe.

"By no possible circumstance consistent with honor should we permit a situation to develop where we find ourselves fighting against an ally, the brave people of Korea, who are bearing the human brunt of the battle and who have suffered incredibly for their cause and ours," Robertson said.

Distrust of Rhee.

"Many here ask if we can trust President Rhee to carry out his assurances," Dulles noted at one point in his exchange of questions and answers with Robertson. "What is your impression?"

"It is natural that there should be doubts," Robertson replied.

"I might say that there are many in Korea who ask whether the Republic of Korea can trust the United States to carry out its asssurances," he went on.

"I have no doubt on either score. I feel confident of President Rhee's sincerity and of his intention to carry out in good faith his assurances to me."

Dulles complimented Robertson on the assistant secretary's success in bringing the negotiations with Rhee to a successful conclusion.

"You have done a fine job of diplomacy in accordance with our best American tradition," the secretary said.

Foreign Ministers' Talks.

Dulles' own part of the program consisted mostly of a commentary and elaboration on the agreements reached by the Big Three foreign ministers at their recent conferences here.

He spoke at particular length and with particular emphasis on the growing resentment and unrest among peoples under Communist rule and what he said was the imperative need to free such peoples.

The situation in Germany is "explosive," Dulles declared, in Austria the people "are reaching a state of exasperation," in the eastern European satellite countries there is "mounting unrest" and "convulsions are occurring" even within the Russian Communist regime itself—a reference to the recent arrest of Soviet secret police chief Lavrenty P. Beria.

Tensions Threaten Peace.

These tensions threaten world peace, Dulles said, and this is one of the principal reasons why the United States and its Allies seek to liberate peoples under Communist rule.

The integrated Europe now taking shape in the coal and steel community, the EDC agreement and the plan for political unity now being worked out will be open to other nations "provided only that they are free," Dulles declared in what seemed a clear attempt to win friends among the peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

"If for example true liberty were restored to Czechoslovakia, it could become a member of the European community and enjoy the vast economic and security benefits which are available to the community members."

The Secretary's emphasis on the value of NATO to the United States was taken to be, among other things, a plea against further congressional cuts in the Administration's foreign aid program.

Not Give-Away Program.

"America's contribution to NATO are "no more a 'give-away' of United States money than it is a 'giveaway' when you and I pay to provide for a municipal police force or fire department to protect us," Dulles said.

"We pay for collective security, because by joining together we get the most protection at the least cost. The NATO force is also a police force for the Atlantic community.

"The other members, together, contribute to it much more than we do.

"The resultant military force, which Gen. Eisenhower first commanded and which Gen. Gruenther now commands, gives protection which is vital to the United States."

Flashes of Life

Wedding Ring Allergy.

HAMILTON, O. (AP)—"I'm allergic to a wedding ring," a wife seeking a divorce told Judge Fred B. Cramer. "The metal caused my hand to break out." The common pleas court judge ruled that was not sufficient ground for divorce. She succeeded in getting her decree a few minutes later, when she produced witnesses to support charges her husband had neglected her.

Crime Exhibit Futile.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Police Department and the FBI prepared an exhibit of pistols and other criminal paraphernalia for a theater here. A pistol was missing when the exhibit was taken down.

Story's Point Delayed.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—T. Ed Pickard caught a catfish at Coca Beach, Fla., on a vacation three years ago. At his young daughter's urging, he kicked the fish back toward the water. His foot was swollen for three days.

This year, ready for vacation again, Pickard wondered about a troublesome callus under his big toe. An X-ray led to a four-day trip to the hospital to have a saw-toothed fin removed.

YOUTH KILLED, 3 HURT IN CRASH NEAR ALTON

St. Louisan and Companions Returning From Visit in Grafton.

A 17-year-old St. Louis youth, Edward M. Upton, 2748 Russell boulevard, was killed and three other boys were injured when the automobile in which they were riding went out of control early today on Illinois State Highway 100 about five miles northwest of Alton.

E. M. Upton

Upton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Upton, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital, Alton. His father said the youth, an employe of Forum Cafeteria, and the other boys were returning from Grafton, where they had gone to visit friends.

The injured were: Gerald O'Brien, 17, 5219 Terry avenue, St. Louis, who suffered lacerations of the right forearm; Luther McMillan, 16, 1604 Ridgedale avenue, Granite City, lacerations of forehead and abrasions of knee, and Richard Sterensen, 17, 506 State street, Madison, lacerations of scalp.

Sterensen, driver of the car, told state police he was going at "considerable" speed because of the late hour and lost control of the machine, which turned over several times. A fifth occupant was reported uninjured. All were cafeteria employes, police said.

yards for operation at that time. We extend to you our most sincere appreciation to your effort in trying to resolve this dispute."

The union opened the way for renewal of negotiations with the following proposals:

"To meet the critical emergency needs of the community the union proposes that the Mayor, or the employers' association, designate two firms to begin operations. The union will supply the necessary manpower.

Union's Proposal.

"That the material companies are to agree to the union's proposal on arbitration with the neressary safeguards. Failing in this, that we immediately go into round-the-clock negotiations until a settlement has been effected."

In his demand for arbitration, the Mayor outlined the following points of procedure:

Both sides agree to arbitrate the entire dispute and all of its issues.

Arbitration decision to be binding upon both parties, with the terms of the decision to be retroactive to April 31, 1953, expiration date of the employers' contract with the union.

Both groups agree to end the strike forthwith so that the drivers may report for work Monday morning.

Drivers agree to work without interruption while arbitration is in process.

Each side to name an arbitrator to represent it on a three-man board by Monday.

Third Arbitrator.

Union and employers to agree upon a third and impartial arbitrator by next Thursday. If they are unable to agree, the third panel member will be selected by the three United States District judges in St. Louis.

Both sides agree to begin the arbitration proceeding as soon as the panel is completed.

Both sides agree that the arbitration panel will have full power to determine all facts in order to reach a decision.

Both sides pledge full cooperation with the arbitration panel and supply whatever facts are required.

'So Far Apart.'

In a television appearance over Post-Dispatch Station KSD-TV last night, Mayor Tucker described the disputants as "so far apart that I don't think they will ever get together on their own."

"They are set to pursue this bitter, costly strike until one side or the other is beaten to the ground. By that time a lot of men and women in St. Louis will have been beaten to the ground too."

Estimating the loss in wages to construction workmen in the St. Louis area at between $13,000,000 and $23,000,000, Mayor Tucker added that "economists have informed me that our area may have lost $100,000,000 in business because of the strike."

"That is business lost for all of us," the Mayor added.

'Honor and Dignity.'

"Today I offered both sides a way to stop this nonsense, a way they can follow with honor and dignity," Mayor Tucker continued. "I told them I wanted them to submit their entire dispute to arbitration, to let an umpire render a fair, impartial decision. I am not asking any employe to give up an legitimate right. I am not asking any employer to give up his legitimate rights. I am only asking that they submit their dispute to an umpire, and to abide by the umpire's decision."

The union's wage position, it was announced yesterday, has been revised from the original demand of 25 cents an hour above the $1.95 paid previously to 17½ cents now and 7½ cents additional in the second year of a proposed two-year agreement.

At the same time, union officers said, employers changed their wage offer from 7½ cents to 20 cents in two installments, 10 cents now and 10 cents the second year.

Joseph McCann, international union representative, explained the union's proposal on wages depended largely on "fringe benefits." In the absence of these benefits the wage increase would have to be greater than now proposed, McCann added.

It's Old School Tie at The Henley Regatta

By Art Buchwald

HENLEY ON THAMES.

WE were invited to attend the Henley Royal Regatta recently, and since we knew it would bring back many happy mamories of our sculling days on Central Park lake we were happy to go. One just doesn't go to Henley—one prepares for it. As Jack Clyne, our amiable host, pointed out, "The Henley crowd is the only good crowd left in England," and there are certain formalities expected of the spectators, just as there are certain things expected of the crews. A spectator in order to fit in must wear white flannels, a blazer, his school tie, and school cap and any medals he may have won while racing for his college or club.

ART BUCHWALD

And so for a week previous to the event our wife was busy at work sewing brass buttons on our only navy blue suit and embroidering the Central Park crest (two crossed oars with the words "Twenty-Five Cents An Hour" in the center) over the left hand pocket as well as on the cap.

* * *

WE DIDN'T HAVE a school tie but as luck would have it we found a green and red stripe at Sulka's which were exactly the colors of Public School 35 in Hollis, N.Y. We bought the white flannels at an antique shop and also bought several medals at the Flea Market. Most of them had to do with the Crimean war, but Jack assured us no one would scrutinize us that closely.

There are several places where you can watch the Henley Regatta. There are the Stewards Stands, the boating tents, the yachts or the famous boating clubs. We were invited to Phyllis Court Club which is so exclusive that even the squirrels have to wear badges. The Phyllis Court Club overlooks Father Thames just at the finish line of the regatta and from its long sweeping lawns, and under its superb trees one has a chance to forget about the other classes for a little while, and relax in a style to which one is accustomed.

* * *

THERE ARE TWO FAMOUS rowing fectivals in England. One is the Boat Race which concerns the contest between Oxford and Cambridge and the other is the Henley Royal Regatta which welcomes but does not always accept competitors from all over the world. Henley possesses what is probably the finest stretch of water in the country. The first regatta was organized in 1839 and has been held annually ever since. The teams compete for silver cups. The two most important are the Grand Challenge Cup, considered the Blue Riband of eight oared racing, and the Thames Challenge Cup, which has crossed the Atlantic in 11 out of the last 12 meetings. There are also cups for four oared crews, two oared crews and the Diamond Challenge Sculls—the unofficial amateur championship of the world, for solo scullers.

The course is a straight mile and a quarter and it is piled and boomed, whatever that means.

* * *

SATURDAY WAS the final day and there were many titanic struggles in the offing. The weather was warm and sultry and the water smooth and lazy. In the first race the Princeton eight, America's only hope for the Thames Challenge Cup, was defeated by a stalwart crew from the R.A.F. All of us who saw it could not help shouting as the boats crossed the finish line "Well rowed R.A.F."

In the Grand Challenge Cup, Britain's most famous rowing club, defeated the Union Sportive Metropolitaine des Transports from France in a thirlling race that brought out the best traditions of rowing. Even though the British team won, those of us who could speak French could not refrain from yelling "Well rowed Union Sportive Metropolitaiine des Transports from France."

In the Ladies Challenge Cup Radley College and Jesus College fought it out and it was a brilliant hard fought race. Jesus College finally defeated Radley and many of us shouted, "Well rowed! Well rowed!"

* * *

AFTER THE RACES and awards were distributed we went punting down the Thames and then retired to our pub for a pint. It didn't take us long to discover that two pints equals one quart and four quarts equals a gallon.

Late in the evening we all came back to the river to watch a fireworks display. Many people who dressed in evening clothes for the Royal Regatta ball went out punting to see the fireworks and it was a very stirring sight and a very stirring finish to a very stirring day.

We don't wish to use these columns for commercial purposes, but if anyone is in the market for a pair of white flannels or a set of brass buttons or a rowing cap with a Central Park crest on it please let us know. We'll even throw in an old school tie from Public School 35 if the price is right.

As for the Crimean medals, we think we'll keep them. They can always come in handy for a July 4 cocktail party.

MIDGET SUBMARINE LAUNCHED

One of the smallest of its kind, the 131-foot submarine SST-1 slides down the ways at the Electric Boat division of General Dynamics Corp., Groton, Conn., following christening ceremonies yesterday. The midget craft, first of its type to be launched since 1951, will have a crew of two officers and 12 enlisted men. It was sponsored in launching ceremonies by Mrs. Charles Roy Muir of Fall River, Mass., whose husband was lost aboard the submarine Amberjack in the Pacific in World War II.

B-50 Crashes After Collision

Burned out wreckage of a B-50 is strewn over the desert near Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., following high-altitude crash with another B-50 yesterday. Eight men were killed in the crash, one of them suffering fatal injuries as he parachuted from the stricken craft. Four other crew members parachuted to safety. The second plane, although damaged in the collision at 27,000 feet, was brought in to a safe landing at Davis-Montham Air Force Base at Tucson.

POUNDING ADVANCING REDS

United Nations 105mm. artillery pieces, hastily set up in the open after a forced withdrawal, pound Chinese Communist forces somewhere on the east-central Korean front. Volume of fire, which helped stop the Red drive, is evident in litter of empty shell casings. Driven back by the massive Red assault early this week, U.N. troops today were moving to regain some of the lost ground as the Communists pushed fresh troops and supplies southward in an attempt to consolidate their gains.

ROOF TOP PERFORMER

Ski instructor Max Otter of Innsbruck, Austria, takes off from the roof of a sportsman's lodge at Mount Buller, Australia. When picture was taken early in July, peak of the Australian winter, snow had almost engulfed the lodge, enabling skiers to glide down the mountain on to and across the roof which served as the takeoff point for jumps.

PROGRESS ON HIGHWAY PROJECT

Paving work on Third Street Inter-regional Highway goes ahead at rapid pace following settlement of strike of truck drivers employed by the contractor, Henry L. Perkinson Construction Co. Big mixer prepares 1.4 cubic yards of cement a minute, with the cement being carried along the horizontal boom to various parts of the roadway. View is to the southeast across intersection of Third and Chestnut streets.

FOOD POISONING VICTIMS

Youngsters stretched out on the grass outside Coney Island Hospital yesterday while awaiting treatment for food poisoning. They were in a group of 75 children from a Brooklyn day school who had been taken to the amusement center for an outing. Another 50 at the school also were stricken. The attacks were not serious and were believed to stem from salad eaten at lunch.

Hot and humid weather, which plagued the St. Louis area about 10 days ago, appeared in prospect again for wide areas in the eastern third of the country today. There should be little change in temperature here.

Partly cloudy skies in St. Louis tonight and tomorrow with temperatures rising tomorrow from the low 70s to near 90 were predicted by the St. Louis Weather Bureau. There is a chance of rain here Monday if a cold front moves toward Missouri, Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said.

Some of yesterday's high temperatures in the east were 98 at Albany, N.Y.; 97 at New York City; 96 at Boston and Portland, Me., and 94 at Buffalo, N.Y., and Burlington, Vt. Maximums over the nation ranged from 58 at Iatoosh Island, Wash., to 108 at Presidio, Tex.

Minimums in Missouri this morning were from 63 at Kirksville to 73 in downtown St. Louis and over the nation they varied from 42 at Leadville, Colo., to 82 at Galveston, Tex.

Traces of rain fell in the St. Louis area yesterday and .26 of an inch was recorded at Dupo, Ill., last night. At Texarkana, Ark., 3.14 inches fell yesterday. Other falls totaled 1.55 at Mobile, Ala., 1.45 at Chattanooga, Tenn., and 1.24 at Minneapolis.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for tonight in southern Florida, the central Gulf area, northern Great Lakes region and higher elevations of the southwest, as shown by the map at left.

The high pressure area shown on the above map are expected to merge and move to western Kentucky tomorrow, Wahlgreen said. A cold front should extend from central North Dakota to southwest Idaho into Nevada.

EDUCATOR IN RED INQUIRY SUSPENDED

Dr. Helen Deane Markham of Harvard U. Refused to Testify at Hearing.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 18 (AP)—Harvard University has suspended — with pay — Dr. Helen Deane Markham because it "can no longer reasonably believe that she is free from Communist domination."

The 35-year-old associate professor of anatomy previously had been criticized but not penalized for refusing to testify before the Senate (Jenner) Internal Security subcommittee.

The Harvard Corporation, the university's governing body, said last night Dr. Markham's case was reopened because later developments "raise a question as to whether (her) conduct now constitutes grave misconduct."

Later developments, the corporation said in its statements, were these:

1. "She has done nothing toward supplementing the record before the committee in accordance with her unsworn statements to us which led us to believe that she is not under Communist domination."

2. "She made statements implying that the Harvard corporation approved her refusal to testify and supported her vehement criticisms of the Jenner committee."

3. "Herbert A. Philbrick (an FBI undercover counterspy) testified under oath before the Jenner committee that both Dr. Markham and her husband (George F. Markham, educational director of the Independent International Fur and Leather Workers' Union) were members of the Communist party in 1947."

The corporation satement said Dr. Markham is suspended "until further order by us" and added they will "give her an opportunity to be heard by us on these new developments."

Dr. Markham told reporters "they (the corporation) have not told me about this yet." She declined further comment.

Loyalty Oath for Church Organizers Sought in Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 18 (UP) — A city board today sought legal clearance for a move to require a non-Communist oath of persons who establish churches or other religious organizations here.

The city municipal Board of Adjustment, in a formal request to the city attorney, asked whether it legally can require such an oath of persons applying for permission to organize such groups.

14 POLIO CASES REPORTED IN CITY, COUNTY THIS WEEK

Fourteen cases of poliomyelitis among St. Louis and St. Louis county residents have been reported by hospitals here since Monday, the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced yesterday.

The total for the year is 55, compared with 34 for the same period last year, the organization said.

However, Dr. Carl F. Vohs, local chairman, emphasized there have been few respirator cases among those reported this year.

Mexicans Release Shrimp Boats.

TAMPICO, Mexico, July 18 (AP)—Mexican authorities today released five United States shrimp fishing boats seized yesterday by a Mexican gunboat. The American vessels anchored 4 miles from the coast to rest and were not fishing in territorial waters, their skippers told authorities.

Milton Eisenhower in Argentina.

BUENOS AIRES, July 18 (AP)—Milton Eisenhower, now on a fact-finding tour of this continent for his brother, the United States President, arrived here today from Montevideo for a two-day stay.

MISSOURI U. MAY TELECAST IN SEPTEMBER OR OCTOBER

The University of Missouri television station being built near Columbia may go on the air late in September or early in October.

That was the estimate made by a spokesman after a meeting of the university's board of curators at Jefferson Hotel yesterday. The board approved the low bid of $175,000 of the Epple Construction Co., of Columbia, for construction of a one-story building to house the station.

Contracts for a 700-foot tower and various equipment were let previously. Excavation and the building foundation have been completed. The site is five and one-half miles south of Columbia, on U.S. Highway 63.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG U S PAT OFF

Dear Martha:

MY boy friend and I decided to go steady. He even asked me to marry him, but I am only 16. The other night my girl friend and I saw him in a friend's car with the girl he used to go with. We didn't say anything to each other. I felt like making a scene, but knew I would only make a fool of myself. If I say or write to him, what should I say? I don't think he intended to go steady. I wouldn't care, but he was putting his arm around her, and didn't even act as though I was there. DORIS.

Martha Carr

This only shows how foolish a teen-ager sometimes is to agree to marry a boy she knows casually and whom she can't trust. In fact, putting all ideas of marriage aside, he seems to have an odd idea of going steady. You'll make a mistake to tie yourself down to anyone who forgets as easily as he can.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

I HAVE A FEW QUESTIONS that I would like to know the answers to and am quite sure are puzzling others also. First—when you are out on a date with a fellow, and he offers you a cigarette or offers to buy you liquor and you do not drink or smoke, should you simply say, "No, thank you, I don't drink (smoke)," or just keep refusing with the thought in mind that he will take the hint and quit offering them to you? Secondly, if you attend church service with your boy friend, does he put the offering in the collection plate for both of us, or does the girl put in for herself? JOANIE.

Tell him the first time. He'll appreciate your frankness, and you'll save him the bother of offering you cigarettes and drinks time after time. You should put your own offering in the collection plate at a church service.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO Bashful Red: If you and this boy date each other quite a bit and if you really like him, I see no reason not to exchange photographs. But don't ask one of his boy friends to get it for you.

Do you need game suggestions for an informal summer party for the crowd? Martha Carr has free leaflets of "General Party Games" and "Pen and Pencil Games." Inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Why Did You Do It?

By Angelo Patri

EVERY time we punish a child we give him an experience in which we are permanently woven. He will never think of that punishment without thinking of us and what we said and did. We cannot, therefore, afford to make mistakes.

Trudo was making a noise with his toys. He pulled them out, threw them and he shouted. His father called out, "Trudo, stop that noise and keep it stopped."

"Keep still yourself," Trudo answered back.

The outraged father gave Trudo a vigorous slap. And that was the beginning of a long battle. From then on father and son were at odds.

★ ★ ★

BY AND BY Trudo reached adolescence. He fell in love with a girl of whom his father did not approve. One evening, when Trudo was preparing to go to a dance, his father objected and said harsh things about the girl. The boy lost his temper and struck his father. The boy had learned from his father that loud words, quick blows, hot anger were necessary in emphasizing his decision.

Trudo's father had never examined his idea of punishment. Did he merely do something to the child because the child was disturbing him? That was no reason. Was he trying to mete out justice? If he was he should have stopped before he spoke. Was he trying to make the child afraid? He couldn't teach a child that way. He did not know that punishment is not a matter of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. Unless punishment teaches, unless it is a force for good, it is wrong and will fail. It is a force for good only if it teaches what is right. What is it you would have your child be? Honest? Well and good. Does punishment help him to see moral values so that he has the courage to tell the truth, to be honest, or does it make him afraid? Remember, you can't trust fear. Punishment should be corrective, constructive. It should have a lasting effect for goodness, or it is worthless.

★ ★ ★

LET'S THINK A BIT. When you slap a child—why did you do it? Isn't it to hurt him? Didn't you want him to feel the power of your wrath? If not, why do you knit your brows and clench your teeth? If you shake and slap him, why do you do it? To keep him safe? Does violence make him safe? Children make mistakes, of course. The idea is to help them interpret their mistakes and learn by them. If punishment can't do that it's harmful.

The most successful teacher is experience. But it can't be always trusted to do its job without danger to the child. So we supplement the child's experience. We set the pattern he is to follow, we lead him to see the error of his ways and to wish to do better.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A YOUNG wife sends me the following plaint: "Whenever my husband's mother writes to us, she addresses the envelope to Mr. and Mrs. and then begins her letter 'Dear John.' My husband is a very poor letter writer and I am the one who always writes to her and it does irritate me to be excluded in the salutation. Will you please tell me if I am justified in feeling hurt?"

I agree that it would be a thoughtful gesture on your mother-in-law's part to include your name in her salutation, but I really do not think you have reason for feeling hurt or being offended. That she is addressing the envelope to "Mr. and Mrs." shows plainly that she means her letter is written to both of you.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: My maiden name was Mary Jane Smith. After I married I signed my name as Mary Smith Brown. My husband died several years ago and I expect to marry again soon. I would like to know which is the proper initial to use after my marriage. Should it be S for Smith (my maiden name) or B for Brown (my first husband's name).

Answer: S for Smith.

Designing Woman

New Home Furnishing Ideas

By Elizabeth Hillyer

NEW ideas, both in fashion and practicality blaze a trail for home furnishings in 1953. Seven home furnishings and ways they are presented are winners of Trail Blazer awards, conferred by Home Fashions League, national organization of women in the home furnishing industry.

One award went to a group of home furnishings, towels, sheets, blankets, bedspreads and draperies by Cannon Mills which were designed to make it easy to relate those many items and to color scheme the bedroom and bath. A variety of designs fit into four color groups from which endless combinations can be chosen, and at several price levels.

* * *

TWO AWARDS were given to fabrics, one to the new Celanese product Celaperm, an acetate which seals in color.

The process of manufacture is new—the fiber take the color before it is spun into yarn. Too many kinds of fabrics to picture are made with Celaperm, casements, drapery, upholstery and bedspread fabrics, even rugs.

The other fabric winner is Weatherfoil, the chintz sketched at upper right, by F. Schumacher & Co.

It is the first aluminum coated fabric in the drapery field. The aluminum on the back gives protection from cold, and because it reflects the sun, it also helps to keep a room cool in summer.

This company also won a second award for a portfolio of fabrics printed so accurately that pictured samples are almost impossible to distinguish from real swatches.

* * *

SARANETTE, made by C. H. Masland & Sons, is the floor covering award winner.

It won by pioneering all-saran broadloom carpeting, the advantages of which are already well-known. Dust whisks off the carpeting, most stains wash off and others can be removed entirely with carbon tetrachloride. Colors are fast and moths and mildrew cannot harm it.

* * *

A DO-IT-YOURSELF wallpaper is a winner—Flower Stand by James Kemble Mills, Inc. The paper, printed in outline, lets you paint on your own colors to fit your own color scheme, a definitely new idea.

Tweed-Tex and Capistrano by Red Wing Potteries win in the dinnerware class as a first textured surface on earthenware. The textures are linen-like on flat pieces and bamboo-like on holloware, decorated pieces and plain color are combined.

My Day

Depressing Tour Through Odd Museum

By Eleanor Roosevelt

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia.

AFTER lunch on Thursday at Sarajevo we visited a rather gruesome museum which commemorates the secret society of the young man who shot Archduke Ferdinand of Austria and thus brought on World War I. He and his comrades are national heroes because it was a blow for freedom but as a museum it is a rather depressing spot.

Zemaljski Regional Museum was our next stop and I much enjoyed seeing the national costumes and different family scenes in costume which were arranged in rooms that had been donated as a whole.

* * *

WE VISITED an old mosque with some lovely old mosaics and dined with the mayor at a small spa about 15 minutes outside of the city, a delightful spot at the source of the Bosna river.

Friday morning I started early to drice two hours to what will in another year and a half be a little Pittsburgh of Yugoslavia. There is a good coal mine and iron ore nearby.

They are already in production and producing three times as much as before the war. When they are through with construction they hope to produce eight times as much.

* * *

THE MANAGER pointed out one plant and said, "We bought that before the war from Krupp in Germany then the Germans came and took the whole building back to Germany and erected it there. Now it has come back to us as reparations and we have erected it for the third time."

Slowly the way these plants are going to function is clearing up for me. When I was told in Belgrade that they would be run by workers' councils I didn't see how that would be possible, but I find that experts are employed to run the plant and they report to the workers' council, which makes a little more sense.

Original Hollywood Pattern

No. 214

YOU can now have one of the most wearable fashions of the year—and what's more, you can make it in just a single day. It's so easy to cut, so easy to sew because it has just a few pattern pieces. The most important factor is, of course, the soft touch made possible by the flare-skirted, basque design; the "tulip look" afforded by the all-in-one cut collar, puffed sleeve. The neckline is yours . . . either scooped out or wing-collared.

Fabric Suggestions: Pique, matelasse, the "sculptured" cottons and, of course, the crisp fabrics such as taffeta, shantung, linen and cottons-with-the-wool-look.

Star Pattern No. 214 comes in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 36, 38 and 40.

Material Requirements: Size 16: Dress with wing-collar takes four yards of 39-inch or 2¾ yards of 54-inch. Dress with scoop-neck requires 3⅞ yards of 35-inch fabric.

For Star Pattern No. 214, shown above, send 50 cents in coin to Star Pattern Department, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Box 350, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N.Y.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THERE is no bidding situation in bridge that causes more dissension among experts than the one involved in the following hand.

South, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

♠5
♥Q72
♦AK8642
♣643

WEST
♠K94
♥K3
♦J95
♣J8752

EAST
♠QJ108
♥9865
♦Q10
♣K109

SOUTH
♠A7632
♥AJ104
♦73
♣AQ

This is the bidding that would be heard at a large proportion of tables where North belonged to a certain school.

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♠ | Pass | 2♦ | Pass |
| 2♥ | Pass | 3♦ | Pass |
| 3N.T. | Pass | Pass | Pass |

South would not make the three-no-trump contract against expert defense—but that would not impress the North players. Neither would the fact that on perfectly normal defense South could win 11 tricks at hearts! These Norths have an almost fanatical hatred of raising what may be a four-card suit with only three supporting trumps—hence they would regard a suggestion that they might have raised hearts in this case as a heretical utterance.

Yes, to players not fettered by fanaticism, the heart raise holds a great deal of logic. It is entirely possible, they know, the South has the Q-x of diamonds and can run the suit, but it is at least equally probably that he lacks such support. In that latter event the no-trump prospects are automatically decimated, and the heart prospects are enhanced proportionately. The crucial point is this: North's singleton spade indicates that the North hand alone will produce two tricks more at hearts than at no-trump (because, of course, at hearts North can ruff spades). This is the only thing of which North can be virtually certain—and it would seem that a two-trick differential points to the virtue of a heart raise.

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.

St. Louis Health Commissioner

PUBLIC health authorities everywhere are in agreement that there is a definite correlation between housing and health.

In St. Louis we are confronted with the very serious problem of approximately 136,000 families living in housing that fails to meet minimum housing health standards. It is in these areas of substandard housing that we find our highest rates of infant deaths, tuberculosis, venereal and other communicable diseases, and fatal home accidents, among other causes of illness and death.

* * *

THE HOUSING PROBLEM in St. Louis is a very real one, but it is not hopeless—the regressive trend can be reversed—but it will take the combined efforts of Government, private enterprise and the individual citizen.

In St. Louis approximately 52 per cent of our more than 263,000 dwelling units are substandard. More than a quarter of the buildings are considered to be slums that have deteriorated to a point where rehabilitation is financially unsound, with demolition and reconstruction the only practical answer.

By building on practically every square yard, by indiscriminately mixing commercial establishments with dwelling units, by virtually ignoring traffic and its problems, St. Louis for the past 100 years has been busily engaged in producing a large, unsightly and unhealthy, money consuming slum area.

* * *

THESE BUILDINGS, receiving little or no maintenance in their old age and containing, in many instances, five to 10 times the number of occupants for which they were originally designed, have few facilities for adequate heating, lighting, storage, or everyday sanitation.

These slums and blighted areas also lack those factors that normally foster a high level of community spirit; namely, adequate schools, churches, recreational facilities and conveniently located stores. The outside toilet abounds, furnishing an ideal source for a number of insect transmitted diseases, and presenting a constant danger of contamination of our water supply.

Considering the enormous price of maintaining city slums (45 per cent of the cost of city services), every effort must be made to prevent the spread of this cancer eating at the heart of our city.

Your Food Problems

Jellied Salads

By Edith M. Barber

MEN SEEM TO GO FOR JELLIED VEGETABLE SALADS EVEN MORE THAN WOMEN DO. SUCH SALADS ARE POPULAR AT PARTIES AS WELL AS FOR A SIMPLE SUPPER FOR THE FAMILY.

APPARENTLY it's the men who go for jellied vegetable salads, even more than women do. Perhaps it's because these molded salads have more body than the usual salad mixture.

In any case, I have been noticing that when men are at a party, they are the ones who go back for second helpings.

* * *

WHILE a well-seasoned tomato aspic is always popular, there are a number of novel ideas for molded salads we like to use for a change. One of these, known as "Barbecue Salad," has a spicy luncheon meat as one of its ingredients. It can serve as a main dish if supplemented with deviled eggs, for instance.

With a salad of this type, a thick dressing such as mayonnaise combined with horse-radish, mustard, curry powder or chili sauce, or a combination of these, goes particularly well.

The mustard may be in the form of seeds, or it may be the usual prepared or dry seasoning. With the more delicate type of jellied salads a sour cream dressing may be used.

* * *

ONE of the most popular jellied salads that I serve is a combination of cucumbers and diced canned pineapple with minced, sweet onion. A very tiny bit of green coloring will give the jelly an attractive appearance. Then it looks cool and is cool.

HEARTY BARBECUE SALAD

One package lemon-flavored gelatin, one cup hot water, one can tomato sauce, one and one-half tablespoons herb vinegar, one-half teaspon salt, one cup cubed spiced luncheon meat, one cup finely diced celery, three tablespoons minced green pepper.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add tomato sauce, vinegar, and salt. Blend. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in luncheon meat, celery and green pepper. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with crisp salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise seasoned with horse-radish or mustard. Yield: Four to six servings.

JELLIED PINEAPPLE AND CUCUMBER SALAD

One envelope unflavored gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, one cup boiling water, one or two drops green coloring, one-half cup pineapple juice, two tablespoons tarragon vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup pineapple chunks, one cup diced cucumber, two tablespoons minced onion.

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve with boiling water. Add one or two drops green coloring. Add pineapple juice, vinegar and salt. Chill until mixture begins to set. Fold in pineapple, cucumber and onion. Pour into mold and chill until set. Turn out and garnish with crisp lettuce or watercress. Serve with sour cream dressing, or a combination of mayonnaise and sour cream. Yield: six servings.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam

1. DO MEN OR WOMEN AGE MORE RAPIDLY IN PHYSICAL AND MENTAL ALERTNESS? YOUR OPINION
2. ARE MARRIED OR SINGLE TEACHERS MORE LIKELY TO BE NEUROTIC? YOUR OPINION
3. DO MANY CHILDREN BELIEVE THAT WISHES COME TRUE? YOUR OPINION
7-18

Answer to Question 1.

DR. AND MRS. WALTER MILES, Yale University psychologists, gave both physical and mental tests to men and women up to the age of 95. The results were about equal. Some little evidence indicated that exercise postpones age, as they found the forefinger tended to preserve its vigor more than the other fingers that exercise less. Whether women age more in appearance is a matter of opinion.

Answer to Question 2.

Two University of Georgia psychologists gave tests of neurotic tendency to 59 married and 84 single teachers. On the average the neurotic tendency increased among the single teachers up to about 35 and then declined. With married teachers, the neurotic tendency declined right along. These psychologists do not claim marriage or singleness caused the results, but suspect they were partly responsible.

Answer to Question 3.

Nearly half do. Psychologists asked 900 children — kindergarten through eighth grade—to state their three strongest wishes. Most wished first for "material objects." Next, boys wished for wealth, travel and skill in work; girls, for travel, wealth and skill in art. Quite a few wished for mother's health or for father to have a job. Few wished for school success. Four out of 10 believed their wishes came true.

STEER TOP OF $28.25 ON RISE OF $5 IN WEEK

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE, July 18—Only a minor lot of hogs arrived today and these were carried into Monday. No cattle, calves or sheep.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, July 18 (U.S.D.A. weekly review of livestock market.)

Compared with preceding Friday, slaughter steers and heifers grading average, good to prime sold $2 to $4, instances $5, higher in week ended Friday with none offered late. Other grades in dull Friday trading, lost a good share of an early $1 to $3 upturn. Cows more than lost an early advance to finish mostly 50c lower and bulls closed $1 higher, vealers steady to $1 higher. Prime steers made a new high since January at $28.25, with mixed yearlings reaching $27.25 and straight heifers, $26.50. Several loads high choice and prime steers sold at $26 to $27.50 with most choice steers and heifers at $22 to $25.50. Good to low choice steers and heifers cleared $20 to $24. Cows topped at $16, bulk of beef cows $11.50 to $15. Utility and commercial bulls cashed $13.25 to $16.50. Prime vealers topped at $25, most good and choice $18 to $23.

Compared with last Friday, barrows and gilts were 25@50c higher, sows no change, boars 50c higher; market at one stage 75c to $1 higher for all kinds; numerous sales, $27.65@27.75 at best time, which highest since September 1948. Late top $27.25. Hogs predominantly choice 190-240 lbs., bulk of which $27@27.50 for week. Bulk 250-270 lbs., $26@27.10. Heavier weights very scarce. A few 280-300 lbs., $25@26; some 313 and 315 lbs., $23.50; bulk choice 180-190 lbs. for week, $26.75@27.25; most 150-170 lbs., $24.25@27; 120-140 lbs., $21.25@24; sows 400 lbs. down, $21.25@23.50; over 400 lbs., $18.75@21.25; most boars, $12@16.

Most spring lambs sold 50c to $1 higher for week but extremely bearish close erased all advance and much more. Choice and prime springers closed steady to $1 lower; all others $1@3 off. Bulk choice and prime for week $25.50@27, with several hundred mostly prime $27.25@27.50. Late top, $26.50 with little above $25 except to shippers. Liberal part of week's run comprised good and choice at $21@25 but these mostly $18@24 on close. Cull and utility throwouts which mostly $15@16 for week, largely $12 at close.

300 REDS SEIZED ON ISLAND, CHIANG RAIDERS REPORT

TAIPEH, Formosa, July 18 (AP)—Chinese Nationalist commandos took at least 300 prisoners in their daring 36-hour raid on Communist-held Tungshan island, only a half-mile from the Chinese mainland, it was reported today.

The commandos returned to their base at Quemoy late yesterday after wrecking military installations throughout the island in their biggest strike at Communist territory since abandoning the mainland in 1949, it was announced.

Press reports here said the raid was led by Gen. Hu Lien, commander of Nationalist forces on Quemoy.

Dispatches from Quemoy said the raiders quickly sealed off Tunsgshan after landing at four points.

HOUSE OK'S INDEPENDENT AID, INFORMATION AGENCIES

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The House has voiced overwhelming approval of President Eisenhower's plan to set up agencies outside the State Department for foreign aid and overseas information activities.

A motion to disapprove the plan was rejected yesterday by a 310-11 roll call vote.

The new agencies, which would operate independently but look to the State Department for guidance, will come into being Aug. 1 unless the Senate disapproves. There was no indication that the Senate would disapprove.

Jane Powell Seeks Divorce.

SANTA MONICA, Calif., July 18 (AP)—Movie Actress Jane Powell sued Gerhardt Anthony (Geary) Steffen Jr. for divorce yesterday, alleging grievous mental suffering. She asked for custody of their two children. The couple married in 1949. Steffen is an insurance executive.

SLAUGHTER CATTLE PRICES UP SHARPLY DURING WEEK

CHICAGO, July 18 (INS)—Slaughter cattle prices skyrocketed during the week at midwest markets, leading the advance in all classes of livestock. Wholesale dressed meat prices also advanced sharply at Chicago.

Net gains of $2 to $4 and more on slaughter steers and heifers were common at most markets. Prices for the first half of the week were erratic and advanced more than $6, the largest such gain on record for any three day period except the one following the end of OPA price controls in Oct. 1946.

Some of the early gains were erased on Thursday when shipments were the biggest for a Thursday in many years. The supply at Chicago on Thursday amounted to more than 13,000 head and was the largest Thursday supply since Oct. 17, 1946.

Cows gained 50 cents to $1.50 for the week.

The top on prime fed steers reached $30.50 at Chicago and was the highest since Feb. 23. Numerous other prime fed steers and yearlings sold from $27 to $28.50 at various markets during the week. Chicago had choice and prime from $23.50 to $30 with sales made from $24 to $28.

Prime heifers sold from $28 to $29 at the peak at Chicago, the latter price highest since Jan. 12, 1953. The late top was only $26.75.

Wholesale dressed beef meat prices were 1 to 8¼ cents higher per pound and some cuts such as loins and ribs were 10 to 15 cents higher. Steer and heifer beef sold 6 to 8¼ cents up.

Hogs closed steady to 50 cents higher for the week on light receipts and higher wholesale pork prices. Pork loins gained 4 to 9 cents and other pork cuts 2 to 4 cents a pound at Chicago.

Top prices for the week included the $27.75 top at Chicago which was the highest since Sept. 1948. Most market tops were also at the Sept. 1948 level.

The late weeks decline left closing peaks from $27 to $27.50 at major cornbelt markets. Sows sold from $18 to $24.50 around the market circuit.

Slaughter lambs and sheep finished steady to $1 and more higher around the market circuit except for a steady to $3 lower trend at East St. Louis. The late top on spring lambs reached $29 at Chicago. Elsewhere choice to prime offerings sold from mostly $24.50 to $27 during the week.

Wholesale lamb prices were 1 to 3 cents higher per pound at Chicago.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY STOCKYARDS.

Cattle: Choice to prime steers and yearlings sold early in the week as high as $27 and $28, late deals $25 to $26; most good to choice $20 to $22, medium to good kinds $17 to $20. Beef cows sold Friday from $12 to $15; utility to commercial bulls $13 to $16.50; good to prime veals brought from $18 to a top of $25; utility and commercials $12 to $16.

Hogs: Week's closing top $27.25 paid sparingly for bacon type No. 1 and No. 2's; bulk of 190 to 230 lbs. $26.75 to $27.10; 180 to 190 lbs. $26.50 to $27; packing sows bulking $18.75 to $23.50.

Sheep: Choice to prime springers Friday sold $24 to $26 with a few hand-picked up to $26.50; good to choice $18 to $22, utility goods $15 to $18.

Electric Bond Plan Goes Ahead.

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Electric Bond & Share Co. got a go-ahead in federal district court for its final comprehensive plan for compliance with the Public Utility Holding Company Act.

An order issued by Judge F. S. X. McGohey approving the plan clears the way for the company to go forward with its investment program. The plan contemplates that Bond & Share over the next two years will reduce its holdings in United Gas Corp. to under 5 per cent of the outstanding stock of that company and will retain its 100 per cent ownership of Ebasco Services, Inc., engineering consultants, and its investment in American & Foreign Power Co.

3-DAY RALLY FAILS TO WIPE OUT LOSSES

Small Average Stock Loss at Close of Week of Light Volume.

NEW YORK, July 18 (UP)—Stocks lost a few cents on average this week because of moderate selling on Monday and Tuesday.

The market rallied in the last three sessions of the week but failed to bring back the losses. On Monday the list had its most severe decline since June 9 on the most active trading since June 30.

Sales in the first two days when the market was in a decline were above the million-share mark. Then, volume shriveled until it was down to around the lowest levels in four years if the present longer sessions are considered.

Volume for Week.

Sales on Wednesday totaled 840,000 shares and on Thursday they fell to 790,000 shares, lowest since July 21, 1952. In the first half of the Friday session the sales ran at a rate of 770,000 shares for a full day, which would be the lowest since Oct. 3, 1949. Then the list turned a bit more active and finished with sales of 840,000 shares.

Volume for the week amounted to 4,628,120 shares, against 4,571,204 last week. The higher total reflected the two million-share days. New York Central featured in turnover for the week.

In the period from June 16, when the general average hit new lows since Oct. 22, 1952, to July 8, the market had risen 9.31 points in the industrial average, 7.47 points in rails, and 1.56 points in utilities.

Four-Day Decline.

In the decline in the four days—Thursday and Friday of last week and Monday and Tuesday of this week—44 per cent of the rise in industrials was knocked out and 43 per cent of the rails.

The subsequent recovery in the last three days of the week left the industrial average at 270.96 off 0.10; railroad, 106.03, off 0.78; utility, 49.08, off 0.31, and 65 stocks, 106.32, off 0.40.

Brokers were at a loss to account for the market lethargy. It was the big disappointing factor in the period of gain and many held that the market would have to go through more testing before it was ready to resume a vigorous rise which many expected would come before the summer was over.

When Congress passed the excess profits tax in line with market expectations, analysts believed the relief of getting that item out of the way might bring more activity. Instead it accentuated the decline in sales. The one outstanding unknown was seen as Korea where truce talks produced nothing to solve that problem.

News in Market.

Corporation news had many favorable items, all of them past history on first half of 1953 results.

Dividend payments of reporting corporations rose to $4,000,000,000 in the first half of 1953, a rise of four per cent over a year ago and a new high record. Personal income in May ran at an annual rate of $284,000,000,000 up $1,000,000,000 over April and up $17,000,000,000 over May, 1952.

Scullin Steel 60c Dividend.

Scullin Steel declared a dividend of 60 cents a share, payable Sept. 25 to stockholders of record Sept. 11.

Record Iron Ore Movement.

CLEVELAND, July 17 (AP)—Record shipments in June raised to a new all-time high the amount of iron ore moved down the Great Lakes before July 1, the Lake Carriers Association said.

The addition of larger and faster vessels to the ore fleets was the main reason for the heavy movement, said the association.

Iron ore shipments in June were 13,744,594 gross tons, which broke all June records and ranked fourth highest for any month in history.

For the season to July 1, the ore total was 36,058,371 gross tons. Last year, during which a steel strike slowed shipments, the figure was 21,516,104 gross tons, and the year before it was 32,041,699 gross tons.

National Oats Report.

National Oats Co. reported net profits of $102,902 for the six months ended June 30, after federal income tax of $100,019.

THE JUNIPER TREE

By FAITH BALDWIN

CAPTER 14.

DAVE was a long time trying to find the way through the storm, and then gave it up, thinking what a fool he'd been to attempt it, and tried to retrace his steps from there, the long way. But he did not come upon the pond, and floundered helplessly, blundering into trees, ending up where he'd started.

Cas often warned him against getting lost.

"I never go far enough. Who gets lost, so close to home?"

"Lots of folks, every year."

There had been no crust for some days, and he was not on snowshoes. He sank into the new, wet snow and into the old, far over his high boots. The snow dragged at him like cold quicksand; it slapped his face and blinded him. He fumbled for his dark glasses; they would cut down vision yet perhaps be a protection. They weren't. He dropped them and took a while to find them. It grew darker and the wind was insistent and intensely cold.

After a while he no longer tried to guess where he was; he was intent upon keeping in motion, so tired, with his heart laboring, that it was an immense effort. Keep moving, he told himself.

When he reached the right side of the pond and stumbled upon the path he was no longer looking for it, not even concerned with it. He could see nothing except whiteness falling inexorably through darkness; he could feel nothing except the snow upon his face and in his eyes—and the cold. After a while he didn't seem to feel the cold. He thought how much more sensible it would be to sit down, his back against a tree, and wait this out. He was not only tired, he was drowsy.

Why was Tim laughing at him? Oh, of course, Tim was laughing, he kept saying, Race you to the dock, Pop, last one in's a monkey's uncle.

I'll race you, Tim. I'll beat you there, see if I don't.

But first he had to get up. He'd been sitting down, after all. This surprised him. He got up, slipped to his knee, got up again, holding to the wet tree trunk, his hands sliding. Pulled himself up, his back against it.

He walked on. Sometimes he fell and crawled, got up and walked again. He was blind, with snow and fatigue and a pressure back of his eyes. After a while he could walk no farther. I'm running, I'm running as fast as I can. But Tim had beaten him, out there in the blue water, laughing, calling: Hurry . . . it isn't very cold.

He stumbled and fell again, and this time struck his head against a snow-covered tree stump and did not rise again.

* * *

WHEN he woke, someone was speaking. "He's coming around now, Cas."

He didn't know much of what was going on. He heard footsteps, he experienced hands; big and deft, smaller and light. He heard a woman's voice and said: "Em?" hoarsely.

The hand touched him, and the voice said; "It's me, Mr. Barton. Mrs. Rogers."

Someone was crying, a rasping frightened sound. A voice said: "Joe, you think you can manage with the truck: The plow's been through by now. Take Herb with you. Doc will bring me back."

Late the next day he opened his eyes. He hurt all over; as if he'd been under a steam roller. There wasn't a muscle that didn't hurt. His eyes ached, too, and he squinted. He had the vaguest possible memory of the past night, and most of the day's movement; subdued light falling on closed lids; an urgent voice, the click of a spoon against a glass; the obscure, insistent discomfort.

"Hello." His voice was hoarse.

Mrs. Rogers, sitting beside him in an old canvas chair, rose and leaned over him.

"Hello, yourself," she said cheerfully. "How do you feel?"

"Terrible." His hand went up, and she said? "Don't touch your face. You got a little frostbite along your cheekbones and nose. Don't try to talk. Doctor's been here. He'll be back. You're doing fine, Mr. Barton."

At night, when he woke again, the lamp burned and Cas was there, a newspaper in his hands. Dave thought: Never saw him wear glasses before, look sort of funny, sliding down his nose.

"Cas?"

Cas came to stand beside him. "Goin' better, Dave?"

"I'm all right. Who found me?"

"Joe. Doc says spare yourself, don't talk."

He wondered why Cas put a careful hand on his forehead. And Cas thought: He don't seem to have fever but he's sure wanderin' in his mind.

"Was Mrs. Rogers here?"

"Yes. Save your strength. Doc wants to move you soon's he can."

"Where?"

"For X-rays mostly. He was here a while ago. Back tomorrow."

In the morning Dr. Mercer came again. Dave knew him slightly, a big, brusque, competent man, and beneath the brusqueness anxious and vulnerable. He said: "Mr. Barton, I'd like to get you to the hospital. You hit a tree stump when you fell—you've a slight concussion. But I want to make sure. We couldn't move you before, the storm saw to that. Might've got you out in Cas' truck but it was risky."

"What's wrong with me?"

"Exposure, some frostbite, a sprained ankle, exhaustion, and as I said, concussion. Enough, anyway. Will you leave it to me?"

Dave nodded. "Sure."

They wrapped him in what seemed a hundred blankets and took him out on a big sled to the road, where the ambulance waited and from there, with Cas riding with him and the doctor following in his car, to the hospital in town. He had the X-ray, a small, quiet room, and an efficient nurse. The doctor's diagnoses were confirmed, and he remained in the hospital for a few days. Cas came to see him, the boys after school; Hank Dawson and his wife.

* * *

THE day he got back to camp he felt fine. Mrs. Rogers came, with her family, and cooked supper for them all. Dave was ravenous.

By now he knew the details, supplied by them all and pieced together.

The day of the storm the train had been late, and the mail. The boys came back from school, there was mail for Dave, and Joe said, "We'll take it."

"You needn't," their mother said. "When Mr. Barton was here he asked was there mail? When I said it was late, he told me, no matter, he didn't expect anything important."

"Well, gosh," said Joe, "I thought maybe he'd let me have a book."

He hadn't borrowed one for a week or more.

She said, relenting: "All right, but the radio says we're in for a storm. Run along. When your Pa gets back I'll tell him to pick you up. But don't stay long. If you start home in half an hour, maybe you'll meet him on the road or get here ahead of him."

When they reached camp the door was unlocked, the rooms empty and growing cold. Also it was snowing. They waited.

They were there quite a while; their father didn't come. Joe, looking from the window, began to feel uneasy.

"I wish he'd come back," he said.

"Maybe he's out in the car."

"No. It's out in the shed. I saw it."

Herb yawned. "Let's go home. I'm hungry and it's cold."

Joe said: "Look, Herb, you wait here in case Pop comes. I'll just take a look outside."

"Don't stay."

"You scared?"

"Course not. But I'm hungry."

The snow had erased all tracks. Joe scrambled down the bank to the meadow. It was frozen where the brook, which never quite froze, kept it wet. Who'd come here? Mr. Barton must have gone off in the woods somewhere. Maybe went to the loggers' place and was sitting the storm out? He walked along the river bank to the point. He thought: If I go in the woods, Pop will kill me. But he went in just the same. He hadn't far to go. He found Dave, he almost stumbled over him.

He tried to run back to camp, which wasn't easy, but he got there as fast as he could. Herb was only 12 but strong; together they'd manage somehow.

While they were trying, their father came. He'd left the truck on the road and walked in. He went into the empty camp, the door wide open, the fire out. He called, and someone answered faintly.

So Dave returned to camp; and they stripped off his sodden clothes, cut off the boot on the swollen foot, wrapped him in blankets, and then Cas left the boys there and went to telephone Dr. Mercer and fetch Mrs. Rogers back in the truck. The doctor lived in the village. He was there almost as soon as they, leaving his car beside the truck and fighting his way in on foot, as Cas had.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

A REQUEST for facts about "solar energy and our weather" has come to me from Ina Ray Lowe.

That question is hard to answer because it seems so easy! We all know that the sun is the center of our solar system, and that it gives us the heat we need. If the sun lost its energy, we might lose all knowledge of weather in a hurry. We must have heat if the earth is to be warm enough to keep us alive.

* * *

IT MAY BE SUGGESTED that if the sun's heat started to give out, the human race would make homes under the ground. Very likely that would be tried. When deep holes are drilled, it is found that the deeper the hole, the greater the heat. It is possible that people on Mars have "gone underground."

In any case, the sun probably will give enough heat for people to be as warm as they like for hundreds of millions of years to come. With the advance of science, and increase in knowledge of atomic energy, it may be possible to heat the air around the earth if the sun ever does "go out." Atomic energy may give people all the heat and all the light they ever will need or want.

* * *

AS THINGS STAND, the sun is the most welcome neighbor of the earth. Every day, it turns billions of gallons of ocean water into vapor, and every day the vapor from oceans (also from lakes, rivers and so on) comes down as rain in hundreds of sections of the earth. In that sense we can give the sun credit for rainfall.

Less heat reaches the North Temperate Zone in winter than in summer. This is due to the tilt of the earth's axis.

The earth has magnetic lines of force running from the magnetic north pole southward. Such lines also run from the magnetic south pole northward. The sun, too, has magnetic force, and the action of sunshine has something to do with lightning.

Careful study has shown that sunspots tend to change weather on earth. When there are many large sunspots, a big increase takes place in "magnetic storms" on earth.

THAT COURT ORDER SAYS ALL THE CLOTHES IN THIS STORE GOTTA REMAIN HERE—INCLOODIN' MAH FORMER PANTS—
AN'—SOB!—AH CAIN'T LEAVE WIFOUT 'EM!! AH IS TOO WELL BRUNG UP!!
HE'S TRAPPED IN THERE!!—"EVIL-EYE" FLEEGLE'S COISE WOIKED!!
THE LEAST US CITIZENS OF FLOOGLE STREET CAN DO IS SLIP HIM SOME FOOD —OR HE'LL STARVE TO DEATH!!
NO!!—DAT MIGHT ENRAGE "EVIL-EYE"!!—BETTER ONE STRANGER SHOULD PERISH THAN THE COISE SHOULD STRIKE US ALL!!

BLONDIE—By Chick Young

BLONDIE! WHERE'S THE SOAP?
WHOOPS
WHAT DID YOU SAY, DAGWOOD?
NEVER MIND... I FOUND IT

ROOM AND BOARD—By Gene Ahern

IT'S GOING TO BE VERY EMBARRASSING TO TELL THE EARL THAT HIS ANCESTRAL DIAMOND "THE GREAT KAMOOGA" IS ONLY A CHANDELIER CRYSTAL PENDANT! ....HE TOLD ME IT'S VALUED AT $200,000, BUT THERE'S A SUPERSTITION THAT BAD LUCK WILL FOLLOW IF IT'S EVER SOLD!
WELL, THAT SIMPLIFIES EVERYTHING.... DON'T TELL HIM ...PERIOD!
...AND TO THE FIRST 25 PHONING, WE WILL SEND A GADGET TO MAKE YOUR OWN CONFETTI!
HE'S HAD IT 20 YEARS!

NANCY—By Ernie Bushmiller

SLUGGO --- TODAY IS JANIE'S MASK PARTY
AND PLEASE DON'T DISGRACE ME AGAIN BY EATING ALL THE TIME
OH, NANCY---- I CAN EAT ALL I WANT TODAY AND IT'LL BE OKAY
THEY'LL SAY, 'ISN'T HE CUTE, ACTING JUST LIKE A PIG'

BEETLE BAILEY—By Mort Walker

NO, NO--NOT YET! FILL UP THE MEN'S TRAYS FIRST!
EVERYTHING TASTE OKAY?
FINE, THANKS
ARE YOU SURE THOSE PORK CHOPS ARE DONE WELL ENOUGH, BAILEY?
SURE! HOW COME YOU WEREN'T FIRST IN THE CHOW LINE TODAY, SARGE?
NEW COOK!

GORDO—By Gus Arriola

HERE, CORONADO! YOU CAN HAVE THESE OLD STRAW FANS AND JUNK JEWELRY!—
—THE TOURISTS JUST AREN'T BUYING THEM! GOTTA MAKE ROOM FOR NEW ITEMS!
OOH, MARGARET! LOOK AT THESE STUNNING BEJEWELED FANS! AND ONLY TWO DOLLARS APIECE!
JUST THE THING FOR OUR TAKE-HOME PRESENTS OR BRIDGE PRIZES!

THE JACKSON TWINS—By Dick Brooks

I HATE TO LET YOU DOWN, TWINS, BUT I'M BOTH GUYS!...AN ARTIST AND A LOBSTERMAN!!
IT HELPS PAY MY WAY THROUGH ART SCHOOL! THE LOBSTERS SELL BETTER THAN THE PAINTINGS, BUT I STILL HOPE TO BE AN ARTIST!
THEN WHO ARE THESE COLLINS TWINS WE'VE HEARD SO MUCH ABOUT?
YOU'LL MEET 'EM JUST AS SOON AS THE CHANNEL SWIMMER GETS HOME AND CHANGES!

YOU MADE A SERIOUS MISTAKE WHEN YOU LET JUNE LEAVE, REX MORGAN!
I WASN'T HAPPY ABOUT HER LEAVING, MELISSA... BUT SHE GAVE ME NO CHOICE!
WELL, I'M GLAD YOU STOPPED BY, MELISSA! I'LL MAKE MY USUAL HOUSE CALL TO SEE YOU IN A FEW DAYS!
DON'T BOTHER, DR. MORGAN!
SEND ME A BILL FOR SERVICES RENDERED TO DATE! I DECIDED I'M GOING TO CHANGE DOCTORS!

I LOVE LUCY—By Bob Lawrence

LUCY, I OVERHEARD YOU TELLING ETHEL THAT YOU WOULDN'T MAKE ME GET YOU A DISHWASHER, BECAUSE YOU KNEW I COULDN'T AFFORD IT!
IT'S ONLY A SMALL SACRIFICE ON MY PART!
LUCY-- NOTHIN'S TOO GOOD FOR A WIFE WHO DOESN'T DEMAND LUXURIES! WE'RE GETTING THAT DISHWASHER!
OH, RICKY, YOU'RE WONDERFUL! BUT CAN WE AFFORD IT?
I'LL MANAGE, HONEY. BUT WHAT KIND SHALL WE GET?
I COULDN'T MAKE UP MY MIND, DEAR, SO I HAD THESE NICE SALESMEN WAITING HERE TO HELP US!
DILLY DISH-WASHER CO.

TWIN EARTHS—By Oskar Lebeck and A. McWilliams

I DON'T SAY I KNOW JUST HOW ELECTRO MAGNETIC PROPULSION WORKS, BUT I BEGIN TO UNDERSTAND THE PRINCIPLE!
THAT'S ALL I DO!
SCIENCE ON TERRA HAS REACHED A POINT WHERE EVERYTHING IS SO SPECIALIZED, WE...
SEEM TO KNOW MORE AND MORE ABOUT LESS AND LESS...I KNOW, VANA, IT'S GETTING TO BE THAT WAY ON EARTH, TOO!

MAMA, CAN I HAVE A NICKEL TO BUY ICE CREAM FROM THE ICE CREAM MAN?
NO!
WAH!
IF YOU WANT ICE CREAM, THERE'S PLENTY RIGHT HERE IN THE REFRIGERATOR!
I LIKE THE ICE CREAM MAN'S BETTER!
WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?
WHEN YOU GET IT OUT OF THE 'FRIGERATOR IT'S JUS' LIKE EATIN' FOOD!
